CHOOSING TO L.O.V.E. – Live Our Vows Everyday

By Sarita V. Richmond, Editor

In January 2009, an El Campo couple, Kristie and Paul Rodriguez attended a Choosing to L.O.V.E. Retreat, in Palacios. Kristie heard about it from Father Gary Janak, who was pastor of St. Philip Church, in El Campo, at the time. She shared, “I was excited and ready to go once I read the church bulletin. The only reservation I had at the time was the cost, but we were able to attend on a scholarship.” Paul had some reservations but with some encouragement from his wife said “yes” to attending.

Choosing to L.O.V.E. is a retreat for couples seeking to enrich their marital commitment by focusing on what brought their covenant into existence - their marriage vows. It was created by Father Gary, the Chancellor of the Diocese of Victoria, and pastor of the Cathedral of Our Lady of Victory.

Father Gary has made it his mission to counsel couples for the past 25 years. He shared, “Working with couples has helped me to strengthen the promises I made on the day of my ordination and when I began my life as a priest.” He studied hard to receive his counseling degree and continues to research and update his training as a counselor. While working with broken and struggling marriages, he began to dream of providing something more for married couples. He wanted to be proactive, rather than retroactive. Father Gary wanted to share with them tools for keeping their marriage strong before they got to the misery stage. His dream was to develop a retreat that would empower couples to truly live the kind of marriage God intends for them, to be fully alive in their marriages – not just surviving, but thriving.

In 2009, Father Gary gathered four couples together from the El Campo area and shared his dream to create a marriage enrichment retreat that gave couples the tools to stay strong in their commitment to their wedding vows. He then asked each couple to write a talk that covered one aspect of the wedding vows, using their personal stories to illustrate key points of the Sacrament of Marriage. The result was the creation of the annual marriage retreat called Choosing to L.O.V.E. – Live Our Vows Everyday.

Father Gary is a hopeless romantic. When he prepares couples for marriage, he loves to hear how couples met and what led them to falling in love. He loves, even more, seeing them flourish in their relationships and frequently points out that the love of a married couple nourishes the Church: “When you are strong, I feel stronger. We all feel stronger, as the Body of Christ. And the opposite is true as well: when a married couple suffers, we all suffer.”

Kristie and Paul met her freshman year of high school, in El Campo. They dated throughout high school and got married by the Justice of the Peace, on January 13, 1995. In 2007, their 12 year anniversary, they attended the Welcome Home Program, so Paul could finish making his sacraments, and then they were married in the Catholic church on January 13, 2007.

Like many marriages, theirs has had its ups and downs. Kristie said, “Our marriage has gone from being young and not knowing what to expect, to my all-time favorite of great, to falling off the deep end with divorce papers written. We have since re-connected and are in a very good place. Without God, we wouldn’t be where we are today in our marriage. We haven’t had a fairytale marriage but we are here today together, still learning something new every day.

Kristie and Paul live in El Campo and are blessed with three daughters. Angel is 23 and has a fiancé named Matthew, and a one-year-old son, Karter. Sierra is 18 and will be graduating high school this year and Raylynn is 15, and a freshman in high school. Paul is a heavy equipment operator for B&D Services and Kristie is an insurance account manager for NewFirst Insurors. Kristie and Paul love spending time with their grandson, hunting, fishing, and pretty much anything outdoors. She shared, “We love to do these

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

After thorough review of files by an independent party, I am publishing the names of priests who have served in the Diocese of Victoria, and been credibly accused of sexually abusing a minor. The scandals that have developed in the Church since last summer have been a source of deep hurt, anger and shame. I’ve listened to personal stories of clergy abuse survivors, read many articles and books about the topic of clergy sexual abuse, and prayed to God for empathy into the pain experienced and insights for channels of healing and hope.

The jurors of the Pennsylvania Grand Jury offered the word “hope” in acknowledging one bishop who responded to their requests for an interview. They write on page 305: “We commend Bishop Persico for acknowledging past abuse, unmasking the abusers, and encouraging accountability. In his testimony we find hope.” These three actions commended by our fellow citizens served as a guide for the bishops in the State of Texas when we were meeting to discuss the crisis in September 2018. At that meeting we committed that on or before January 31, 2019 we would publish the names of priests credibly accused of sexually abusing a minor.

Following the example of Bishop Persico the Diocese of Victoria is publishing a list, and I will be available for interviews by local media and organizations. Each of these actions is with the prayer that God bring healing and hope to deep wounds.

May God bless you and your families, entrusting our hearts to the Sacred Heart of Jesus and the Immaculate Heart of Mary

Let’s keep one another in prayer,

Bishop Brendan J. Cahill, S.T.D.

Queridos Hermanos y Hermanas,

Después de una revisión exhaustiva de los archivos por parte de un partido independiente, estoy publicando los nombres de los sacerdotes que han servido en la Diócesis de Victoria y que han sido acusados creíblemente de abusar sexualmente de un menor. Los escándalos que se han desarrollado en la Iglesia desde el verano pasado han sido una fuente de gran dolor, enojo y vergüenza. He escuchado historias personales de sobrevivientes del abuso del clero, leído muchos artículos y libros sobre el tema del abuso sexual del clero, yorado a Dios por empatía hacia el dolor experimentado y también por puntos de vista sobre los canales de curación y esperanza.

