Joys of My Vocation

By Sarita V. Richmond, Editor

In his Message for the 2019 World Day of Vocations, Pope Francis reflected on the reality that all men are made “bearers of a promise” and are asked to have the “courage to take a risk” with Jesus and for Jesus. The Holy Father emphasized that just as the Lord beckoned Simon and Andrew to leave their nets and follow him, he also asks the same of us. He encounters each of us personally and uniquely, and it is in the midst of this encounter with Christ that Pope Francis says we are granted “the promise of a joy capable of bringing fulfillment to our lives.”

Pope Francis also urged the young people to realize that following Jesus is always worth the risk. “Do not be deaf to the Lord’s call,” he urged. “If he calls you to follow this path, do not pull your oars into the boat, but trust him. Do not yield to fear, which paralyzes us before the great heights to which the Lord points us.

The Diocese of Victoria currently has 12 men studying in the seminary. On May 25, Bishop Brendan Cahill ordained three of these seminarians, Dalton Ervin, James Dvorak, and Chase Goodman. (Photo courtesy of J.W. Harrison)

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Soon after I first received the news that I would become the bishop of the Diocese of Victoria a friend of mine shared with me – “You know, Father Brendan, the parish picnic in Dubina will be in July just after you’re ordained bishop….” I showed up at the Dubina picnic that year while they were having the auction under some beautiful oak trees. I stayed for a little while, had dinner and soon there was some music and dancing outside. A parishioner took the opportunity to show me the painted Church and shared with me some of the history and people of the Catholic Church in that area. As I listened I heard a history of Czech Catholic culture brought to the United States years ago and still alive in changing times.

As the summer is about to begin we enter again into a season of parish picnics and festivals, times to thank God for blessings received and offer prayers for a hopeful future. I’ve been thinking about this season and the deeper meaning of these celebrations as expressions of culture and ways of handing on traditions and values in changing times. Cultural traditions give us the path to preserve what is essential and constantly be open to renewal. In the opening section, the Catechism of the Catholic Church looks to the some of the earliest writings of the Church that speak about the many cultures that received the teaching of Jesus Christ and the Apostles in the first 150 years after the Resurrection of Christ and the Sending of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost.

“172 Through the centuries, in so many languages, cultures, peoples and nations, the Church has constantly confessed this one faith, received from the one Lord, transmitted by one Baptism, and grounded in the conviction that all people have only one God and Father (look at Eph. 4:4-6). St. Irenaeus of Lyons, a witness of this faith, declared:

173 “Indeed, the Church, though scattered throughout the whole world, even to the ends of the earth, having received the faith from the apostles and their disciples. . . guards [this preaching and faith] with care, as dwelling in but a single house, and similarly believes as if having but one soul and a single heart, and preaches, teaches and hands on this faith with a unanimous voice, as if possessing only one mouth.” (Against Heresies 1, 10)

174 “For though languages differ from one another and yet the same faith is delivered to the some of the earliest writings of the Church that speak about the many cultures that received the teaching of Jesus Christ and the Apostles in the first 150 years after the Resurrection of Christ and the Sending of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost. throughout the world, the content of the Tradition is one and the same, the Churches established in Germany have no other faith or Tradition, nor do those of the Iberians, nor those of the Celts, nor those of the East, of Egypt, of Libya, nor those established at the centre of the world…’” (Against Heresies 1, 10). The Church’s message “is true and solid, in which one and the same way of salvation appears throughout the whole world.” (Against Heresies 5, 20)

175 “We guard with care the faith that we have received from the Church, for without ceasing, under the action of God’s Spirit, this deposit of great price, as if in an excellent vessel, is constantly being renewed and causes the very vessel that contains it to be renewed.” (Against Heresies 3, 24)

May the Lord bless you and your families in this summer season with His peace and mercy. Once again I ask that as St. John Paul II encouraged us to pray the Rosary with confidence, we pray with and for one another that we may be faithful to the beautiful truth handed on to us from previous generations.

