Bishop Brendan’s Message

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

In consultation with the Diocesan Liturgical Commission and the Presbyteral Council we have developed a plan to help us celebrate fully the Jubilee Year of Mercy from December 8, 2015 to November 20, 2016. St. Augustine taught about God’s mercy in his commentary on Psalm 51. Partly because of this commentary I chose the phrase “Create in me a clean heart, Oh God” as my episcopal motto. As we prepare to celebrate this great year of reflection, renewal and commitment I want to share with you a couple of thoughts from St. Augustine’s commentary.

First, who is the “me” of the Psalm? On one hand we can see that it was King David, who acknowledged the gravity of his sins and begged for a new start. In the light of our Christian faith we can also understand this person as the whole Church, formed into one Body by the Holy Spirit. I’d like to invite all of us to pray this prayer as the Church of the Diocese of Victoria - the Body of Christ in this 10-county area who offers our life daily for the salvation of the world. I pray that as we pray for a clean heart, our witness can shine brightly for all the world to see the beauty and truth of God’s love for the world.

Second, the Psalm teaches us that no sin is too great for God to forgive and heal. It seems to me that so many people feel bound by a past sin, or caught up in a seemingly hopeless struggle with a cur-

Diocese Of Victoria Announces
Ribbon Cutting Of Counseling Center

The Emmaus Center: Counseling in the Catholic Tradition

On December 8, 2015, at 2:00 p.m. the Diocese of Victoria will have a ribbon cutting ceremony for the opening of their Catholic-based counseling center, The Emmaus Center: Counseling in the Catholic Tradition. All are invited to attend this event with Bishop Brendan Cahill, Father Gary Janak and the Diocese of Victoria. The Emmaus Center is located in The Laurent Towers office building, 1908 N. Laurent Street, Suite 140, in Victoria, Texas.

The mission of The Emmaus Center is to assist others on their journey of life, especially during times of hurt, psychological distress and relational instability. It is Jesus who is the Divine Healer and the counseling team of The Emmaus Center seeks to extend a listening heart to those in need.

The Year of Mercy also begins on December 8, for Catholics. Bishop Cahill prays The Emmaus Center will be a place whereby those who are hurting, and in need of spiritual and psychological assistance, will find listening hearts ready to offer to them the support and strength they need.

Pope Francis Announces the Jubilee of Mercy

Dear Brothers and Sisters, I have often thought of how the Church may render more clear her mission to be a witness to mercy; and we have to make this journey. It is a journey which begins with spiritual conversion. Therefore, I have decided to announce an Extraordinary Jubilee which has at its centre the mercy of God. It will be a Holy Year of Mercy. We want to live in the light of the word of the Lord: “Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful” (cf. Lk 6:36). And this especially applies to confessors! So much mercy!

This Holy Year will commence on the next Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception and will conclude on Sunday, 20 November 2016, the Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe and living face of the Father’s mercy. I entrust the organization of this Jubilee to the Pontifical Council for Promoting the New Evangelization, in order that it may come to life as a new step on the Church’s journey in her mission to bring the Gospel of mercy to each person.

I am confident that the whole Church, which is in such need of mercy for we are sinners, will be able to find in this Jubilee the joy of rediscovering and rendering fruitful God’s

I write this with deep gratitude for your love lived every day - let’s keep one another in prayer!

Prayer for Jubilee Year of Mercy – Bishop Cahill

I open my heart to You, this day, Oh Merciful Father - Send forth Your Holy Spirit into the depths of my being. So that from head to toe I may be an instrument of Your healing and mercy. One Body and One Spirit with my sisters and brothers throughout the Diocese of Victoria. I pray to listen before speaking, To understand before judging, To love before acting. Trusting in the faithful intercession of Mary my Mother I pray in the Name of Your Son Jesus Christ. Who I profess as LORD, living and reigning with You and the Holy Spirit, One God forever and ever. Amen.

rent sin. Sometimes people may also feel powerless to forgive a past wound. As we pray for a clean heart I pray as the united Body of Christ we can be an instrument of healing and hope for each person we encounter. Most powerfully in the celebration of the Sunday Eucharist we offer ourselves daily for the holiness of humanity and the glorification of God - may we share with the whole world the knowledge, power and freedom of God’s mercy who invites us to a new start every day.
Seminary Burses

Seminary burses are a permanent fund used for the education of future priests for the Diocese of Victoria. The goal of each burse is $15,000. The interest from this amount is applied yearly to the education of seminarians. The burses are in memory of or in honor of an individual priest or lay persons, living or deceased. Publication of the burses will appear periodically when new contributions are received.

Did You Know ….

There Are Two Funds For Education Of Seminarians?

The Diocese of Victoria has two funds available to educate our seminarians. Many of you know the diocese has a Seminary Burses Fund. The contributions to the burses are published monthly in The Catholic Lighthouse. What you probably don’t know is that the Seminary Burses Fund is a permanent endowment fund. This means that only the interest generated from the investment of these funds may be used to offset the cost of educating seminarians. With a current balance of $1,600,000, the Seminary Burses Endowment Fund generates enough to fund the cost of educating one seminarian. Currently, there are ten men studying to become priests for the Diocese of Victoria. The cost of educating the other nine men has to be paid through the Diocesan Services Appeal or the Education of Seminarians Fund explained below. In order for the Seminary Burses Fund to cover all of the expenses of educating our current seminarians, the yield on the Seminary Burses Fund investments would need to be about 22 percent. Of course, this is not possible in today’s low rate environment.

In 2008, as a result of a generous bequest, the diocese established a 2nd fund called “Education of Seminarians Fund”. All of the monies donated to this fund, as well as the earnings, are available to cover the cost of educating seminarians. The proceeds of the special collection on Holy Thursday are deposited into the Education of Seminarians Fund. The majority of the cost of educating the seminarians since 2008 has been paid from this fund. From 2008 through 2014, the Education of Seminarians Fund provided funds in excess of $2,000,000 for the education of the seminarians. Without this fund, the goal for the annual Diocesan Services Appeal (DSA) would have been much higher.