Los jurados del Gran Jurado de Pensilvania ofrecieron la palabra “esperanza” al reconocer a un obispo que respondió a sus solicitudes de entrevista. Escriben en la página 305: “Felicitamos al Obispo Persico por reconociendo los abusos cometidos en el pasado, desenmascarando a los abusadores y alentando la responsabilidad. En su testimonio encontramos esperanza”. Estas tres acciones encomendadas por nuestros conciudadanos sirvieron como un guía para los obispos en el Estado de Texas cuando nos reunimos para discutir la crisis en septiembre de 2018. En esa reunión nos comprometimos que en o antes del 31 de enero de 2019, publicaríamos los nombres de los sacerdotes acusados creíblemente de abusar sexualmente de un menor.

Siguiendo el ejemplo del Obispo Persico, la Diócesis de Victoria está publicando una lista, y estará disponible para entrevistas de los medios locales y organizaciones. Cada una de estas acciones es con la oración que Dios traiga sanidad y esperanza a heridas profundas. Que Dios los bendiga a usted y a sus familias, confiando nuestros corazones al Sagrado Corazón de Jesús y al Inmaculado Corazón de María.

Mantengamos uno al otro en oración,

Obispo Brendan J. Cahill, S.T.D.

Texas Dioceses Name Clergy with Credible Allegations of Sex Abuse

By James Ramos
Catholic News Service

HOUSTON (CNS) — In a step to restore trust in the Catholic Church, dioceses in Texas released their lists of priests against whom credible allegations of sexual abuse of a minor have been determined.

The 15 dioceses disclosed January 31 the names of 278 individual clerics who have such credible allegations in Texas. The statewide disclosure removed duplication of clerics who appear on multiple diocesan lists and non-clergy, such as religious brothers.

The Diocese of Fort Worth, which made public its list in 2007, has continued to update its disclosure on its website. It identifies 15 priests, one permanent deacon and one religious brother.

Archbishop Gustavo García-Siller of San Antonio repeatedly called the release “the just and right thing to do,” and that it is a “move forward in building a healthier community, a healthier society.”

The lists were compiled separately by each individual diocese. Many dioceses worked in cooperation with diocesan lay review boards, with some also working with independent consultants.

The release includes the Galveston-Houston and San Antonio archdioceses and the Austin, Amarillo, Beaumont, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Laredo, Lubbock, San Angelo, Tyler and Victoria dioceses. The oldest diocese is Galveston-Houston, established in 1847, with San Antonio founded next in 1874. Since 1950 nine additional dioceses have been established, resulting in a total of 15 dioceses.

Laredo is the most recent to be established, that being in 2000.

Each diocese worked with the general understanding that a “credible allegation” is one that, after reviewing reasonably available and relevant information, and in consultation with diocesan lay review boards and/or other professionals, the diocese has reason to believe is true.

Cardinal Daniel N. DiNardo of Galveston-Houston, president of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops, extended his “deepest regret for the harm that has been done,” a sentiment echoed by bishops interviewed by the Texas Catholic Herald, newspaper of the Archdiocese of Galveston-Houston.

While each diocese prepared its list independently, Archbishop Garcia-Siller said the goal of releasing the lists on the same day was significant and was done in consideration of all those affected by the abuse including abuse survivors, family members, friends and parishioners.

There are more than 8.5 million Catholics in Texas, and more than 1,320 parishes in the 15 dioceses.

“Our hope is that acknowledging our past and demonstrating our accountability can bring healing and hope to deep wounds,” Bishop Brendan J. Cahill of Victoria said.

The dioceses used 1950 as the starting point for its lists to be consistent with the 2004 study by the John Jay College of Criminal Justice of the City University of New York that surveyed the nature and scope of the sexual abuse of minors by Catholic priests and deacons. The study covered the period of 1950 to 2002.
Publication of Names of Clergy Credibly Accused of Sexually Abusing a Minor

To: Parishes and Members of the Roman Catholic Church in the Diocese of Victoria in Texas

From: Bishop Brendan J. Cahill

Re: Publication of the names of Roman Catholic clergy against whom credible allegations have been made that they committed sexual abuse of minors

In conformance with Bishop Cahill’s desire to encourage accountability in the Church, the governance of the Diocese of Victoria and for the spiritual good and assistance of victims of clerical sexual abuse of minors, the Diocese of Victoria is publishing the names of Roman Catholic clergy against whom credible allegations of sexual abuse of a minor have been made.

Definition of Credible Allegation

This list includes only priests and religious who served in the Diocese of Victoria and who have been credibly accused of committing sexual abuse of minors within the Diocese of Victoria. A “credible allegation” is one that the bishop determines there is reason to believe is true after review of reasonably available, relevant information in consultation with the Diocesan Review Board or other professionals.

A determination that an allegation against a member of the clergy is credible and, therefore, should be published, is not equivalent to a finding by a judge or jury that the cleric is liable for sexual abuse of a minor under civil law or has committed criminal sexual abuse of a minor under the Texas Penal Code unless specifically indicated below.