Una Fe en Muchas Culturas

Queridos Hermanos y Hermanas,

Poco después de recibir por primera vez la noticia de que me convertiría en el obispo de la Diócesis de Victoria, un amigo mío compartió conmigo: “Sabes, Padre Brendan, el picnic de la parroquia en Dubina será en julio, justo después de que seas ordenado como obispo…” Me presenté en el picnic de Dubina ese año mientras tenían la subasta bajo los robles hermosos. Me quedé un rato, tuve la cena, y pronto había música y baile. Un devoto de mi parroquia tomó la oportunidad de mostrarme la Iglesia pintada y compartió conmigo: “Sabes, Padre Brendan, la parroquia de Dubina será en julio, justo después de que seas ordenado como obispo….” 174 “Porque, aunque las lenguas difieren, el contenido de la Tradición es uno e idéntico. Y ni las Iglesias establecidas en Germania tienen otro fe u otra Tradición, ni las que están entre los iberos, ni las que están entre los celtas, ni las de Oriente, de Egipto, de Libia, ni las que están establecidas en el centro del mundo…” (Ibíd.). “El mensaje de la Iglesia es, pues, verídico y sólido, en un vaso excelente, rejuvenece y hace rejuvenecer el vaso mismo que la contiene” (Ibíd., 3,24,1).

El Señor los bendiga a usted y a sus familias en esta temporada de verano con Su paz y misericordia. Una vez más, les pido que, mientras San Juan Pablo II nos animó a rezar el rosario con confianza, oramos unos con otros que sean fieles a la hermosa verdad que nos han transmitido generaciones anteriores.

Happy Father’s Day

God our Father, we give you thanks and praise for fathers young and old. We pray for young fathers, newly embracing their vocation; may they find courage and perseverance to balance work, family and faith in joy and sacrifice.

We pray for our own fathers around the world whose children are lost or suffering; may they know that the God of compassion walks with them in their sorrow.

We pray for men who are not fathers but still mentor and guide us with fatherly love and advice.

We remember fathers, grandfathers, and great-grandfathers who are no longer with us but who live forever in our memory and nourish us with their love.

Letter from the Editor

Dear Lighthouse Readers,

It is with a very full heart that I write to inform you that I am resigning my position as Director of Communications and Editor of The Catholic Lighthouse. I have accepted a Spanish teaching position at St. Joseph High School, in Victoria, for the 2019-2020 school year. I will be taking my love of the Spanish language and culture, and beginning a new journey, as of July 2019.

On November 1, 2015, I became the first Director of Communications for the Diocese of Victoria and the new Editor of The Catholic Lighthouse. It has been an absolute pleasure serving as the editor of The Catholic Lighthouse for 41 issues! Thank you to each person who has been a faithful reader of the Lighthouse!

In 3 years and 7 months I have met so many wonderful people throughout the diocese, visited parishes I didn’t know existed before, and learned so much about communicating our Catholic faith. I have been blessed to work closely and collaborate with Bishop Cahill, Father Gary, the priests and deacons, seminarians, parish and schools, my colleagues at the chancery and so many others throughout the diocese!

God bless each one of you. I will cherish this experience from the bottom of my heart and keep you in my prayers.

FAREWELL TO SISTER LAURA — As a school came to a close, the friends, faculty, and students said farewell to Sister Laura Toman, IWBS, who has spent over 50 years in education. Sister Laura was the principal of Our Lady of Victory (OLV), in Victoria for almost 10 years. Before OLV she served as principal at Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Selma; Sacred Heart, Floresville; St. Michael Cuero; St. Patrick, Dallas; and St. Michael, Weimar.
NAZARETH ACADEMY WINNERS—Catholic Daughters of the Americas Court Holy Family #2665 sponsored their annual Education Contest. Regent, Rosalie Phillips is pictured with the winners from Nazareth Academy at their regular meeting, that was held on April 23.

EL CAMPO—St. Philip Catholic School is proud to announce that seventh-grade student Grace S. is among the students being honored by the Duke University Talent Identification Program (Duke TIP) for their exceptional scores on the ACT or SAT. Grace qualified for State Recognition, earning an award by scoring approximately at or above the national average of recent high school graduates on at least one part of the SAT or ACT.

The Duke University Talent Identification Program is a nonprofit organization dedicated to serving academically gifted and talented students. As a global leader in gifted education, Duke TIP works with students, their families, and educators to identify, recognize, challenge, engage, and support gifted youth in reaching their highest potential. Now in its thirty-ninth year, the 7th Grade Talent Search identifies bright seventh graders who have scored at or above the 95th percentile on a grade-level standardized test. Candidates are invited to take the ACT or the SAT college entrance exams as seventh graders, which allows them greater insight into their academic abilities. In addition, they gain valuable benefits and have access to unique resources for gifted students. Duke TIP then hosts annual recognition ceremonies to honor the seventh graders who scored the highest on these ACT or SAT exams. For more information on the 7th Grade Talent Search, please visit www.tip.duke.edu.