The Diocese of Victoria is grateful for the continued support of the Seminary Burses. However, in the future you might want to consider making contributions to the Education of Seminarians Fund. If this fund continues to grow, the need to fund the cost of educating our seminarians through the DSA will continue to be minimal.

Change, Change, Change

So many things are changing in our Church and society about us. The activities which accompany the season of Advent and Christmas brings a new level of busyness to our already hectic lives. We’ve been occupied with the Pope’s visit and his homilies; we’re waiting for the outcome of the Synod on the Family; we’re still in the Year of Consecrated Life which ends on February 2 while we’re beginning the Year of Mercy on the Feast of the Immaculate Conception. So, reaping the rewards of reflection on all these events, when added to all the activity involved in preparation for Christmas, can be challenging. Looking anew at Church teaching through the eyes of Pope Francis might prompt us to see the need of changing the way we think or act. Sometimes I hear people say, “Why can’t things stay the same?” or “Why do we always have to change?”

Maybe it will be helpful to take a careful look at the word “change”. The internet version of the Merriam-Webster dictionary has 38 definitions of the word “change” so all that information can be confusing. However, of all the definitions, I like “transform” the best. If we think of ourselves as being transformed (on the way to holiness), by the opportunities that the Church provides through its kaleidoscope of activity and instruction, we may be amazed as to what is humanly possible to accomplish with God’s help. Moreover, if we view these opportunities through open eyes of eagerness and expectation, they can become means of grace to transform us beyond our wildest imagination! May this continuing transformation prepare us for our final goal: complete union with our God for all eternity. Meanwhile, may Advent and Christmas be a time of special blessing for all of us.

Pastoral Institute Extended Program
Sacraments of Initiation - The Journey Continues

The Pastoral Institute Extended Program provides adult Catholics the opportunity to learn more about the Catholic faith by offering courses on pertinent subjects. Beginning Tuesday, January 5, 2016, the Reverend Bob Knippenberg, pastor of Holy Family Church in Wharton, will teach two six-week courses pertaining to the sacraments. Classes will be offered mornings from 9:15 - 11:30 a.m. and 7:00 - 9:00 p.m. at the following places Holy Family-Wharton, St. Roch-Mentz, Sacred Heart-Hallettsville, and at the Chancery in Victoria.

The sacraments are the source of our life in Christ or, as the Catechism of the Catholic Church puts it, “The sacraments are efficacious signs of grace, instituted by Christ and entrusted to the Church, by which divine life is dispensed to us (n. 1131).” In the first six-week course: Sacraments of Initiation, Father Bob will examine grace and the first sin, our responsibilities toward the sacraments, material things as instruments of grace, and what is meant by “efficacious signs of [sanctifying] grace.” He will continue by examining the Sacraments of Initiation: Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist; the theology of the sacrament, the origins of the sacrament, and the way in which the sacrament is practiced in the Catholic Church.

In the second six-week course the Sacraments of Healing: 1) Reconciliation and 2) Anointing of the Sick and the Sacraments of Vocation: 1) Matrimony and 2) Holy Orders will be studied.

The overall objective of these courses is to lead the students into an intimate relationship with Jesus Christ, who is “the key, the center and the purpose of the whole of human history” (Gaudium et spes, n. 10) by helping them more intimately encounter the Christ of the sacraments and the liturgical life of the Church.

Advent the Season of Silence

By Father Gabriel Espinosa, pastor
Our Lady of Sorrows, Victoria

The Season of Advent though brief, is essential for us to prepare our souls. One simply has to look at all of the violence, the wars, the suffering and senseless degradation of humanity to realize that we need the presence of God more than ever. Advent allows us time to slow down, and reflect on the sacred event that has taken place. God in the person of Jesus Christ comes down to be with his people. He chooses to wrap himself in our humanity. The beautiful world that God has created has become so messy and broken, but it is this same world that he visits; not as an outsider, but to experience as we do. He allows himself to be limited and does not seek an unfair advantage for himself. Advent permits us the opportunity to ponder what the season really entails.

Caryll Housealender the English Mystic, speaks of Advent as the Season of silence, the seed, growth and darkness. We certainly see the days growing shorter and are enveloped by the darkness. As a result, things become quieter. Nature begins to shed her vestments of lush green foliage and trees begin to discard their leaves. There is a starkness in nature as things begin to gradually wither and die. Within the small dark space of Mary’s womb, the Divine Seed of God grows in silence. He develops as all babies do; and Mary must wait as all mothers must wait. Operated on faith, Mary must go about living her life and preparing for the birth of Jesus. “Breaking and eating the bread, drinking the wine of the country, she gave him his flesh and blood; she prepared the Host for the Mass. This time of Advent is absolutely essential to our contemplation too. If we have truly given our humanity to be changed into Christ, it is essential to us that we do not disturb this time of growth.”

“It is a time of darkness, of faith. We shall not see Christ’s radiance in our lives yet; it is still hidden in our darkness; nevertheless, we must believe that He is growing, in our lives; we must believe it so firmly that we cannot help relating everything, literally everything, to this almost incredible reality.” (Housealender, The Reed of God, pp. 56-57). Preparation must take place for us to truly welcome God within our hearts. Advent allows us the time to be still, and to reflect on the light that comes to fill our darkness. And as we move closer to celebrating the birth of the son of God, may his holy light, fill us all with the warm radiance of his grace.

What Is Christmas Anyway?

By Sr. Digna Vela, IWBS
Snowmen, reindeer, Santa Claus, shop ’til you drop! What will you do this Christmas to remind yourself, family, neighbors and community about what Christmas is really about, what Christmas means to you?