Important Information about the formation of the Diocese of Victoria and the geographical boundaries of the Diocese of Victoria

Prior to the formation of the Diocese of Victoria on April 13, 1982, the geographical boundaries that now compose the Diocese of Victoria were parts of three different archdioceses/dioceses. All of the parishes of the El Campo, Schulenburg and Victoria deaneries and the former Hallettsville deanery (with the exception of St. James Parish, Gonzales; Sacred Heart Mission, Gonzales; and St. Patrick Mission, Waelder) were part of the Archdiocese of San Antonio. The Holy Cross Parish, Bay City and its mission, Sacred Heart, Wadsworth; Our Lady of Guadalupe Parish, Bay City; Holy Cross Parish, East Bernard; St. John the Baptist Parish, Hungerford; Holy Family Parish, Wharton and its mission St. Joseph, Boling; and Our Lady of Mount Carmel Parish, Wharton were part of the Diocese of Galveston-Houston. Immaculate Conception Parish, Goliad, and the missions of Immaculate Heart of Mary, Berclair; Our Lady of Guadalupe, Charco; Our Lady of Assumption, Fannin (all three no longer open); and the old Franciscan Presidio La Bahia, Our Lady of Loreto, Goliad were part of the Diocese of Corpus Christi. In addition, in December of 1989 the following parishes entered the Diocese of Victoria from the Diocese of Austin: Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish and Our Lady of Guadalupe Parish, Eagle Lake; Sts. Peter and Paul Parish, Freelsburg; and St. Roch Parish, Mentz. On March 1, 1995, Our Lady of Perpetual Help and Our Lady of Guadalupe were joined and merged. The parish was named The Parish of the Nativity.

The names of any priests and religious who served in any of the above parishes prior to the parish joining the Diocese of Victoria who have been credibly accused of committing sexual abuse of minors will appear on the list of the respective archdiocese/diocese to which the parish belonged at the time the events leading to the individual being credibly accused occurred.

Members of the clergy who served in the Diocese of Victoria against whom allegations of sexual abuse of minors have been made but whose names do not appear on the list

The Diocese of Victoria has made a diligent effort to include the names of all clergy against whom credible allegations of sexual abuse of minors within the Diocese of Victoria have been made. There have been instances where allegations have been made against a member of the clergy but have been determined not credible, not involving a minor, or not committed in the Diocese of Victoria. The names of members of the clergy who fall into these category are not listed.

It is possible that there are members of the clergy that have committed sexual abuse against a minor in the Diocese of Victoria, but whose names do not appear on the list because the abuse was never reported to the Diocese of Victoria. Any person with knowledge of a member of diocesan clergy whose name is not on the list, and who allegedly committed sexual abuse of a minor within the Diocese of Victoria, should report such allegations to local law enforcement agency and, if the victim is still a minor, to Child Protective Services. Additionally, the individual can also report the allegations to Vicki Pyatt, Coordinator of Pastoral Care and Outreach by calling (361) 827-7186. The Diocese of Victoria will promptly investigate the allegations.

SAN ANTONIO—Alois J. Goertz was born on March 7, 1924, in Red Rock, Texas, the third of twelve children born to Rudolph and Hettie Goertz. He passed away on Sunday, January 20, 2019, in San Antonio.

In 1937, at the age of thirteen, Alois answered the call of God and left his home to travel for the first time outside of Bastrop County to San Antonio to attend St. John’s Seminary to study for the priesthood. In May of 1948, after eleven years at St. John’s, he was ordained a priest and celebrated his first Mass in Rockne in which he remembered his mother who had passed away in January of that year.

Msgr. Goertz’s (or Father Goertz as he preferred to be called) priestly ministry covered many areas, however, parish ministry was uppermost for him and what he enjoyed the greatest. His was a ministry of service and he is remembered by many for the way he diligently and spiritually served his parishioners. He began his ministry at St. Michael in Weimar, in 1948. His work took him to many parishes, including those in Hallettsville, New Braunfels, Victoria, San Antonio, Nada, Cairn City, Converse, and ended as Pastor of St. Ann’s in La Vernia, in 1995. In 1965, upon the request of the Archbishop, he became the director of Campus Ministry at San Antonio College which over several years he built into the organization that today is a focal point for campus ministry at colleges and universities within the Archdiocese of San Antonio.

Father Goertz is survived by eight of his eleven siblings and extended family.

The funeral took place at Sacred Heart Church in Rockne.

Donations may be made to a charity of choice or the Padua Place, 80 Peter Baque Rd, San Antonio, TX 78209.
Sisterly Thoughts

Hope for the Future

I am very optimistic about the future of our Church. Why? Because I have seen so many examples of the goodness of so many young people. For example, I had just returned from a weekend on which I had been on the staff of a Life Awareness Retreat for single young Catholics. Imagine a group of young people giving up several days (with no phones or other electronic devices) to attend a whole weekend in a spiritual setting! These young people were discerning how they were being called to follow Jesus. They were quite serious about making a difference in the Church. Some of them came out of curiosity; saying that they didn’t know any Brothers or Sisters so they wanted to meet real-life Brothers and Sisters. Others were at various stages on their faith journeys.