In addition to Grace S., St. Philip Catholic School is proud to announce that seventh-grade students Grace A., Emily G., Owen R., Slade S., Sarah S., and Kayden Z. were also part of the Duke TIP program this year. They too scored at or above the 95th percentile on their grade-level standardized test scores and took either the SAT or ACT this school year in order to more accurately gauge their academic abilities and potential. They will also receive a variety of support services and gain access to research and other information about using their academic abilities more effectively. Congratulations to each of these students!

PRINCIPAL FOR THE DAY—Principal Inez Kucera welcomed “the Principal for a Day” at Holy Cross School, in Bay City. The young principal worked hard taking care of the school and its students. She checked the calendar to see what was planned for her day, visited the teacher’s lounge for breakfast, and stopped by to pray with the Pre-K3 class.

8TH GRADERS RECEIVE BISHOP’S AWARD—Congratulations to the one hundred forty-nine 8th grade students throughout the Diocese of Victoria who completed the criteria to receive the Bishop’s Award. They received the prestigious Bishop’s Award on April 25, at the Cathedral of Our Lady of Victory. These students earned this award by learning 10 prayers by memory, scoring at least an 85% on the Diocesan Test of Christian Doctrine, completing at least 15 hours of service and fulfilling other criteria. In his homily Bishop Cahill mentioned one of Pope Francis’ letters that challenges us to live the gospel. He told the congregation and the students receiving the awards, “Dare to be different. Testify everyday to the beautiful in your life. You have hopefully come to realize that under everything God has created, is beauty. The people in your life are the most beautiful.” To see the photo album go to www.victoriadiocese.org/photoalbums/2019-bishops-awards.

Family Rosary Announces Winners
“Try Prayer! It Works!” Contest

Thirty-eight students named first-place winners, two from Sacred Heart Catholic School, Hallettsville 6th graders, Caleb B. and Kaycee S. placed first in the poetry category.

EASTON, Mass.—Family Rosary announces the winners of the 21st annual “Try Prayer! It works!” Contest, which encourages students to express their faith through art, poetry and prose.

The Try Prayer! It works! Contest focuses on family faith enrichment in the home. The goal is to bring the Church’s teachings to life around the dinner table with discussion prompts, reflection questions, prayer ideas and creativity.

Each year, children and teens from Catholic schools, parishes and other Catholic organizations across the globe utilize their creative skills to illustrate a different faith-based theme. Students from Kindergarten through 12th grade creatively depicted in various forms how their families are united through prayer and faith.

This year’s theme, Mary, Mother of the Church, helped families explore how Mary isn’t only the Mother of Jesus, but also Mother to us all. Our Blessed Mother’s important role in the Church flows from her deep connection with her Son and from there into every home.

The Bible shows how Mary is a Mother from when she’s first introduced in The Annunciation (Luke 1:26-38). Her “Yes” to God to be Jesus’ mom is a perfect model of what it means to have strong faith even when something unexpected happens.

In addition to the “Try Prayer! It Works!” contest in the United States, separate competitions are conducted in Mexico, East Africa, West Africa, Bangladesh, Brazil, India, France, Chile, Peru and the Philippines.

Entries are judged on content, ability to capture and interpret the theme, artistic and technical proficiency, and adherence to rules.

In the United States, winners are chosen from four categories: Art, Poetry, Prose and Video. Each winner is awarded $100 U.S., while the sponsoring organization earns $100 U.S. All the teachers involved are given a memento and each student who participated get a Certificate of Appreciation.

Family Rosary was founded in 1942 by Father Patrick Peyton, C.S.C., who was declared Venerable in December 2017. The “Try Prayer! It Works!” contest derives its name from an experience in his life. While a seminarian, Venerable Peyton was stricken with severe tuberculosis. At one point, a frustrated physician said, “Try prayer! We have done all we can for you.” Venerable Peyton prayed his Rosary to the Blessed Mother and he made a miraculous recovery, which he attributed entirely to Mary’s intercession.

This experience – coupled with his spiritually rich family life as a youth in Ireland – inspired Venerable Peyton to devote his life to Mary, Mother of God, and to the spiritual well-being of the family. His famous phrase, “The Family That Prays Together Stays Together,” still resonates today.

