My Reflections on Stewardship at St. Peter Catholic Church

For me, the call to stewardship at St. Peter comes down to an issue of family, and what it means to belong to a family.

Growing up in rural Alabama, my parents and older siblings provided me with a loving and caring family environment. I received much from them, but my father also made sure I had opportunities to contribute. I had chores on a farm that helped put food on the table, and helped our house stay in good repair. It was work, but it felt good...I was helping my family, and I knew I belonged.

Today, I consider St. Peter to be my church family. I continuously receive support and blessings from that family, and through stewardship I've had the chance to give back in ways beyond just the necessary financial donations. I've been blessed to work with Father Carmen in the St. Martin de Porres National Shrine and Institute. I've teamed with fellow family members to help with the Dominican Friars Outreach Fund. I've been on outreach visits with my brothers and sisters. I've even pitched in to do chores around my church home such as shoveling snow.

All these opportunities truly make me happy because I know I'm helping my church family function as it should. And through the work of our church (our family), we help others in our community. Stewardship is not something I have to do, it's something I get to do...and it helps me know I belong.

Dennis James (a.k.a. Mary Pat's husband)