Some of the young men were exploring the priesthood and seeking clarity on their possible calling to this state of life; others had thought about their baptismal call to serve the Church since they were very young. Still, others who felt confused about their future role in the church wanted to check out priesthood or religious life before they committed themselves to marriage. They realize that if they failed to check it out before marriage, they might end up being tempted to say, “Maybe I should have become a priest or religious” especially during the rough times which can test us in any state of life. Most of these young people will eventually feel called to the sacrament of Matrimony in which they will become faith-filled spouses and parents, keeping Christ at the center of their loving families. Others may feel God nudging them to the single state in which their example and service enrich the Church community. If all these young people are open to the graces that are showered upon them, they will have been strengthened by the experience that they have received from events such as these.

Yes, I am very optimistic about the future of the Church, after having experienced such generous young people. Moreover, my optimism is confirmed when I hear, see, or read about numerous youth in events such as World Youth Days, Marches for Life, service trips and projects, and various activities sponsored by churches, schools, and civic groups.

Let us compliment and encourage our young people for their strong spiritual outlook on life. And let us appreciate our own parents for having put up with (or enduring) our growing pains - our loud music, our sense of clothing styles, our different ideas, and our testing of limits - when we were the hope for future generations.

Yes, there is hope for the future.

“I am the servant of the Lord. May it be done to me according to your word.” (Lk 1:38)
CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

By Dr. John Quary, Superintendent of Catholic Schools

Picture a simpler time … decades ago. The Roman Catholic Church was led by Pope St. Paul VI, who reminded us, “If you want peace, work for justice.” The cost of a gallon of gas was $0.42. A postage stamp was only a dime. “I Love,” by Tom T. Hall was the song of the year. Super Bowl VIII was won by the Miami Dolphins. A new speed limit of 55 mph was imposed. Daylight Saving Time was introduced. The Sears Tower of Chicago became the world’s tallest building! The Academy Award for Best Picture went to “The Sting.” The number one selling car in America was the Ford Pinto, which sold for $2,292! Americans watched “The Waltons” and “The Six Million Dollar Man.” And, finally, the National Catholic Educational Association debuted its Catholic Schools Week celebration! The year was 1974! Forty-five years later, we are still carrying on that decades-long tradition, as we recall the recent Catholic Schools Week of 2019!

As you have probably already heard, our annual observance of Catholic Schools Week for 2019 took place from January 27-February 2. Millions of Catholic school students around the nation took part in all kinds of special Masses and events, service projects, and fun treats. Still, at the heart of this week-long celebration was the focus on the enduring value of Catholic education and the gift it provides to America’s young people. During Catholic Schools Week, we reached out to the entire national community to build awareness of what our schools offer and why they are a valuable investment in our children’s and our nation’s future. We also thanked those who work hard every day to make our schools excellent: students, families, faculties, staffs, volunteers, community supporters, and local and national leaders.

One of the most important roles of all families — Church, school, and home — is preparing young people for fulfilling lives of love and service to their families, their communities, and the world at large. That is why the 2019 Catholic Schools Week theme is fitting as it provides active words to tell our Catholic school story. “Catholic Schools: Learn. Serve. Lead. Succeed.” underscores the long-standing tradition of Catholic education to instill in students the faith, knowledge, confidence, service, and self-discipline that will enable them to successfully take their rightful place in the future. All of these principles are important in building a life worthy to be a follower of Christ, especially “service to others.” According to St. Mark 10:45, “For whoever wants to save his life, will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and for the gospel, will save it.”

Turn Words into Vocabulary Fun

The show, Venture Into Vocabulary, with Nancy Peters was born from an idea. Ingra Sparkman, the founder of South Bridge Street Live (SBSL) and the Assistant Editor of Victoria In Motion magazine, wanted to add something new to her online media programming and thought sharing a vocabulary word of the day and featuring teachers from the area would be something educational and fun. When Nancy and Ingra met on this idea, magic happened. Mrs. Peters shared, “I knew it would be a challenge but meaningful to the community.”

South Bridge Street Live is a non-profit media programming incorporation hosted exclusively by philanthropic community partners, whose interest is solely to provide inspirational, educational and uplifting content through social media.

Airing on Mondays, Venture Into Vocabulary shares five words for the week including spelling, definition, synonym, antonym and using them in a sentence. Most importantly, the show is designed to make learning new words fun. Mrs. Peters shares, “This is a fun way for families to help each other learn new words. Parents can make it a game and using them at home helps families to connect in a fun way. Ideally, learning new words will also help students from grades 5-12 prepare for standardized testing.”

In October of 2018, the first episode of the Teacher Feature aired. Each week Mrs. Peters highlights one amazing educator in the Crossroads. The one question that she gets most often is can you nominate a teacher. The answer is “YES!” Just leave your nomination on the SBSL page. Having interacted for so many years with students herself, she shares, “During every interview, you can see each teacher’s passion for educating and the love they have for their students. The time spent in preparation, buying things for the classroom and working with the students is an act of love. Seeing a child’s eyes light up with understanding motivates and energizes a teacher. Teaching is not for everyone; it requires far more knowledge, time, expertise, patience and management skills than most people realize. Dealing with so many personalities and moods in the classroom each day takes a special person.”

Recently, Dr. John Quary, Superintendent of Catholic Schools, joined Mrs. Peters on the Teacher Feature, where he shared some of his experiences as a teacher in Los Angeles. He ruminated about Catholic education and shared how his mother was a big influence and reason why he went into education.

