Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

It's hard to believe, but this week marks the one year anniversary of the start of quarantine. It was on the afternoon of March 17th that we received word from the bishop that church services were to remain private until further notice. Three days later, during a press conference, the governor announced that the entirety of New York state would go into quarantine starting the next day. I remember, because right after receiving that news I had to walk over to the church for a wedding rehearsal and let the couple know they could not get married the next day, and that we had no idea when they would be able to do so (thankfully, they persevered and were married in the Summer). Even with the speed at which things closed, I was able to purchase video equipment on the 17th which was delivered on the 18th, and by the 19th we had our first video-taped Mass. The next one went up on the 21st, and from that point forward we have posted Mass every day (eventually starting to live-stream it), with only some exceptions caused by technical errors or lack of human resources. I could go on to mention the tremendous work that was done to ensure that the parish staff could be in communication with each other and keep as many services open as possible, but I already outlined that in the bulletin of February 14th. I mention this anniversary for two reasons: first, to invite parishioners, when feeling weary about what has changed due to COVID, to also consider what has endured and what may grow in the future. Second, so that we can keep in prayer the repose of the souls of all of those whose lives have been lost due to this terrible disease. Many of those whom we have buried recently passed due to COVID. We remember them, and pray that their families, friends, and neighbors may find consolation through faith.

As a second note for this bulletin page, I would like to share with you some of the changes that can be expected during Holy Week. Just as we shared about Ash Wednesday, I think it is important for parishioners to have time to hear and anticipate what will look different regarding Holy Week. Most of these changes are dictated by new protocols given to pastors by the bishop’s office, though some are pastoral decisions that I'm making to help us implement those protocols. Going in order of the different Holy Week celebrations, here's what you may see:

- Palm Sunday. Palms will be distributed, but the opening ritual of that Mass will be simplified, taking place at the front of the church instead of in the back. Since we do not have the missalettes in the pews, the Passion will be proclaimed by the priest and two lectors (this will also hold for Good Friday).

- Holy Thursday. The "mandatum" (washing of feet), which is always optional, will not be taking place this year. Our Mass will take place in Nolan Hall, and the procession afterwards will be conducted by the priests moving around the congregation, and then we will repose the Blessed Sacrament at a spot near the altar where adoration can take place until midnight.

- Good Friday. As you may suspect, kissing and touching the cross will not be allowed. Instead, parishioners may come forward, pray & adore the cross silently for a few moments, and then genuflect as a sign of veneration, before returning to their seats.

- Easter Vigil. The ceremony will begin in a slightly modified way without a fire (it will look the same as last year, so do feel free to check out the video from 2020's Easter Vigil to see what that was like). Otherwise, the vigil will be conducted according to the rubrics. We do have one young man who will be initiated (please pray for him; his name is Michael).

All in all, these modifications are quite minor. Let us be thankful that we are still able to celebrate these most holy days. I am also very thankful that it looks like we are at a point where we are stepping into a new phase of parish life. I have already asked the staff to begin helping me vision how that will look, and I invite parishioners to be considering this, too. As we move forward together, we look to do so not only safely, but with great strength, zeal, and joy provided by the Holy Spirit.

Sincerely,

fr. Jason

Jesus, remember me, when you come into your kingdom.
John 3:16 Re: Eternal Life

Jesus was convinced that God loves all people and one at a time. Once again, this is a difficult thought to think. God’s love is so inclusive that it embraces the entire world. But it is so specific that he can care about just one person even you and me.

God’s love is redemptive. It is not a sentimental affection. It is a strong and saving dedication. Jesus said, “God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through Him.” That is God’s purpose – to save the world. But Jesus also states that in specific and individual terms – “Whoever believes in Him avoids condemnation, but whoever does not believe is already condemned.”

The temptation is ever with us to reduce the strong and saving love of God into something soft and flabby. It might help to avoid that mistake, if we would remember that Jesus called God ‘Father’. That was His favorite term for God. There are of course, all kinds of fathers – good, bad, indifferent, and shades in-between. But anyone here who grew up under the care of a wise and loving father can remember that he was not always easy to live with. Sometimes his love would be very demanding. It required of us a certain kind of behavior.

Well, God is the wisest and most loving Father of all. His love can also be strong and demanding. We cannot enjoy His fellowship on any loose and easy terms we might choose. God is not the ‘somebody up there who likes me”. He is my Father, my heavenly Father. He wants the best for me, and expects the best from me. That is what it always means to have a father who truly cares. His love is redemptive.

Let’s go back now and end our thought where we started it, with the beautiful and powerful summary statement of our Christian faith. “God loved the world so much that He gave His only Son, that whoever believes in Him may not die, but may have eternal life”. Amen and Alleluia.

God Loves the World so Much...
So in Christ Jesus you are all children of God through faith, for all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ

Reflections

FINDING OUR WAY

Though we lived in Sea Cliff on the scenic North Shore and had access to a public beach for village residents, my early days going to the beach was a family affair at the Town of Oyster Bay beach located in Bayville, abutting the entrance to Center Island. There was access to the bay and to Long Island Sound, but my overly protective parents chose the bay side most of the time. The ritual was the same: my father (being the only driver in the family) would drop us off so we could unload the car, and my mother, brother, and I would find a spot, bury the beach umbrella, lay out our towels, and anxiously await our father’s arrival from the parking lot. Then, off we went for a swim.

Besides horseshoe crabs, those we found at the beach were mostly other families. We probably went ten times each summer, mostly on weekends, and always had great times. I remember one day in particular. It was a Sunday, about 4 p.m., and there was a young couple wading cautiously in the shallow water. About the same time, Jerry and I were running in for our second dip (exactly a half hour after having our snacks). Immediately the guy came over and asked us not to splash so much. It seemed the girl’s engagement ring came off her finger, and they were frantically trying to find it. As the afternoon went on, others joined the search. While I did not understand the significance at the time, I never forgot the look of heartbreak on the girl’s face.

Lent reminds each of us to look for ways to ensure we find salvation for our immortal souls. Doing so quietly, often with the help of others, allows us to maximize our chances of finding the path which will lead us to heaven.

We went back to that beach the following Sunday, and the same couple was there. Smiling. They and their friends had gone back two more days and found the ring.

Let us be equally vigilant in our search.

Irish and Catholic?

The Ancient Order of the Hibernians is the oldest Irish-Catholic Fraternal Organization in the United States, which was founded in New York City in 1836. AOH St. Patrick’s Division 2 is located in the heart of Babylon Village and is the only AOH Division in the Town of Babylon.

If you’re Roman Catholic and Irish by birth or descent, please consider becoming a member. We have men's, ladies, Jr. Boys & Jr. Girls Divisions. We are a very active and charitable AOH Division celebrating our Irish-Catholic religion, culture and heritage. We also offer Irish Step Dancing classes, Irish Language Classes, Bagpipe & Drum Lessons and more!
