Our Lady of the Rosary

This feast marks the anniversary of the Battle of Lepanto, which occurred in 1571 and stopped Ottoman / Turkish / Muslim invasion of Europe.

Before the battle, Pope Pius V led a Rosary procession through Rome and called on crew-men on the ships and the faithful all over Europe to pray the Rosary for victory. Afterwards, when he was told that all but 13 of the nearly 300 Turkish ships had been captured or sunk, he instituted a feast day in celebration. It was called Our Lady of Victory for several centuries, and later renamed Our Lady of the Rosary. The feast is one week after the Protection of the Mother of God, which is celebrated by many Eastern Orthodox Christians and Eastern Catholics, and marks a 10th-century battle which protected Constantinople against invasion after a reported Marian apparition.