Every year I feel sad during Advent as I watch the world around me prepare for Christmas. As I take a trip around the city to enjoy the lights and decorations, visit the mall, or watch the Christmas parade, I feel disappointed that there are few if any signs that this is a Christian feast day celebrating the birth of Jesus, the Son of God and our Savior. I ask myself, what does a snowman or reindeer have to do with Christmas? Are there so few Christian homes in our city? I am even disappointed in the wonderful Hallmark Christmas shows; they seldom if ever mention Jesus or God. Has Christmas truly become a secular winter holiday? What can I/we do about this?

We can begin by decorating our yards and homes with religious Christmas symbols that remind everyone around us about the real meaning of Christmas. How we treat people during these frantic, hectic days before Christmas will be a visible witness of our Christian faith. Those of us who are parents or grandparents can read and talk about the Christmas story with our children and grandchildren; they are not hearing the story in the public schools.

It is equally important to prepare our own hearts to celebrate this important feast day, the birth of Jesus our savior. All of us can spend time in prayer each day reading Scripture and meditating on the great mystery of God becoming incarnate, becoming a human being like us. Visiting a shut-in or a sick person will bring them Christmas cheer and do wonders for our spirit and enrich our spiritual lives. Donating food, clothes, or gifts to those who really need them can make such a difference and also fill our hearts with so much joy.

Yes, Christmas is a Christian feast, and a very important one, too. How am I going to celebrate it this year?

A Parent’s Prayer for Their Children
O Heavenly Father, I commend my children unto Thee. Be Thou their God and Father; and mercifully supply whatever is wanting in me through frailty or negligence. Strengthen them to overcome the corruptions of the world, to resist all solicitations to evil, whether from within or without; and deliver them from the secret snares of the enemy. Pour Thy grace into their hearts, and confirm and multiply in them the gifts of Thy Holy Spirit, that they may daily grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ; and so, faithfully serving Thee here, may come to rejoice in Thy presence hereafter. Amen

It is suggested that seventy-five percent collected be for the Diocese and the remaining twenty-five percent go back to the Knights of Columbus State Council for their programs, such as student education grants, Catholic school grants and more. Presenting Bishop Cahill the check is Alvin Kulcak, Knights of Columbus Diocesan Deputy.

OLV Veterans Day Celebration

On November 12, the National Junior Honor Society of Our Lady of Victory Catholic School hosted a Veterans Day Celebration. Students, parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins gathered in the school gym to honor 33 OLV family veterans present at the celebration. The Our Lady of Victory Boy Scout Troop 364 provided the color guard for the assembly. They performed a ceremony for the flags of each of the military branches that recognized the veterans from each branch. The guest speaker was Patrick Gurski. He is a member of the Army National Guard and currently works as a prosecutor for the Victoria County District Attorney’s Office. The program included a special and very moving presentation known as the “POW/MIA Table Setting For One.” The symbolic manner in which a small, round table set for one, but never occupied, is a tradition started after the Vietnam War and is intended to help us commemorate our fallen and missing heroes who cannot be present at events such as these. Seventh grader Andres Ramos and Jory Stevens played taps during the ceremony. Students sang patriotic songs as they waved their American flags. A reception followed for the veterans and their families. Students made thank you cards for the veterans. The NJHS members created a Wall of Honor display of contributed photos of current and deceased veterans.

What is Día de Los Muertos?

Día de Los Muertos, also known as Day of the Dead is celebrated throughout Mexico and the Catholic world including Italy, Spain, South America and the Philippines who all celebrate All Souls and All Saints Day on November 1 and 2. A significant tradition of Día De Los Muertos involves making an altar that the deceased friends or family members can enjoy. These private altars called ofrendas, typically have a picture of the person who died and are decorated with the things that the person liked. Many altars are also decorated with a holy cross, pan de muerto, paper skulls, papel picado, and beautiful marigold flowers.

A Mass was celebrated on November 1, for Día de Los Muertos at Resurrection Catholic Cemetery, Victoria. Bishop Cahill presided over the Mass along with the priests from Our Lady of Sorrows Church in Victoria. Youth from the church dressed as various saints. After the Mass, families went to the gravesites of their loved ones and waited as priests and deacons came to bless the graves. About 350 people were present that afternoon.

NATIONAL READING WEEK—Friday, November 13, Superintendent, John Quary joined the students from Nazareth Academy along with other community leaders for National Young Reader’s Week.

El Centro Emaús: La Consejería en el Marco de la Tradición Católica

El 8 de diciembre de 2015, a las 2:00 p.m. la Diócesis de Victoria tendrá una ceremonia para la apertura de su centro Católico de asesoramiento, El Centro Emaús: La Consejería en el Marco de la Tradición Católica.

Todos están invitados a asistir a este evento con el Obispo Brendan Cahill, Padre Gary Janak y la Diócesis de Victoria. El Centro Emaús se encuentra en el edificio de oficinas Laurent Towers, 1908 N. Laurent Street, Suite 140, en Victoria, Texas.

La misión del Centro Emaús es ayudar a otros en su camino de la vida, especialmente durante los tiempos de dolor, angustia psicológica e inestabilidad. Asesoramiento en español no se ofrece todavía pero será en el futuro.

El Año de la Misericordia también comienza el 8 de diciembre, para los católicos. Obispo Cahill espera que el Centro Emaús ofrecerá un lugar donde reciben la fuerza y el apoyo que necesiten.

La tradición de las Posadas

La tradición de las Posadas se celebra en México y en otros países Latinos. Esta tradición tuvo su origen en 1587 en San Agustín de Acultzingo, un poblado en el noreste de México, cuando fray Diego de Soria obtuvo del papado de San Agustín el permiso para la celebración en la Nueva España de unas misas llamadas “de aguinaldos”. Se realizan en nueve misas en las cuales se concedía indulgencia plenaria a quienes cumplían con dicho novenario.