In the spirit of its founder, Venerable Patrick Peyton, Family Rosary serves Jesus Christ and his Church by inspiring, promoting and fostering the prayer life and spiritual well-being of families throughout the world. Faithful to Mary, the Mother of God, Family Rosary encourages family prayer, especially the Rosary. For more information, call (800) 299-7729 or visit www.FamilyRosary.org.
Lessons From A Garden

One of our Sisters at Incarnate Word Convent has an outdoor plaque that reads, “Life begins the day you plant a garden- Old Chinese Proverb”. When I first saw it, I thought, “That’s interesting; didn’t the story of our life, our life of salvation, begin in a garden?” Moreover, gardens, and nature in general, have been a rich manifestation of God’s power and existence throughout the ages.

A garden has many lessons to teach us. Every time I see a butterfly fluttering around, I am reminded of how life is not ended for caterpillars but transformed into the beautiful creature that we all admire. What a beautiful image of our own death and eternal life! Also, at this time of the year, the lush growth and the lilting voices of the songbird echo the alleluias that resound throughout all Christiandom during the joyful post-Easter season. The awe-inspiring evening sunsets, the early-morning dew-covered blossoms, the gentle invigorating breeze, and the soft patterning of raindrops are all aspects of nature that speak of God’s goodness.

There is something genuine about all the activities in a garden. Plants and animals all function in the manner for which they are created. Deception is a human action which can poison our view of life. Unfortunately, sometimes we can get distracted from our authentic appreciative focus on God’s wonders.

There are times when we hear things that we accept as truth that may not always have been based on reality. For example, I had heard that grackles – those noisy big black birds that gather on power lines in the evening- have few redeeming qualities. I had heard that they knock the eggs out of the nests of song birds and then lay their own eggs in the nests and let the songbirds take care of and feed the grackles’ babies. After observing some grackle parents in our yard, I noticed that at least one of the grackles always swished its catch in the birdbath after it had picked up a tasty morsel. Then it would fly off to its nest. I’m assuming that it was her own babies that she was feeding. That blew my assumption that she was depending on songbirds to feed her babies. It took my observation of a natural action to set me straight.

I sometimes wonder about those clever minds, among them some renowned scientists, who fail to recognize God as the creator and organizer of life and matter. Some of these individuals spent their lives delving into the mysteries that are hidden about them. Researchers and engineers are busily engaged in a scavenger hunt to uncover and apply marvels that can improve the quality of life without realizing that the creator has embedded treasures for us to find and develop. However, no matter how skilled or knowledgeable such persons are, they are unable to create a simple cell, a single blade of grass, or any living thing. Such sobering realization should dash any pretensions that humans are independent of any being greater than ourselves.

Finally, I hope all of us have some time to spend contemplating all that nature offers: sights, smells, and sounds that speak of a provident God who loves each of us so much. Enjoy!
BLESSING OF FARMERS—The Catholic Rural Life Chapter of Texas, CRL-Victoria held their first annual Rural Life Mass, on Wednesday, May 15, to celebrate the Feast of St. Isidore. This year, the Mass was hosted by Holy Cross Church, in East Bernard. Mass was celebrated by Bishop Brendan Cahill and con-celebrants were Rev. Charles Otsiwah and Rev. Stephen Vacek. Pictured (above) Bishop Cahill blessing tractors and seed. (right) Father Stephen is pictured with his brother and parents.

Land and life go hand in hand. Our daily bread comes from land as much as anything else that sustains us. The land is beautiful for its mountains and plains; its beauty resounds in the canyons and draws. Its goodness thrives in the forests and fields; every plant emerges from it.

Do we take for granted how precious and fragile the land is? How grateful we should be! Only in rich soil do roots grow deep; if we deplete the soil, we risk everything. Our lives and the great variety of life on the earth depend upon the land and its vitality.

Loving Creator, you entrusted the care of the land to Adam and Eve in the garden. Show us how to be good stewards of the land; give your blessing on every part of it — the soil, waterways and landscape. Together these contain the elements of life entrusted by You to our care.

May you remind us of your constant love and bless us with favorable weather, abundant crops and a vigorous community of life around us.

We ask this through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Deacon Lawrence Hoelscher, Father Charles Otsiwah, altar servers, a young farmer, Bishop Brendan Cahill, and Father Stephen Vacek gathered for a photo after bishop blessed everyone present at the Catholic Rural Life Mass.
Companions for Our Journey

The following sermon was written by Father Charles Kram from the nineteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Cycle B.

Looking back on our past lives, we can all remember certain people we have known who hold a prominent place in our memory- a parent, a teacher, a dear friend, a padre, a nun...

