

St. Ignatius Catholic Cemetery Annandale Wright Co. MN 1802-2006

The St. Ignatius Catholic Cemetery referred to as the French Lake Cemetery in old church records is located about 4 miles southwest of Annandale MN and the current sexton of the cemetery is Wayne Rathje. From the stoplight on Highway 55 in Annandale go 4.1 miles south on County Rd. 5 turn right on County Rd. 37 and go west for approximately 1.2 miles. The cemetery is on the left (south) side of the road. You can still see the old road in front of the cemetery; originally the "Forest City Trail" used by the pioneers. It is the site of the original chapel of the Church of St. Ignatius until a new church was built in the village of Annandale around the turn of the century with the current building being erected in 1958. Through the years the cemetery ended up in a great state of disrepair. In the early 1990s a committee was established to reclaim and restore the grounds of the cemetery. Today it is once again plotted for use and is a peaceful setting for a burial ground.

In the absence of official cemetery records for earliest interments the transcription was compiled with help from the 2006 sexton of the cemetery Darrell Kelly and through the use of church records reading cemetery markers and some cross checking through records on-line and at the Wright County Historical Society. There is one large gap of about 16 years in church death records from approximately 1922 to 1939. Earliest interments were probably done out of St. Timothy's Catholic Church in Maple Lake. The earliest grave marker found on site bears the year 1864 and the cemetery was originally used mainly by the early French and Irish settlers of the area.