Las Posadas empiezan el dieciséis de diciembre y continúan cada noche hasta el veinticinco. En procesión se reza un misterio del rosario (o los cinco), luego se cantan veinticinco misas de los desfiles y canciones es solemne y melancólica. Aunque el carácter del desfile y las canciones es solemne y melancólica, las posadas concluyen en festividades con bocados, bebidas, bailes y el quebrado de la piñata. Las posadas son un medio para preparar con alegría y oración nuestro corazón para la venida de Jesucristo, y para recordar y vivir los momentos que pasaron José y María antes del Nacimiento de Jesús.

Dentro de la casa, les dan a los niños aguinaldos, bolsas llenas de galletas, caramelos y juguetitos. Aunque el carácter de los desfiles y canciones es solemne y melancólica, las posadas concluyen en festividades con bocados, bebidas, bailes y el quebrado de la piñata. Las posadas son un medio para preparar con alegría y oración nuestro corazón para la venida de Jesucristo, y para recordar y vivir los momentos que pasaron José y María antes del Nacimiento de Jesús.

El Papa Francisco Anuncia El Año Santo de la Misericordia

Queridos hermanos y hermanas,

En consulta con la Comisión Litúrgica Diocesana y el Consejo Presbiteral hemos desarrollado un plan para ayudarnos a celebrar el Año del Jubileo de la Misericordia, del 8 de diciembre de 2015 al 20 de noviembre de 2016. San Agustín enseñó la misericordia de Dios en su comentario sobre el Salmo 51. En parte debido a este comentario escogió la frase “Crea en mí un corazón limpio, Oh Dios” como mi lema episcopal. Mientras nos preparamos para celebrar este gran año de reflexión, renovación y compromiso quiero compartir con ustedes unos pensamientos del comentario de San Agustín.

Primero, ¿quién es el “yo” del Salmo? Por un lado podemos ver que era el rey David, quien reconoció la gravedad de sus pecados y pidió un nuevo comienzo. A la luz de nuestra fe cristiana también podemos entender a esta persona como toda la iglesia, formada en un cuerpo por el Espíritu Santo. Les invito rezar esta oración como la Iglesia de la Diócesis de Victoria - ofrece nuestra vida diaria para la salvación del mundo. Ruego que como pedimos un corazón limpio, nuestro testimonio pueda brillar para que todo el mundo vea la belleza y la verdad del amor de Dios para el mundo.

Segundo, el Salmo nos enseña que ningún pecado es demasiado grande para que Dios pueda perdonarlo y sanar. Me parece que muchas personas sienten obligadas por un pecado pasado, o atrapadas en una lucha aparentemente desesperada con un pecado actual. A veces la gente también puede sentir incapaz de perdonar una herida del pasado. Al orar por un corazón limpio, como el Cuerpo unido de Cristo, podemos ser instrumentos de sanación y esperanza para cada persona que encontramos. Más poderosamente en la celebración de la Eucaristía dominical nos ofrecemos diariamente por la santidad de la humanidad y la glorificación de Dios, podemos compartir con todo el mundo el conocimiento, poder y libertad de la misericordia de Dios que nos invita diariamente a un nuevo comienzo.

El estación de Adviento es breve pero necesario para ofrecernos el tiempo de preparar nuestras almas. Necesitamos ver la presencia de Dios más que nada; especialmente cuando uno mira la violencia, las guerras, el sufrimiento y la degradación de la humanidad en nuestro tiempo. Adviento nos ofrece la oportunidad ir más despacio y reflejar el evento sagrado que ha ocurrido. Dios en la persona de Jesucristo se baja del cielo para estar con su pueblo. El escoja a envolverse con nuestra humanidad. El mundo tan bello que Dios creó se ha convertido a un mundo quebrado y sucio; pero este es el mismo mundo que Cristo visita para experimentarlo como nosotros, no como un forastero. Cristo no toma ventaja por sí mismo en su vida terrena porque no lo tenemos nosotros. Cristo desea experimentar una vida limitada lo mismo como nosotros. Durante Adviento tenemos el tiempo a contemplar que nos ofrece esta estación.

La mística Inglesa, Caryll Houselander, dice que el estación de Adviento es uno de silencio, de la semilla, el crecimiento y la oscuridad. Podemos anotar que los días son más cortos y que la noche nos cubra más rápido. Resulta en todo poniéndose más tranquilo y silencio. La naturaleza se quita su follaje verde y los árboles desechan sus hojas. Hay algo severo en la naturaleza cuándo el estación de Adviento es uno de oscuridad y de fe. No vamos a ver el resplandor de Cristo en nuestras vidas todavía; todavía es oculto; sin embargo, necesitamos creer que Él está creciendo en nuestra vida, y creerlo tan firmemente que no podemos faltar asistirlo con todo, literalmente todo a esta realidad increíble." (Houselander, La Lengüeta de Dios, pp. 56-57). Necesitamos prepararnos con tiempo a tranquilizarnos y pensar a la luz que viene a iluminar nuestra oscuridad. Que se luz de Cristo nos reconforta con su gracia en el tiempo que esperamos hasta su nacimiento.

El 1 de noviembre, se celebró una Misa del Día de Los Muertos en el Cementerio Católico de la Resurrección, en Victoria. Obispo Cahill presidió la Misa junto con los sacerdotes de Nuestra Señora de los Dolores, iglesia católica en Victoria. Jóvenes de la iglesia se disfrazaron de varios santos. Después de la Misa, las familias fueron a las tumbas de sus seres queridos y esperaban que sacerdotes y diáconos vinieran a bendecir las tumbas. Unas 350 personas estaban presentes esa tarde.

Que es El Día de Los Muertos?

El Día de Los Muertos es una celebración mexicana que honra a los muertos, esta tradición se arraiga desde la época prehispánica aunque hoy en día incorporan elementos también del catolicismo y hasta toques modernos.