You can watch Nancy Peters Venture Into Vocabulary and Teacher Feature on SBSL YouTube and Facebook page. Want a little extra Happy Dust? The show’s sponsor THE BOX COFFEE BAR offers 10% off your drink order if you know one of the words of the week from Venture Into Vocabulary.

Nancy Peters has 45 years experience in teaching and has taught in the states of Michigan, Florida, and Texas. In Texas, 35 years of those years were at St. Joseph High School, in Victoria. She has taught, English grades 7-12, journalism, yearbook, newspaper, speech, world history, French, sociology, psychology, speed-reading, and reading improvement.

During her years at St. Joseph High School, the yearbooks received national recognition and awards on numerous occasions. Mrs. Peters was invited to present for a number of years at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association (CSPA) spring conferences held at Columbia University. She was also a member of the Board of Judges for CSPA where she critiqued yearbooks from around the country. From presenting and critiquing she learned that those attending the conference were so eager to learn and grateful for new ideas and guidance.

For 29 years, her STJ students wrote and published books that were displayed at the group authors’ party for family and friends to view. These books helped, touched lives and continue to be keepsakes for students and families alike. Her love of working with students is obvious by her dedication to teaching and a positive attitude.

Nancy Peters left St. Joseph in 2017, and is currently teaching home school students, tutoring, and is the host of two shows, Venture Into Vocabulary and Teacher Feature, that air weekly presented by South Bridge Street Live, on Facebook.

Catholic Education
A Gift

Even the Son of Man came not to be served, but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many.” Now, more than ever, a Catholic education is truly an investment in service to the future that is worth the consideration of every family.

Almost 3,000 students in the fifteen schools of the Diocese of Victoria joined millions of students, parents, supporters and school families around the nation to celebrate this 45-year tradition established by our National Catholic Educational Association. Our diocesan schools planned special Masses, fun activities, themed days, family luncheons, service projects, and so much more to spotlight Catholic schools throughout our communities that are continuing to provide a F.I.R.S.T.-Class education... for life!!

February ~ The Blessing of New Life

Birth is an elusive mystery: an everyday occurrence in nature and rural life that is marvelous to behold. Its wonder and splendor bring a gift of innocence and hope. In a moment of revelation, we are privileged to witness or perhaps assist in the birth of God’s creation into the world. Hand in hand with the Creator, we grasp the rhythm of new life, new breath, and new hope.

Let us pray. God our Creator bless the fresh born creatures of our land and oversee their needs with attentive care. Bear them into this life as the continuing newness of creation and your faithful cycle of promise and hope.

As you imbue them with the breath of life, breathe the freshness of your Spirit into our labored lungs.

In this same way, we ask you to bless all mothers and fathers for their sacrifice of love in your creative partnership, in bringing forth your love enfleshed in new life, through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Students Donate their Gifts to Project

The third graders from Nazareth Academy, Victoria, visited the Gabriel Project storage and office facility in December 2018. These little ones decided not to exchange Christmas gifts among themselves this year but give to the Gabriel Project and the future “Bethlehem Maternity Home.”

They marveled at the fetal models and life. Barbara McCain Williams, founder/co-founder, told them a story of how life begins utilizing the fetal models. They took a tour of the storage which houses all Gabriel Project’s baby/mother items. Barbara explain that the items they brought for Baby Jesus’ Birthday would be used to help a mom and her baby.

One little boy asked if he could bring more to the storage for the babies!

Present were third graders, April Buzzell, room mom; Amy Alegria and Yolanda Hernandez, teachers at Nazareth Academy, Sister Amata Hollas, IWBS, and member of the board of directors, Gabriel Project; Stefani Spears, hotline coordinator and board of directors member; Michelle Babb, storage room coordinator; Sherry Wilson, answers hotline and member of the board of directors; and Fred Williams, President of the board of directors.

NEW CHRISTIAN STORE OPENS — Ellie Mejia opened Elie’s Heavenly Christian Gifts on December 20, 2018, located at 2525 N. Laurent, Victoria. They have Christian oriented merchandise, sacramental items and much more. The Bible Word Search puzzle books, published by Ellie, have been the best sellers at the store. Every other month the Catholic Lighthouse publishes these puzzles in English or Spanish (see page 18). They celebrated a ribbon cutting and grand opening on January 18, 2019, and were honored to have Bishop Brendan Cahill bless the store on January 25, 2019.

The following sermon was written by Father Charles Kram for the Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Cycle B

First impressions are usually lasting. Meeting someone for the first time or hearing him speak, gives us an option of him, which may be quite hard to shake. A spellbinding speaker can lead his listeners in almost any direction.

Jesus was tremendously impressive in his day. He spoke with authority. He had power over demons and diseases. He was able to control the winds and the waves.

Now, 2000 years later, he still attracts millions to follow him and dedicate their lives to him.

But now, as long ago, Jesus never forces anyone. He respects our freedom. Anyone who is a follower of Jesus is one because he has freely chosen it.

I am sure that everyone present knows at least in general what the Lord expects of us—to love God above all things and to love one’s neighbor as one’s self.

And this includes leading a moral life, praying regularly, taking part in public worship, receiving the sacraments, helping those in need, being considerate of the feelings of others.

Are you ever annoyed with people who call or visit at inconvenient times or who tell you the same old boring stories again and again? Are you disappointed at the dishonesty of persons who impose on you or borrow from you and then ignore you? Are you turned off by zealous fellow Christians who ask you whether you are saved or why you don’t believe as they do?