Perhaps a special someone who helped us make important decisions in our lives or even to choose our WAY of life. I can especially remember Sister Anthony from my Junior and Senior years in High School. She had a knack for putting the fear and love of God into our hearts and she did so much to form our lives. Whenever we members of the class of ’46 meet, we always discuss good old Sister Anthony and the way the things we did to her made her a saint.

We look back with much respect and gratitude on people like these, and we realize that our way of thinking and of acting might have been entirely different if we had never met them.

God works in mysterious ways in taking care of his children. What if Sister Anthony had never heard of Christ or had not followed care of his children. What if Sister Anthony met them.

Have you ever seen a poem entitled, “Footprints in the Sand”? It tells the story of a man and his dream about walking side by side with the Lord along the seashore and leaving footprints in the sand.

Retracing his steps he noticed that during the worst and saddest moments in his walk, he saw only one set of footprints, so he asked the Lord, “Why did you leave me just when I needed you the most?” The Lord answered, “My child, I never left you. During the worst trials, when you saw only one set of footprints, it was then that I was carrying you.”

Truly we Christians are a people walking with the Lord, and many a time has he carried us.

So today would be a fine day to reminisce over all those seeming coincidences which were turning points in our lives and to appreciate how important the Lord Jesus had been to us, how much his influence has helped to make us what we are, and how many opportunities we have each had to be important in the lives of others.

Why not tell Him so.

Lord Jesus, thank you for doing so much to change our lives and to guide us on our earthly pilgrimage.

Help us to be, as often as we can, that special person in someone else’s life.

Grant that by your Grace we may all one day joyfully walk with you in the Father’s kingdom.

Amen

There are few topics more important to Catholic life than sacraments, and these three books are all intended to help explore this underexamined area of our faith. They present a wide variety of approaches and various levels of helpfulness to examining these seven key experiences of God’s grace.

In “The Sacraments: Discovering the Treasures of Divine Life” Father Matthew Kauth, rector of a college seminary in Charlotte, North Carolina, presents a highly philosophical and technical approach to sacramental life, attempting rather unsuccessfully to make it accessible to a general reading public. For example, he explains, “the sacraments employ matter which have a symbolic meaning, and yet, with the words or formula that is added to them, a further signification is given to them. Sacraments have both something material as well as verbal, a ‘formula.’ They each signify something. The verbal sign gives a further signification to the material sign.”

As Father Kauth discusses the elements, the effects and the fruits of each sacrament, he often presents a rather narrow perspective, sometimes using Latin terminology and missing some important pastoral implications. For example, his examination of marriage is not at all adequate on the importance of mutual submission for a couple. And at times he confuses piety with good theology, concluding that engaging the sacraments must be Marian, for example.

The second book takes a considerably different approach to sacramental rituals. Joseph Martos is a name long associated with the topic, having written the well-loved classic “Doors to the Sacred: A Historical Introduction to the Catholic Sacraments,” among others. In the book “Honest Rituals, Honest Sacraments” he also explores the impact of history on our present rituals, but with a different conclusion.

After using his philosophical background to explore topics of myth and ritual as well as symbols, meaning and metaphor, he explains his thesis: “The rituals that we are currently using in the church worked as long as Catholicism retained its medieval cultural form, until the mid-1960s. But since the Second Vatican Council, we contend, our rituals as they exist are no longer adequate. “It does no good for the Catholic Church to cling to a ritual theory that is based on medieval practices and that relies on Aristotelian science. Catholic experience today is not the same as Catholic experience in the Middle Ages. And no one today uses Greek metaphysics as a basis for ritual theory. It is time for a fresh start.”

Most Reverend Brendan J. Cahill, S.T.D, Bishop of the Diocese of Victoria, Texas and Apostleship of the Sea (AOS) promoter, is encouraging dioceses to mark the National Day of Prayer and Remembrance for Mariners and People of the Sea by remembering the men and women of the sea in homilies and by including special petitions during Mass. When Mass is celebrated on May 22, the text for the Votive Mass of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Star of the Sea, is also encouraged.

Bishop Cahill will celebrate a Mass in observance of Maritime Day on Saturday, May 18 at 12:10 p.m. in the Crypt Church at the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington DC. AOS and the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops’ (USCCB) Secretariat of Cultural Diversity in the Church sponsor this prayerful observance.

In conjunction with National Maritime Day in the United States of America, the US Department of Transportation’s Maritime Administration annually honors the hardworking men and women in “Maritime Service to America” with the National Maritime Day Observance and Wreath-Laying ceremony. The day honors those who serve as merchant mariners, seafarers, fishers, their families, port personnel and all who work or travel on the high seas.