En México el Día de Muertos se festeja durante dos días el día 1 de noviembre, llamado Día de Todos los Santos, es cuando llegan las ánimas de los niños y el 2 de noviembre, el día de Muertos, es cuando llegan los adultos.

Según la tradición, durante la fiesta de Día de Muertos las almas de los difuntos salen del lugar donde se fueron al morirse y regresan a visitar a sus seres queridos en la tierra.

En México los altares por lo general tienen tres niveles. Uno simboliza el cielo, otro la tierra y otro el inframundo, niveles que los difuntos deben escalar para llegar al mundo de los vivos.

Para recibir a sus difuntos la gente colocaba altares en donde ofrecen a los muertos los que inician el convite; después, cuando regresan satísfechos al inframundo, los platillos de la ofrenda deben ser compartidos entre los familiares y amigos.

Los cementerios son un punto muy importante de esta celebración; ya que muchas familias se reúnen con sus muertos en estos sitios que se convierten en un verdadero festín entre familiares amigos.

Oración por el Año de Jubileo

Abro mi corazón a Ti, el día de hoy, Oh Padre Misericordioso - Envía tu Espíritu Santo a las profundidades de mi ser. Así que de pies a cabeza pueda ser un instrumento de tu sanación y misericordia.

Un Cuerpo y un solo Espíritu con mis hermanas y hermanos en toda la Diócesis de Victoria. Ruego me ayudes a escuchar antes de hablar. Para entender antes de juzgar, amar antes de actuar. Confío en fielmente en la intercesión de María, mi Madre. Te lo ruego en el nombre de tu Hijo Jesucristo, a quien profeso como Señor, que vive y reina contigo y el Espíritu Santo, un solo Dios por los siglos de los siglos Amen.

Si se le acredita como milagro, la beata Teresa podría ser canonizada el 4 de septiembre

CIUDAD DEL VATICANO (CNS) — En el calendario del Vaticano para el Año de la Misericordia deliberadamente dejaron aparte la fecha del 4 de septiembre de posible celebración en honor de la beata Teresa de Calcuta, siempre y cuando su causa de santidad se haya concluido para entonces. La canonización se llevaría a cabo por el papa Francisco en la Plaza de San Pedro, al finalizar tres días de peregrinación de personas que, como la beata Teresa lo fue, están dedicadas al trabajo corporal de la misericordia. “La fecha del 4 de septiembre se mantiene en hipótesis o plan dentro del calendario del Año de Jubileo”, le dijo al “Catholic News Service” el padre jesuita Federico Lombardi, vocero del Vaticano, el 19 de noviembre.

El papa aconseja nuevo obispo tener misericordia, paciencia, homilías cortas

ROME (CNS) — Ordenando como obispo auxiliar de Roma a un romano pastor y director espiritual de seminaristas, el papa Francisco le rogó tener misericordia y ofrecer homilías cortas y claras.

Ordenando al obispo Ángelo De Donatis, de 61 años de edad, el 9 de noviembre en la Basílica de San Juan de Letrán, el papa Francisco le recordó al obispo algo que le había dicho anteriormente.

“Deja que tus palabras sean simples de modo que todos puedan entender. No des homilías largas”, dijo el papa. “Permite que recuerdes a tu papá y cuán feliz él estaba al haber encontrado otra parroquia en uno pueblo cercano donde la Misa era celebrada sin homilía! ”

“Las homilías deben ser la transmisión de la gracia de Dios. Simples, de modo que todos puedan entenderlas y todos quieran ser mejores personas”, le dijo el papa Francisco al nuevo obispo.

La Misa fue celebrada en la fiesta de la dedicación de la basílica, la cual sirve a la Diócesis de Roma.

Como es costumbre, el papa usó la homilía prescrita para la ocasión para mostrarle esta película al Papa, y me dijeron que eso era algo loco, que nunca se lograría, pero en el momento de conseguir una audiencia con el papa Francisco.
Keep Christ in Christmas, fight pressure to conform to world, pope says

By Carol Glatz
Catholic News Service

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — Keeping the “Christ” in “Christmas” is part of not giving in to pressure to conform to the “norm” and become like nonbelievers, Pope Francis said in a morning homily.

“Let’s put our ID up for auction. We are the same as everyone,” the pope said.

Celebrating an early morning Mass November 16, Pope Francis warned against the very small, hidden way worldliness takes root in a culture and then leads to apostasy and religious persecution.

“In fact, “the liturgy of these final days of the liturgical year” urges people to be careful of the “poisonous roots” that lead people away from God, he said.

The pope focused on the day’s reading from the First Book of the Maccabees in which many “children of Israel” wanted an alliance with the Gentiles in order to be better protected. They abandoned their religious practices and covenant with God, and took to the pagan ways of the Gentiles.

The pope said the reading showed how the king’s order to create one identical people led to apostasy.

“The history of the church, in history, we have seen — I’m thinking of one example — how the name of religious holidays has been changed — Christmas has another name, in order to erase identity,”

But this new “humanism” in which differences are not accepted leads to religious persecution, the pope said, as the day’s first reading shows how those who were determined to keep to their religious practices were condemned to death by royal decree.

“It begins with a root, it’s small, and it ends in the abomination of desolation, in persecution. This is the deceit of worldliness,” he said.

Today, too, there is pressure from “this humanism that comes to take the place of the true man, Jesus Christ, that comes to take away our Christian identity and leads us to a single way of thinking: ‘Everyone does it this way, why not us?”

He said people today must ask themselves, “What is my identity? Christian or worldly? Or do I say I’m a Christian became I was baptized as a baby and I was born in a Christian nation where everyone is a Christian?”

Worldliness seeps into one’s life very slowly and then grows, it seems justified and backed by sound reason, “and in the end it contaminates, and many evils come from there,” he said.

The pope asked that people pray that God protect them from taking on a worldly mentality and the desire to be “normal” and like everyone else. He also asked that the church always keep its identity grounded in Jesus.

