All Souls Day, November, 2

“I am sending a prayer to my loved souls in heaven!”

Human beings live in society. We relate. We communicate. We share. We build. We grow together. In this process some enter into our lives and we enter into others’ and they become very dear to us. We learn from the Bible that God is the Alpha and the Omega. Though we live for some time on this stage (earth) at the end we will return to Him. When our beloved ones have gone ahead of us to the place of rest, that makes us sad. Though they have gone ahead of us still their memories are very fresh in our hearts. November 2, All Souls day is a special day to recall, remember and pray for them. Our Catholic church gives the faithful this wonderful opportunity to pray for all souls. A time to think or examine our lives and to draw the lines for good living. Visiting the cemetery and praying, offering masses, doing works of charity etc., in memory of the dead are the ways to help souls enter heaven. We use this special day to pray for them. A good tradition to keep up. Thus, we can say I am sending a prayer to my beloved souls in heaven.

Happy Birthday!!!

RCIA topic for Wednesday is “Communion of Saints”. This program is also for those who wish to rediscover the Catholic faith. Please join us.

The beautiful flowers on the altar this weekend are given by Joe Nosef, III in memory of his father and by Rebecca and Lindsey Nosef in memory of their grandfather, Mayor Joe Nosef, Jr.

Diocesan Missions: The Diocese of Jackson has 17 missions – church communities which are not financially self-sustaining. This collection stays in the diocese and helps those Catholic communities continue to serve, celebrate and grow. The 17 missions are: Cranfield St. John the Baptist; Gloster Holy Family; Hazelhurst St. Martin; Magnolia St. James; Winona Sacred Heart; Anguilla Our Mother of Mercy; Hollandale Immaculate Conception; Sardis St. John the Baptist; Bruce St. Luke; Okolona St. Theresa; Fulton Christ the King; Macon Corpus Christi; Iuka St. Mary; Pearl River St. Therese; Conehatta St. Catherine; Morton Centro San Martin.

Please Pray for all who are sick.