When Jesus told us to love one another as He has loved us, He was telling us to see Him in every fellow human being, unconditionally. We are endowed with free will, so we have the power to choose freely for or against. Love and forgiveness are in the will. Thus we can love without liking and forgive without forgetting, and this certainly covers much of what it means to live as a Christian.

So, today is a fine day for all of us to rejoice at having Jesus as our Master, and to rededicate ourselves to Him wherever He may be.

Lord Jesus, thank you for the blessing of letting us be known by the name of Christian. Help us, with every passing day, to become a little more worthy to be numbered among your faithful followers.

Grant that, through your authority and help, we too may be able to gain victory over every evil spirit and over every adversity. Amen.
Making a Difference

After the March for Life – Keep Walking!

By Tony Magliano

In the more than 30 annual Washington, D.C. Marches for Life I have participated in, I always think the current march is the largest ever. But since accurate figures are hard to come by, it usually comes down to taking a good guess.

But a 60-second time-lapse video produced by Students for Life of America clearly reveals, regardless of the exact number, that this year’s March flowed on and on (check it out [https://bit.ly/2Hu3sC2]).

It’s heartening to see that lots of people care. But do we really care enough? As important as they are, the annual Washington March for Life, Walk for Life West Coast, Midwest March for Life (Feb. 2) and dozens of similar events at state capitols throughout the U.S., are simply not enough.

I remember some years ago, just before our bus left for the March for Life, a well-meaning priest congratulated us for doing our yearly duty to protest abortion and protect unborn life. While he certainly meant well, he didn’t quite grasp the horrific reality that the approximate 900,000 brutal abortions each year in the U.S. (see: [https://bit.ly/2snR4vE]), and the estimated 56 million annual abortions worldwide (see: [https://bit.ly/2R6xsDr])—urgently requires various efforts throughout the entire year.

While many marchers actively work to end abortion and support women in difficult pregnancies throughout the year, many do not.

Years ago, the late Nellie Gray, who founded the March for Life, told me that if just Catholics alone tirelessly stood up and demanded an end to abortion, it would end! But sadly, we are not paying enough attention to this tragedy. Perhaps after all these years of legalized abortion, we have gotten somewhat used to it.

Homilists rarely rally us around the plight of our tiny unborn brethren— or for that matter the plight of our war-torn, hungry, poor, homeless, migrant, sick sisters and brothers, and the environmentally wounded planet we all share.

Abortion centers have very few people, and often no one, standing in peaceful, prayerful witness on behalf of the unborn babies being killed within these so-called clinics.

Education at all levels regarding the barbaric reality of abortion (see: [http://www.abortionno.org/]), and the miraculous wonder of human development from the moment of conception onward (see: [http://bit.ly/1XezTp2]) is not sufficiently happening. Legislators are not being swamped throughout the year with phone calls, email and text messages insisting that they pass legislation to protect the most vulnerable human beings among us.

We absolutely need to put political pressure on our elected officials to do the morally right thing. For as the saying goes and is true in most cases, “Politicians don’t see the light until they feel the heat.” We need to turn up the heat!

Even new born infants are less vulnerable than unborn babies, for it is a rare person who will murder the helpless baby he or she can see.

But in this case there is light at the end of the tunnel. A wonderful international effort by the Knights of Columbus has provided 1,000 ultrasound machines to pregnancy centers and pro-life health clinics throughout the U.S. and in several countries, thus allowing mothers and fathers to see their miraculous unborn babies (see: [https://bit.ly/2QIVtjX]).

We would do well to walk in the footsteps of the nonviolent Jesus and his early followers, proclaiming in word and deed that no life is disposable, and that every person is a beloved child of the God of life!

Spirit in the Wind Presents Fr. Rolheiser

Spirit in the Wind Ministry presents Father Ronald Rolheiser, March 29-31, at the Spiritual Renewal Center, in Victoria. The retreat begins Friday evening and ends with lunch on Sunday. It is open to men, women, and couples. The theme for this retreat is Moving from Goodwill to Grace – The Struggle to Overcome Our Congenital Bad Habits, Addictions, and Reticence in Our Lives.

The good I want to do, I can’t do, and the evil I want to avoid, I end up doing. St. Paul uses those words to describe his own struggle and the struggle of all of us. We can’t stop ourselves from being overwhelmed at times by weakness, anger, jealousy, obsessions, paranoia, bitterness, and the need to retaliate and take revenge. We will get the good, but often can’t do it. Like St. Augustine, we often say: “Lord, I want to change all of this in my life, but not yet!” How do we move beyond the frustration of trying to live by willpower to being empowered by God’s grace?

Father Rolheiser, a member of the Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate, is President of the Oblate School of Theology in San Antonio. He has been at Oblate School of Theology since 2005. For additional information on Father Rolheiser visit his website at www.ronrolheiser.com.

The retreat cost is $230 per person which includes all meals and lodging. Space is limited and will be reserved in the order deposits are received ($50/non-refundable). The balance is due March 1. Financial assistants are available. Make checks payable to Spirit Wind Ministry and mail to: Susan Oakley, 103 Woodmere, Victoria, TX 77904. Please include your name, address, telephone number and email address with your deposit. For additional information contact Susan Oakley at (361) 649-6391 or email: smoak53@msn.com.