In over 50 ports, there are more than 100 AOS chaplains, maritime deacons and lay ecclesial ministers who participate in the mission of Christ by sharing the gift of love. They welcome, network and reach out to seafarers, fisher men and women, their families, and all who work or travel on the seas. Through the celebration of the Eucharist and the Word of God, the chaplaincy team helps seafarers discover the loving presence of God in an often challenging world. Their continued presence for pastoral ministry is a clear evidence of their dedication and joy for the ministry.

Each of these seminarians, when asked to share a little about how their vocation brings happiness and balance to their lives, responded with the joys of their vocation.

James Michael Dvorak
Seminary: St. Mary’s Seminary, Houston
Hometown: Frelsburg
Home Parish: Sts. Peter & Paul Parish
Summer Assignment: Holy Family, Wharton, Holy Land Pilgrimage & U.S. Naval Academy

Ever since I was 14, I have been discerning and responding to the vocation of the priesthood. Now 26 years-old, that is approximately 12 years — nearly half of my life! My vocation has become an integral part of my life.

As a seminarian preparing for the life of a priest, I have witnessed a fruitful and rewarding life with innumerable blessings and joys along the way. I have met so many people in my life both Catholics and those of other faiths, and I enjoy getting to know them, learn from them, and preach the gospel. I want to bring people to Jesus Christ and even though dialogue and bearing witness takes great effort, it is rewarding to know he has given me joy and confidence in this critical and demanding time in the life of the Church. Another joy of pursuing this vocation has been the intimacy of the life of prayer afforded to me as a seminarian. One view could be that seminarians have to pray a lot; however, it could also be said that we get to pray a lot. Having the opportunity and access to spiritual directors, daily Mass, daily confessions, adoration, communal prayer, and always available chapels has been a gift that has far surpassed any of my expectations. While using these resources for myself and my own good, I also carry with me the requests and intentions of so many people who entrust me with their needs.

While I have found immeasurable joy in the service of the community and prayer, it has also been realized through being in the Diocese of Victoria, especially during my pastoral year in Port Lavaca. Spending time near the bay and fishing allowed me to see God in creation and get away from the daily routine. Standing in the water, in silence, except for the sound of the wind, birds, water, and occasionally the hum of a passing boat gave me time to reflect on past days and look forward in hope to days to come without worrying about anything more than the hook I just failed to set, because I was thinking about something else. Lastly, I find so much joy in this vocation, support to pursue it, and encouragement to be better in it, from my family. Family gatherings, from weddings to funerals, or just a weekend get-together on a patio, remind me of where I come from and how I have gotten this far. For this I can only be eternally grateful.

Seminary: Pontifical College Josephinum, Ohio
Hometown: Victoria
Home Parish: Sts. Michael & Our Lady of Guadalupe, Cuero

I haven’t found a ministry I haven’t enjoyed, but I love teaching. I taught junior high religious education, confirmation, and two series of adult classes, while on my pastoral year, at Sts. Cyril and Methodius, in Shiner. They each posed unique difficulties, but I loved stirring the embers of faith into a roaring fire. When it comes to prayer, eucharistic adoration is my favorite choice. No matter where I find myself in life, I always have recourse to the Blessed Sacrament. I always find rest and peace in him.

I’ve found a lot of joy in cooking at the seminary. The seminary provides all our meals, but the seminarians have a community kitchen that we’re free to use whenever we like. It’s nice to break away from the food service occasionally and make something for me and some friends.

Cooking (and eating) has always been an important part of gatherings for my family, and I’ve definitely carried that over into the seminary. There tends to be several events every semester that I’ve been able to cook for, such as our Super Bowl chili cookoff, the “Mud Bowl,” and the sow roast at the spring softball tournament. In the past year I’ve been barbecuing about as often as I could, and experimenting with dry aging and curing meats. I smoked a brisket that I dry aged for four weeks, and it turned out to be the best beef I’ve ever had. I’m currently curing some prosciutto at the seminary, hopefully it will turn out well.

I love to provide and share a good meal with my brother seminarians, and all my experience in the diocese has affirmed that this is a hobby that will translate well into my future ministry. I’d love to put some pancetta or a dry aged steak dinner in an auction!

DIOCESE

Thank you for your service—Father Gary Janak, pastor of The Cathedral of Our Lady of Victory, in Victoria, blessed the Warrior’s Weekend Field of Honor at a prayer service on Tuesday, May 14. Warrior’s Weekend XIII was held on Saturday, May 17-19, in Port O’Connor.

