As we now enter the summer months and restrictions continue to be lifted here at home and abroad, we begin to return to "normal" life as we knew it before the pandemic; are we going back or adapting to a new normal is yet to be seen. Part of normal life in the summer is summer vacation. This can be near or far, but it's a time to relax from the business of life and even get to see family and friends. Vacation is a good thing, and an important thing that helps remind us of the important things in life. One important thing in our lives as Christians that sometimes is forgotten during vacation is God and Church. God never takes a vacation on us nor should we take a vacation from him. So, whether we stay close this summer or go far away, let us always remember our commitment to God and our obligation as Catholics to go to Church and spend that time with him who is the source of all good in our lives.

Mentre ora entriamo nei mesi estivi e le restrizioni continuano ad essere revocate qui in patria e all'estero, iniziamo a tornare alla vita "normale" come la conoscevamo prima della pandemia; stiamo tornando indietro o ci stiamo adattando a una nuova normalità è ancora tutto da vedere. Parte della vita normale in estate sono le vacanze estive. Questo può essere vicino o lontano, ma è un momento per rilassarsi dagli affari della vita e persino per vedere la famiglia e gli amici. Le vacanze sono una buona cosa e una cosa importante che aiuta a ricordarci le cose importanti della vita. Una cosa importante nella nostra vita di cristiani che a volte viene dimenticata durante le vacanze è Dio e la Chiesa. Dio non si prende mai una vacanza con noi né dovremmo prenderci una vacanza da lui. Quindi, sia che restiamo vicini quest'estate o che andiamo lontano, ricordiamo sempre il nostro impegno verso Dio e il nostro obbligo come cattolici di andare in Chiesa e trascorrere quel tempo con Colui che è la fonte di ogni bene nella nostra vita.

A medida que entramos en los meses de verano y las restricciones continúan levantándose aquí en casa y en el extranjero, comenzamos a regresar a la vida "normal" como la conocíamos antes de la pandemia; ¿Estamos volviendo o adaptándonos a una nueva normalidad aún está por verse? Parte de la vida normal en el verano son las vacaciones de verano. Esto puede ser cerca o lejos, pero es un momento para relajarse de los negocios de la vida e incluso ver a familiares y amigos. Las vacaciones son algo bueno y algo importante que nos ayuda a recordar las cosas importantes de la vida. Una cosa importante en nuestras vidas como cristianos que a veces se olvida durante las vacaciones es Dios y la Iglesia. Dios nunca se toma unas vacaciones con nosotros ni debemos tomarnos unas vacaciones de él. Entonces, ya sea que estemos cerca este verano o nos vayamos lejos, recordemos siempre nuestro compromiso con Dios y nuestra obligación como católicos de ir a la Iglesia y pasar ese tiempo con Aquel que es la fuente de todo bien en nuestras vidas.
