

Conversations Toward the Catholic Faith

This is a directed reading course patterned after college and university settings. You will have a book, This is Our Faith by Michael Pennock. Over a period of four sessions you will peruse and be guided through this book. This is not a 'reading' book but more a guiding text book to understand God's working in you today. Jesus is the ultimate teacher as the Apostles came to know.

This directed reading course fits many persons for many purposes. First and foremost it is Continuing Education about God for all participants. This series serves those considering the Church, or marriage preparation, or renewing their Faith, or trying to better understand their Catholic partner.
