“Have you come to believe because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed.”

THE MYSTERY

On this Second Sunday of Easter, I invite you to reflect with me on the meaning and mystery of the Resurrection. Actually, I have been thinking about that for the past few weeks while working on an Easter banner for the Church.

I thought of the empty tomb and how the new life of Spring is just the right season for Easter. But the main question I asked myself was, “How does the Risen Christ really make a difference for me right now?” That’s a question that is worth thinking about and I hope the banner reminds you to ask it.

Instead of looking into the tomb to find the Risen Christ, let’s imagine that we are with Christ looking out of the tomb, looking at the crosses of our own lives and all the possibilities of the future.

Perhaps poet Mary Oliver (Mysteries, Yes) says it best:

“Truly we live with mysteries too marvelous to be understood. How grass can be nourishing in the mouths of lambs. How rivers and stones are forever in allegiance with gravity while we ourselves dream of rising. How two hands touch and bonds will never be broken. How people come, from delight or the scars of damage to the comfort of a poem.

Let me keep my distance, always, from those who think they have the answers. Let me keep company always with those who say ‘Look!’ and laugh in astonishment and bow their heads.”

May the Mystery of the Resurrection engage and bless you!