Do you have any plans for this Lent?

We frequently hear the question “Do you have any plans for Lent?” What is your answer concerning Lent? Why not join a Disciples on the Journey small group to share faith using the Lenten Sunday Readings? You do not have to be an expert or have any knowledge about Scripture to participate. This is not a Bible study but simply sharing the faith. All you need is an open heart and a desire to grow in your personal relationship with God.

Msgr. Thomas J. Morgan from Our Sunday Visitor has this to say about how small groups promote conversion and transformation: “Faith sharing in a small group is the key to personal conversion. This is the place where we connect our individual stories with the Bible story just read. Here we connect our faith with our everyday life experiences. Here we connect with our hearts where God abides.” He goes on to say that the small group experience empowers people to change their way of thinking, their way of believing, their way of acting. The group spiritual energy is what leads to a change in values and behavior. Truly, a unique and special process emerges from listening and sharing.

The Sisters of the Incarnate Word and Blessed Sacrament invite each of you to join a faith sharing group in your parish or to form your own group this coming Lent using Disciples on the Journey Lent 2019. This may be the best decision you will ever make.

Early Years

In June of 1939, Nicholas and Annie Grafe Grahmann welcomed their seventh child, a son, into the world. Two days later I was baptized in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, in Hallettsville, Texas, and given the name Jerome Joseph. Thus, I was welcomed into the world of Christianity.

My parents married in 1924. My dad played the accordion for house dances and I presume that’s where he met my mother. They lived in Hallettsville all their lives.

What a life that was. We lived on a farm and my mother was the farmer. My dad worked as a carpenter to support their growing family, which grew to eleven children. We all attended Sacred Heart Catholic School, in Hallettsville. Often times we paid the tuition with things from the garden or the farm and in the winter with wood for the wood stoves in the school. Life on the farm meant a lot of work – chickens, hogs, cows needed tending to every day and during the spring and summer there were crops to be planted, and later harvested by hand. When we had finished with our crops we helped relatives and neighbors, earning money to help support our family.

My German Heritage

All of my grandparents came to Texas from Germany and settled in Hallettsville, bringing their Catholic faith with them. My parents always had a soft spot in their hearts for their Catholic Church. Their oldest son, James, joined the Christian Brothers. Their two oldest daughters, Sister Anastasia and Sister Sylvia, joined the order of Incarnate Word and Blessed Sacrament nuns, in Victoria. Their second son, Charles became a priest and was the first bishop of the Diocese of Victoria, and later the bishop of Dallas. The priest and was the first bishop of the Diocese of Victoria. My Role in the Church

The Second Vatican Council had recently ended, and the era of greater lay involvement in the church had begun. Some of these changes included: parish councils were formed and lay readers and cantors became a part of Sunday liturgies. I was one of the first groups of cantors and readers for Sacred Heart Parish and I served on the first parish council. I also really enjoyed assisting with the different ministries in the church. I loved singing in the choir but my favorite ministry was RCIA(Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults), helping people to know what it meant to be Catholic. I taught many people who still call to ask questions or just chat about the time when they were in RCIA.

In 1969, after eight years at Otto Goedecke Inc., we moved to El Camino, Texas, to begin a new job setting up a computer system for a children’s clothing manufacturing company. When we moved to El Camino I became involved as a cantor, a reader, and an ordinary minister of the Eucharist, at St. Philip the Apostle. Evelyn and I took communion to those who could not come to church for many years. When the Administrative board of St. Philip was formed, I became its first president and remained on the board until I was ordained to the Permanent Diaconate.

Current Service

In 1998, I went to work for Baker Hughes in Sugar Land and retired in 2011. I currently serve the church in various committees and ministries including teaching RCIA, bringing Holy Communion to the sick on First Fridays, and assisting at two Masses on most Sundays and Holy Days. I am also involved in wake services, funerals, wedding preparation, and weddings.

I am honored to be a member of the Knights of Columbus Third and Fourth Degrees, and of the Knights of St. Gregory, to which I was named in 1986, by Pope Saint John Paul II.

When I am not involved in church activity I spend time at our ranch in Hallettsville, tending to the cattle and enjoying the peace and quiet of nature.

Our Children

Evelyn and I have four children and two grandchildren. Our oldest, Caroline is married to Jeff Gardner and is a member of St. Theresa’s Parish, in Houston. She serves as a lector, a eucharistic minister, and has served on the RCIA team, following in the footsteps of her dad. She is also a member of the school finance committee, the parish finance council and has held many school and parish leadership positions. Our son “Jay” and his wife Tracie have one son, Ty, who is currently in college. They live in El Campo and are members of St. Philip the Apostle Parish. Our son, Jonathan, and his wife Elaine live in Redwood City, California and have one daughter, Caitlin. They attend a Catholic church near their home and are involved in her school community. Our youngest, Kristin, lives part-time in Canyon Lake, Texas and Houston. She is a member of St. Thomas the Apostle Parish, in Canyon Lake.