Bishop Brendan Cahill, Bishop David Fellhauer, and Bishop Joseph Coffey, the Auxiliary Bishop for the Archdiocese for the Military Services, USA visited as they processed in line for the ordination.

During the ceremony the newly ordained deacons were invested with the stole and dalmatic, vestments which signify their ministerial role in the celebration of the Eucharist.

Chase is pictured with Father Kristopher Fuchs and Deacon Joe Machacek, who helped him adjust his stole and put on the dalmatic.

The newly ordained deacons each received the Book of the Gospels from Bishop Cahill. Dalton is pictured kneeling before Bishop Cahill, as he placed the Book of the Gospels, in his hands, saying, “Receive the Gospel of Christ, whose herald you have become. Believe what you read, teach what you believe, and practice what you teach.”

During the ordination, those to be ordained went before Bishop Cahill and made a promise of obedience. Bishop asked each candidate, “Do you promise respect and obedience to me and my successors?” James Dvorak is pictured kneeling before bishop with his hands between Bishop Cahill’s hands making his promise of obedience.

The Chancery will be closed Thursday, July 4

The Chancery will resume normal hours Friday, July 5 at 8:30 a.m.

KJT Helps with Restoration

SCHULENBURG—St. Augustine KJT Society of Schulenburg, annual Matching Grant Turkey Shoot contest was cancelled due to bad weather but that did not stop the society from shooting the Big Card Shootout Raffle that were sold prior to the contest and presenting a check of the proceeds with a matching grant from the Home Office to the American Legion McBride Post 143, in Schulenburg, to help with the restoration of the stage curtain from the Tri-Association Dance Hall.

The stage curtain was painted in the late 1920s by local Weimar artist Edmund R. Horak and hung in the Schulenburg Turner Hall. The hall was purchased in 1936 by a Tri-Association made up of the local American Legion Post, the Dairy Association, and the Volunteer Fire Department. By 1965 the American Legion Post had sole ownership of the hall until 2004 when it was sold to the Boys and Girls Club of Champion Valley. The stage curtain was removed and donated to the Schulenburg Historical Museum where it currently hangs on loan in Senglemann’s Hall in Schulenburg. The American Legion is working closely with the Schulenburg Historical Museum on the restoration plans.
WASHINGTON—Cardinal Daniel N. DiNardo, Archbishop of Galveston-Houston and President of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, has issued the following statement regarding the release of Pope Francis’s Motu Proprio, earlier today, The Motu Proprio, Vos estis lux mundi (“You are the light of the world”), is a worldwide order to the Church from the Pope, in response to the evil of sexual abuse. The new law comes after a meeting in Rome that brought together all episcopal conference presidents from across the globe to discuss the Church sex abuse crisis.

Cardinal DiNardo’s full statement follows:

“Today, Pope Francis ordered a worldwide response to the evil of sexual abuse. It calls for the establishment of easily accessible reporting systems, clear standards for the pastoral support of victims and their families, timeliness and thoroughness of investigations, whistleblower protection for those making allegations, and active involvement of the laity. It also leaves latitude for national bishops’ conferences, such as the USCCB, to specify still more to account for their local circumstances. We receive the Motu Proprio Vos estis lux mundi (‘You are the light of the world’) as a blessing that will empower the Church everywhere to bring predators to justice, no matter what rank they hold in the Church. It also permits the Church the time and opportunity to bring spiritual healing.

The Holy Father said a ‘continuous and profound conversion of hearts is needed, attested by concrete and effective actions that involve everyone in the Church.’ Pope Francis was clear that this responsibility ‘falls, above all, on the successors of the Apostles.’ As part of this responsibility, bishops also will be held accountable under the authority of this Motu Proprio, which covers sexual abuse of minors or vulnerable persons, sexual acts compelled through the abuse of authority, and any cover-up of such crimes.

In publishing this new law, which is applicable to the Church throughout the world, Pope Francis has made clear that protection and healing must reach all of God’s children. Following on the meeting just two months ago of all episcopal conference presidents, the Motu Proprio shows Pope Francis expects swift and comprehensive progress. For the Church in the United States, the task before us now is to establish whatever is necessary to ensure the effective implementation of the Motu Proprio. Our committees have already begun the work of preparing implementation measures for deliberation at the USCCB Plenary Assembly in June.