If miracle approved, Blessed Teresa could be canonized Sept. 4

By Cindy Wooden
Catholic News Service

VATICAN CITY (CNS) -- The Vatican calendar for the Year of Mercy deliberately set aside Sept. 4, 2016, as a possible date for the canonization of Blessed Teresa of Kolkata, if her sainthood cause is concluded by then.

The canonization would be celebrated by Pope Francis in St. Peter’s Square at the end of a three-day pilgrimage of people led to apostasy and religious persecution.

“The process is still underway and official communications will be given at the appropriate time.”

Members of the Congregation for Saints’ Causes still must review the physicians’ report on the healing. If the members have no further questions, Pope Francis would be asked to issue a decree recognizing the healing as a miracle worked by God through the intercession of Mother Teresa.

With the decree, the pope would survey the world’s cardinals and set a date for a consistory of cardinals who live in or could come to Rome for the occasion. They would be asked to recommend the pope canonize Blessed Teresa; if the pope agrees, he would set the date for the ceremony.

AGI had reported the likely date of the canonization would be Sept. 5 -- Mother Teresa’s feast day and the anniversary of her death. However, Sept. 5 is a Monday in 2016 and Father Lombardi said the canonization would not take place on a Monday.

Vatican Nativity scene, tree to be unveiled early for Year of Mercy

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — The Christmas tree and Nativity scene in St. Peter’s Square will be set up and unveiled earlier than usual this year to be ready for the opening of the Year of Mercy.

In preparation for the extraordinary event, which begins December 8 with the opening of the Holy Door in St. Peter’s Basilica, Vatican workmen broke through the masonry that had walled off the door.

Cardinal Angelo Comastri, archpriest of the basilica, led a small ceremony that included prayers and a procession November 17, the eve of the anniversary of the basilica’s dedication in 1626.

Four Vatican workmen then used a pickax to break through a portion of the wall that covers the Holy Door from inside the basilica. They removed a sealed metal box that, in keeping with tradition, had been embedded in the wall at the end of the Jubilee Year of 2000.

The zinc box, which was opened with a blowtorch, contained the keys and handles for opening the holy door, commemorative medals and a papal gold coin marking the last Holy Year.

The Vatican also announced November 18 that the traditional tree and Nativity scene that dominate the center of St. Peter’s Square would be ready by December 8, the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

The 82-foot spruce fir comes from Germany’s Bavarian region. The decorations this year were to include painted ceramic ornaments made by children receiving oncological care in a number of Italian hospitals.

The Nativity scene was donated by the northern Italian province of Trent. The 24 life-sized figures carved from wood included Mary, Joseph, the baby Jesus, the Three Magi and a man bending over to help an elderly man in an act of mercy. The surrounding scene and figures were to represent life in the Dolomites in the 1900s.

Pope Francis named Msgr. Steven J. Lopes to be the first bishop of the Catholic Church’s U.S. ordinariate for former Anglicans living in full communion with the Catholic Church. The appointment of Bishop-designate Lopes, 40, was announced by the Vatican Nov. 24.

Faith leaders say refugees from Syria, elsewhere require compassion, acceptance

WASHINGTON (CNS) — A Boston cardinal and the Maryland Catholic Conference were among hundreds of faith leaders who called for compassion in addressing the world refugee crisis and stressed the importance of developing a national immigration policy based on humanitarian need. Acknowledging that the times are “dangerous” and that “enhanced security procedures are needed,” Cardinal Sean P. O’Malley in a statement Nov. 19 cautioned that in developing an immigration policy, “decisions concerning the specific measure taken require careful deliberation.” The Maryland Catholic Conference, which includes the Baltimore and Washington archdioceses and the Diocese of Wilmington, Delaware, in a statement Nov. 18 called on the country to welcome “those feeling persecution in other countries, including refugees seeking asylum from Syria.” The statements came as lawmakers in Congress and governors opposed measures to resettle Syrian refugees in response to a string of extremist attacks in Paris Nov. 13 that left 130 people dead and hundreds more injured. Republicans in the House of Representatives Nov. 19 won a veto-proof majority, 289-137, on a bill blocking Syrian and Iraqi refugees from entering the U.S. The bill’s status in the Senate was uncertain, however. In addition, governors in at least 30 states have called for an end to Syrian resettlement until security concerns can be addressed.

Bishop disturbed by calls to end resettlement of Syrian refugees in U.S.

BALTIMORE (CNS) — The head of the U.S. bishops’ Committee on Migration said he was disturbed by calls from federal and state officials for an end to the resettlement of Syrian refugees in the United States. “These refugees are fleeing terror themselves — violence like we have witnessed in Paris,” said Seattle Auxiliary Bishop Eusebio Elizondo, chairman of the migration committee. “They are extremely vulnerable families, women, and children who are fleeing for their lives. We cannot and should not blame them for the actions of a terrorist organization.” In a statement issued Nov. 17 during the bishops’ general assembly in Baltimore, Bishop Elizondo offered condolences to the French people, especially families of the victims of the Nov. 13 attacks in Paris in which at least 129 people were killed and hundreds were injured. He said he supported “all who are working to ensure such attacks do not occur again — both in France and around the world.” But addressing calls from some governors and federal officials — including House Speaker Paul Ryan, R-Wisconsin — to pause or halt refugee resettlement until the U.S. can ensure the safety of its citizens, Bishop Elizondo said refugees “must pass security checks and multiple interviews before entering the United States.” He urged federal and state officials to “work in concert with the allies who are working to ensure such attacks do not occur again.”