Religious Vocations in the Family

IV Domingo Ordinario
Segunda Lectura
1 Cor 13, 4-10

Lectura de la primera carta del apóstol san Pablo a los corintios: Hermanos: El amor es comprensivo, el amor es servicial y no tiene envidia; el amor no es presumido ni se envidia; no es grosero ni egoísta; no se irrita ni guarda rencor; no se alegra con la injusticia, sino que goza con la verdad. El amor disculpa sin límites, confía sin límites, espera sin límites, soporta sin límites. 🆘 El amor dura por siempre; en cambio, el don de profecía se acabará; el don de lenguas desaparecerá y el don de ciencia dejará de existir, porque nuestros dones de ciencia y de profecía son imperfectos. Pero cuando llegue la consumación, todo lo imperfecto desaparecerá.

CIUDAD DE PANAMÁ (CNS) — Los jóvenes en la iglesia pueden traer la alegría del Evangelio al mundo al mostrar que el amor de Dios se extiende a todas las personas y no excluye a nadie, dijo el papa Francisco.

“Por sus acciones y su enfoque, su forma de ver las cosas, sus deseos y, sobre todo, su sensibilidad, desacredita y desactiva el tipo de conversación que se pretende en la división de siembras, en excluir o rechazar a quienes no son como nosotros” dijo el papa el 24 de enero durante la ceremonia oficial de bienvenida de la Jornada Mundial de la Juventud en Panamá.

things as a family. We may have raised three daughters but they enjoy the outdoors just as much as we do!”

Reflecting on the retreat, even 10 years later, Kristie explained that the retreat was a time to reflect on their vows. She said, “The vows when you committed to each other as husband and wife, you get to define them into further detail realizing that they have more meaning than just what you recite. The weekend gave us time for each other. We were able to focus on us and to slow down. I remember coming home and feeling so calm. We were able to really communicate with each other. It was nice to communicate with other couples and to know you are not alone. All married couples have struggles at times. It was a time to sit back and figure out how to move forward during these times and how to love and respect each other with a new meaning. Every marriage will not always be wine and roses but this retreat can help you find the little things that matter.”

The concept of the Choosing to Live Our Vows Everyday retreat program is based on what Dr. William Glasser, an internationally known psychiatrist, teacher, and author, refers to as Choice Theory; it also includes the research of Shaunti and Jeff Feldhahn in their books, For Men Only and For Women Only, and draws from the many experiences Father Gary has encountered in his ministry with married couples, as a priest and a licensed professional counselor.

A presenting couple and priest speak on each phrase of the marital vows and invite the couples to explore the deeper meanings and challenges to live out their vows daily. Using the vows of marriage, the couples will practice acceptance of self: I … the gifts and limitations given to us by God, our Creator; and acceptance of one’s spouse: Take you to be … their gifts and limitations as well, recognizing that we shouldn’t expect them to be what we ourselves are not: PERFECT. Using the covenant and sacramentality of marriage, they will look at the role and responsibility of being a Husband/Wife, both publicly and personally, and how that role develops throughout the marriage. As the ongoing ministers of the Sacrament of Matrimony, the couples will consider practical ways of staying True to one another in spite of society’s influence to act selfishly and independently. They will consider how their actions can either build trust, honesty, and faithfulness within their marriage or destroy the foundation through deceit and neglect. All couples experience moments of Good times as well as Bad times. This retreat offers the alternate perspective of seeing the challenges of married life as opportunities to draw closer to God and to one another, learning to find and be thankful for the sacred in the ordinary events of daily life and to draw on God’s gift of sacramental grace during those extraordinarily difficult moments. The couples will be challenged to seek God’s grace in Sickness and in Health, finding the constant of God’s mercy to help them perform heroic acts of love, not only when a spouse is sick, but the same heroic acts of love when they are healthy. And the final challenge the couples will face is the challenge to Love and Honor their spouse All the days of their life. William Glasser’s concept of Choice Theory is introduced at the beginning of the retreat, and the couples are challenged throughout the retreat to choose to love on a daily basis – regardless of whether their spouse is lovable. In the same way, choosing to honor a spouse is about everything done and said concerning them, always acting with respect to who they are, a child of God and your chosen help-mate in life. As a covenant, these vows are meant to be lived EVERYDAY, even and especially, when we would prefer NOT to do so. Living our vows means making the choice to love our spouse everyday of our life.

The Choosing to L.O.V.E. Retreat is only offered in the Diocese of Victoria. In 2018, the retreat expanded to two sites: the El Campo Community, along with Father Michael Rother, holds one retreat at the Baptist Encampment in Palacios and the Victoria Community, along with Father Gary Janak, holds another retreat at the Spiritual Renewal Center south of Victoria. Both celebrated their 24th wedding anniversary. Through her own life experiences, Kristie has valuable advice for married couples. She shared, “Be kind in your words; once spoken, hurtful words cannot be taken back. Always stay in good communication with each other. If you are struggling with something, in your marriage or not, talk to each other. When the other is speaking, just listen at first. Listen and really take to heart what they’ve told you. Remember that both of you have an opinion and sometimes they are not the same. Figure out how to compromise. Realize what is petty and what truly matters. Don’t hold grudges; grudges take away your happiness. Forgiveness is very important. If you find that you are struggling with something in your marriage don’t be afraid to ask for help, whether it’s your priest or counselor. Counseling is wonderful, don’t let your pride get in the way and think you don’t need it. Even good healthy relationships can benefit from counseling. Remember God is the center of your marriage and when you put him first everything goes hand in hand.”