I am grateful for the opportunity to build upon the excellent foundation of the USCCB’s Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People, the Essential Norms for Diocesan/Eparchial Policies Dealing with Sexual Abuse of Minors by Priests or Deacons, and the Statement of Episcopal Commitment, all of which date back to 2002. The existing framework in the United States including victim outreach, zero tolerance, reporting allegations to civil authorities, and lay expertise on review boards, among other measures - positions us readily to bring the Holy Father’s instructions to action. By embracing the painful experience of survivors and working on these new protections, let us pray we continue to grow into a stronger Church.”

Questions & Answers Regarding Pope Francis’s Motu Proprio Vos estis lux mundi

What does the new Motu Proprio do?

The new Motu Proprio Vos estis lux mundi is a significant move forward for the universal Church, one that echoes many of the practices established in the U.S. Bishops’ Essential Norms and the Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People that have been in force in the United States since 2002. For example, it affirms the existing:

- Commitment to provide for the spiritual and emotional well-being of victims’ survivors and their families;
- Duty to comply with all applicable civil laws with respect to the reporting of allegations of sexual abuse of minors to civil authorities;
- Right of any person to report such crimes;
- Guarantee of a prompt and objective investigation;
- Assurance of lay involvement

The Motu Proprio also continues to focus on victims by significantly building upon existing local practices, for example by expanding:

The scope of cases to include:

- The sexual abuse of a new classification of “vulnerable persons.”
- The use of violence or other abuse of power to perform or submit to sexual acts,
- Any cover up of such conduct by others;
- Those who are to be reported for such cases, namely, cardinals, bishops, other clerics, religious superiors, and other members of institutes of consecrated life or societies of apostolic life;
- Reporting obligations to include mandatory, internal reporting;
- Safeguards against retaliation or discrimination by mandating “whistleblower” protections

When do these norms take effect?

- They will take effect on June 1, 2019;
- They will be reviewed by the Holy See after three years and adjusted as needed;
- Every diocese and eparchy (either individually or collectively) is to have a publicly accessible means for people to report cases covered under the Motu Proprio by June 1, 2020. In the United States, while this has already been accomplished for cases involving the sexual abuse of minors by priests and deacons, reporting mechanisms will have to be modified to serve the broader categories of the Motu Proprio.

What about cases of sexual misconduct that do not fall under this Motu Proprio?

These are generally already covered by existing diocesan or eparchial codes of conduct. With the help of lay and legal experts, bishops are working on ways to ensure that coverage and enhance awareness and reporting mechanisms for such cases.

How are transparency and confidentiality promoted in this new Motu Proprio?

The Motu Proprio increases transparency by establishing clear procedures that must be followed, reaffirming the obligation to report to civil authorities, providing for lay involvement in internal investigations, protecting from possible conflicts of interest, and ensuring that those who report complaints to the Church are also free to report the same information to others and are protected from retaliation. At the same time, because the Motu Proprio involves the investigation of a complaint, it carefully balances the rights of those involved. Confidentiality is needed for the effectiveness of the investigation. It protects victims and witnesses, as well as the presumption of innocence and the seal of the confessional.

Does this new Motu Proprio interfere or hinder civil law, such as mandatory reporting requirements and civil investigations?

In no way. The Motu Proprio establishes the canonical (Church law) procedures that are to be followed. Included in these procedures, however, is the obligation to comply with all applicable civil laws.

Zero tolerance is not mentioned. Is that no longer the policy of the Catholic Church?

In the United States, zero tolerance has been the policy since 2002, which comes from the Charter and the Essential Norms. The Motu Proprio does not undo this policy. Other episcopal conferences around the world have or will be developing policies appropriate to their legal and cultural situations. The good news here is that what was first thought of as an “American problem” or a “Western problem” is now on everyone’s radar.

Why does the Motu Proprio focus on the role of the Metropolitan?

The Motu Proprio uses the Metropolitan because it is a position in the Church that is grounded in tradition and the teaching of Vatican II and is governed by existing canon law.

This also allows investigations to be carried out on the local level, where the Metropolitan will have more direct access to information, documents, and lay experts to help investigate, and can collaborate with civil authorities. The Metropolitan, being local, can also take measures to preserve and secure evidence.

Recent investigations of misconduct by a bishop, such as in West Virginia, have successfully followed this practice.

What does this mean for the proposals the U.S. bishops considered last November?

The work of our committees that has already taken place will be examined and adapted to work within the framework of the new Motu Proprio and will be the basis for deliberation over its implementation at the USCCB Plenary Assembly in June.
