

Saints Simon and Jude's Story

Jude is so named by Luke and Acts. Matthew and Mark call him Thaddeus. He is not mentioned elsewhere in the Gospels, except of course where all the apostles are mentioned. Scholars hold that he is not the author of the Letter of Jude. Actually, Jude had the same name as Judas Iscariot. Evidently because of the disgrace of that name, it was shortened to "Jude" in English.

Simon is mentioned on all four lists of the apostles. On two of them he is called "the Zealot." The Zealots were a Jewish sect that represented an extreme of Jewish nationalism. For them, the messianic promise of the Old Testament meant that the Jews were to be a free and independent nation. God alone was their king, and any payment of taxes to the Romans—the very domination of the Romans—was a blasphemy against God. No doubt some of the Zealots were the spiritual heirs of the Maccabees, carrying on their ideals of religion and independence. But many were the counterparts of modern terrorists. They raided and killed, attacking both foreigners and "collaborating" Jews. They were chiefly responsible for the rebellion against Rome which ended in the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70.

Our Savior Jesus Christ destroyed death and brought life to light through the Gospel.

Origins of the Rosary, by Ginny Kubitz Moyer

Since the earliest days of the Church, people have used prayer beads or cords with knots in them to help them keep track of their prayers. (This practice is not limited to Catholicism, by the way; prayer beads are also found in religions such as Hinduism and Orthodox Christianity.) Christian monks used to pray the 150 psalms, and since lay people were not able to memorize 150 separate psalms, many began praying 150 Our Fathers. In the Middle Ages, a time when the “Hail Mary” prayer became widely known, it became common for people to pray 150 Hail Marys instead. This developed into the rosary as it is prayed now. There is an old tradition in the Church that Mary herself appeared to St. Dominic (1170-1221) and gave him the rosary to help him as he preached against the Albigensian heresy, a heresy which denied the Incarnation of Christ.

When praying each decade of the rosary, Catholics meditate on key moments in the life of Christ, called “mysteries.” By the late fifteenth century, the mysteries of the rosary looked almost exactly like the Joyful, Sorrowful, and Glorious mysteries that we pray today. In 2002, the rosary was enriched by the addition of five new mysteries suggested by Pope John Paul II. These are called the Luminous mysteries and are a testament to the fact that the rosary continues to inspire prayer and new ways to engage with Christ.

Nov. 1st — All Saints Day — Día de Todo los Santos

This Year All Saints Day falls on a Monday, therefore it is not considered a day of precept or obligation. You do not have to attend Mass on this day. Nevertheless, these following Masses will be made available in our communities.

- ◆ 9 am Mass @ Malad

El día de Los Fieles Difuntos, también conocido como Día de los Muertos es un día importante para orar por nuestros queridos muertos, especialmente en la Santa Misa o en el panteón. Este horario de servicios está disponible por nuestras comunidades.

Prayers at the Cemetery

V. Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord,

R. And let perpetual light shine upon them.

V. May they rest in peace.

R. Amen.

V. May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace.

R. Amen.

Oraciones en el Panteón

V. Dales, Señor, el descanso eterno,

R. Y brille para ellos la luz perpetua.

V. Descansen en paz.

R. Así sea.

V. Que las almas de todos los fieles difuntos por la misericordia de Dios descansen en paz.

R. Amén.

“Eternal Father, I offer You the most precious blood of Thy Divine Son, Jesus, in unión with the Masses said throughout the whole world today, for the Holy Souls in Purgatory, for sinner everywhere, for sinners in the universal church, for those in my own home and in my family.”

Amen. (St. Gertrude the Great)