Pornography, politics statements take center stage at USCCB

BALTIMORE (CNS) — The U.S. bishops approved a formal statement on pornography and additions to their quadrennial statement on political responsibility at their Nov. 16-19 fall general meeting in Baltimore. The votes were made during the public portion of the meeting, which ran Nov. 16-17. The bishops met in executive session Nov. 18-19. The 2015 version of political responsibility document, “Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship,” passed 210-21 with five abstentions, and a separate vote on the statement’s introductory note passed 217-16 with two abstentions; two-thirds of diocesan bishops, or 181 votes, were needed for passage. Additions to the document were made to reflect the teachings of Pope Francis and the later encyclicals of Pope Benedict XVI. But some bishops said the document does not adequately address poverty, as Pope Francis has asked the church to do. The most vocal critic was Bishop Robert W. McElroy of San Diego, who said he was concerned that because poverty and the environment did not receive the same priority as abortion and euthanasia, that some people “outside of this room” would “misuse” the document and claim other issues did not carry the same moral weight. The pornography statement, “Create in Me a Clean Heart: A Pastoral Response to Pornography,” says that “producing or using pornography is gravely wrong” and is a “mortal sin” if committed with deliberate consent and urges Catholics to turn away from it. Approval of the statement came on a vote of 230-4 with one abstention, with 181 votes needed for passage.

Pope Francis Names First Bishop to Lead Catholics Nurtured in the Anglican Tradition

HOUSTON — Pope Francis has named the Rev. Monsignor Steven J. Lopes to be the first bishop of the Personal Ordinariate of the Chair of St. Peter: a structure equivalent to a diocese for Roman Catholics who were nurtured in the Anglican tradition.

The Personal Ordinariate of the Chair of St. Peter was established by Pope Benedict on Jan. 1, 2012, with its headquarters located in Houston, Texas. Founded to serve Roman Catholics across the U.S. and Canada, it is the first diocese of its kind in North America.

The Ordinariate was created to provide a path for groups of Anglicans to become fully Roman Catholic, while retaining elements of their worship traditions and spiritual heritage in their union with the Holy Roman Church.

Msgr. Jeffrey N. Steenson, the leader of the Ordinariate since 2012, will introduce Bishop-elect Lopes at a live news conference at 10:30 a.m. CST at the Chancery Offices of the Ordinariate, 7730 Westview, Houston, Texas. A telephone news conference for media will also be held at 12 p.m. CST.

With this appointment, Pope Francis affirms and amplifies Pope Benedict’s vision for Christian unity, in which diverse expressions of one faith are joined together in the Church. By naming Bishop-elect Lopes, the Pope has confirmed that the Ordinariate is a permanent, enduring part of the Catholic Church, like any other diocese — one that is now given a bishop so that it may deepen its contribution to the life of the Church and the world.

Bishop Lopes’ appointment comes just five days before the Ordinariate begins using Divine Worship: The Missal, a new book of liturgical texts for the celebration of Mass in the Personal Ordinariates around the globe. The texts were approved by the Vatican for use beginning the first Sunday of Advent, Nov. 29, 2015.

Bishop-elect Lopes was directly involved in developing these texts for worship; since 2011, he has served as the executive coordinator of the Vatican commission, Anglicanae Traditiones, which produced the new texts.

The new missal is a milestone in the life of the Ordinariate, since the Ordinariate’s mission is particularly expressed through the reverence and beauty of its worship, which shares the treasury of the Anglican liturgical and musical traditions with the wider Catholic community.

Pope Benedict’s vision for Christian unity and the concrete ways that Pope Francis is implementing that vision demonstrate that unity in faith allows for a vibrant diversity in the expression of that faith. The Ordinariate is a key ecumenical venture for the Catholic Church and a concrete example of this unity in diversity.
The Marriage Promises

Recall from last month’s article on how a promise can elevate a good act. With that understanding in place, we are now in a position to consider the promises made in marriage. Before we look at how the marital promises are the greatest action that a person can make to achieve his or her perfection, I will first explain the specific promises that are made in a marriage. As is evident from the vows that are made, each spouse declares his or her consent to marry the other by making three promises before the Church. Consider the following:

I, N., take you, N., to be my wife/husband. I promise to be true to you in good and bad times and bad, in sickness and in health. I will love you and honor you all the days of my life.

First, there is the promise of fidelity. When a man takes a woman to be his wife or when a woman takes a man to be her husband, he or she promises fidelity, i.e., to be faithful as a spouse. The husband gives himself to his wife alone. Each spouse is united to the other, no matter the condition: good or bad times, richer or poorer. This reveals the truth of their new identity as persons, namely, as spouses. The third promise is that of permanence. The relationship of the two spouses is for the entirety of their earthly lives, so long as both are alive, and in no way can this bond be broken or altered.

These three promises are not to be taken lightly. They are vows made in the sight of God. They should be made, then, with utmost reverence and sincerity. Next month we will look at how these three promises constitute one’s greatest natural attempt to achieve perfection and salvation.

New York church choir produces CD to counter secular spin on the season

RYE, N.Y. (CNS) — The secular world ignores Advent, begins celebrating Christmas the day after Halloween and packs up the holiday before the New Year, Paul J. Murray said.

The director of music at a midtown Manhattan parish thought the Advent message was getting drowned out by the noise of commercialism, so he decided to make a CD recording of his choir singing sacred Advent and Christmas music.

“The church keeps Advent as a very special season to prepare and wait for the coming of Christ at Christmas and his second coming at the end of time. Music is a subtle reminder that we are preparing for something greater,” Murray told Catholic News Service Nov. 20.

Murray is the director of music for the parish of Our Saviour, St. Stephen and Our Lady of the Scapular, and Chapel of the Sacred Hearts of Jesus and Mary. He directs the Choir of the Church of Our Saviour, which released “Hark! A Thrilling Voice Is Sounding,” a 19-track disk recorded in the church during the last week of October.

“The recording is a means of evangelization to share the music of Advent and Christmas with the community-at-large,” Murray said.

It will be distributed by CD through the parish, a website and iTunes.

Christmas Prayer

Lord, in this holy season of prayer and song and laughter, we praise you for the great wonders you have sent us: for shining star and angel’s song, for infant’s cry in lowly manger. We praise you for the Word made flesh in a little Child. We behold his glory, and are bathed in its radiance.

