

Lent

March 21 ~ Fifth Sunday of Lent

Jesus presents us with an amazing paradox in today's Gospel. It is only by death that new life comes; only by spending our life that we preserve it; and only by service comes greatness. This gospel way of life goes counter to all that the world preaches. It requires great courage to live by Jesus' word. As a follower of Jesus, take to heart both his teachings and his actions. What else needs to change in your life in order to live in imitation of Jesus? There is still time in the remaining days of Lent to beg Jesus for the courage to make that change. Act now!