Be with us as we sing the ironies of Christmas, the incomprehensible comprehension of commercialism, so he decided to make a CD recording of his choir singing sacred Advent and Christmas music.

We kneel before you shepherds, innkeepers, wisemen. Help us to rise

WASHINGTON (CNS) — The feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe has been a religious and cultural hallmark for Mexican Catholics for centuries, but the custom received little attention from Anglo Catholics in the U.S. before the last few decades.

With the growing Latino population in the United States, the presence of Hispanics has steadily increased in Catholic churches throughout the country, creating a greater awareness of Our Lady of Guadalupe, the patroness of the Americas.

Catholic scholars say the significance of her feast day, Dec. 12, has risen beyond the Americas with the emergence of the Latin American church on the world stage.

The dark-skinned image of Mary, known as Our Lady of Guadalupe, also has been identified by leaders of the universal Catholic Church as the face of the new evangelization.

The story of how Mary appeared to a poor Aztec Indian in 1531 near present-day Mexico City brought more than 6 million indigenous people into the Catholic faith within a decade.

The image of Mary dressed in a way Aztecs could relate to her is credited with more than evangelization. It’s also an acknowledged factor in the easing of tensions between the native people of that region in the Americas and the European settlers.

Latinos living in the U.S. celebrate the feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe with zeal.

Their fervor for the feast day is a great example for Anglo Catholics, attracting more of them to the celebrations, said Archbishop Joseph E. Kurtz of Louisville, Kentucky, who is president of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops.

The Latino presence in the U.S. has helped educate more Anglo Catholics about Our Lady of Guadalupe, Archbishop Kurtz told Catholic News Service, and he said he hopes more will embrace this part of the Catholic tradition.

“Our Lady of Guadalupe is really for everybody, certainly the people of the Americas,” and not just Hispanic Catholics, said Bishop Peter F. Christensen of Boise, Idaho, a statewide diocese where Latinos now make up the majority of Catholics.

When Mary appeared to St. Juan Diego, the Spaniards and Aztecs were on the brink of war, and scholars believe it would have been brutal. Many have suggested the result of such a war could have diminished Christianity in the region.

Instead, the apparition of Our Lady of Guadalupe brought an end to the Aztec’s worship of stone gods and the practice of human sacrifice, said Father Michael Witczak, an associate professor of liturgical studies at The Catholic University of America in Washington.

When the indigenous people embraced Catholicism, the religion of the Spaniards, the two groups discovered a way of living together in relative harmony, Father Witczak said.

“The story is captivating,” he told CNS. “That whole image of this 57-year-old Aztec Christian encountering this woman and not wanting to get involved with something he knew would be viewed with great skepticism. Yet, (the news) was eventually seen as a miracle that helped spread Christianity throughout the Americas.”

It’s a story that should enrich the faith of all American Catholics, Archbishop Kurtz said.

Nevertheless, many Anglo Catholics either don’t know the story or understand the significance Our Lady of Guadalupe has in American Catholicism.

Father Adrian Vazquez, the administrator of four Idaho parishes in St. Anthony, Driggs, Island Park and Rexburg, said that every year as Latino parishioners prepare for the Dec. 12 feast day, many Anglo Catholics approach him to learn more about Our Lady of Guadalupe.

“Yes, some (Anglo Catholics) are already participating, but many of them just don’t know the story,” he said. “But, they do see the excitement among the Latinos and it makes them curious. Once they learn about the story, they are much more open to bringing it into their own faith tradition.”

Father Robert C. Irwin, pastor of St. Jerome Church in Jerome, Idaho, said he was unaware of the story of Our Lady of Guadalupe as a boy growing up in the U.S.

What he did know was that his friends with Mexican ancestry often paid homage to an image of Mary that didn’t look very much like the paintings of the Mother of God he had been accustomed to viewing during his religious education.

Pope Francis celebrated the feast day at St. Peter’s Basilica in Vatican City in 2014.

During his homily, the pope said the dark-skinned image of Our Lady of Guadalupe — traditionally believed to have been miraculously impressed on Juan Diego’s cloak — proclaimed to the indigenous peoples of the Americas “the good news that all its inhabitants shared the dignity of children of God. No more would anyone be a servant, but we are all children of the same Father and brothers and sisters to each other.”

Both Pope Benedict XVI and Pope Francis have celebrated the feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe at St. Peter’s, signaling to Catholics worldwide it’s importance in the universal church, Father Witczak said.

“She’s not just the patroness of Mexico, but the patroness of the Americas,” he said.

Over 300 people from throughout the Diocese of Victoria attended the annual diocesan conference at Holy Family Catholic Church in Wharton, Texas, Saturday, October 24, 2015. The Most Reverend Oscar Cantú, bishop of the Diocese of Las Cruces, New Mexico presented the major keynote address: Safeguarding the Dignity of Every Human Person in English and Spanish. Newly ordained bishop of the Diocese of Victoria, The Most Reverend Brendan Cahill, also offered a keynote address in Spanish and English, “Religious Liberty and True Tolerance”, referring to the writings of American theologian, Father John Courtney Murray.

The day-long conference provided twenty-four workshops on various topics in English and Spanish, for the conference participants. Catholic publishers and vendors displayed books, religious articles, and other resources. The conference concluded with the Sunday liturgy presided by the Most Reverend Brendan Cahill.

Bishop Brendan Cahill spoke about the Vatican II Declaration on Religious Liberty. This document declared that every human person has the right to religious freedom. This right has its foundation in the very dignity of the human person.

Since all have this right to religious freedom, even a person who is wrong has rights that we must respect, even those whose religions that are in error, because we must respect a person’s right of conscience. Religious rights include not only being allowed to attend the church of one’s choice, but also expressing one’s belief in public and to be respected for it. True tolerance excludes using harsh and divisive language even if it is right.
