The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

The Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

Prayer after Receiving Holy Communion

O Jesus, I believe that Thou art truly present in the Blessed Sacrament. Although my eyes and tongue tell me that I have received only bread and wine, yet my faith tells me that I have received Thy Body and Blood. I believe, Lord; help Thou my unbelief. I adore Thee as my God and my Savior. Amen

Dear friends,

As we head into the summer months, I do hope that you will take some time to rest and enjoy yourself. Make a plan to bring your family to the St. Rose of Lima Parish Carnival (June 27—29) and to Our Lady of San Juan de los Lagos Festival (July 11-13). But especially take some time to be with your family and with yourself. Recently I read a very insightful article that all of us could benefit from entitled “Why We Humblebrag About Being Busy” by Greg McKeown.

“We have a problem—and the odd thing is we not only know about it, we’re celebrating it. Just today, someone boasted to me that she was so busy she’s averaged four hours of sleep a night for the last two weeks. She wasn’t complaining; she was proud of the fact. She is not alone.

Why are typically rational people so irrational in their behavior? The answer, I believe, is that we’re in the midst of a bubble; one so vast that to be alive today in the developed world is to be affected, or infected, by it. It’s the bubble of bubbles: it not only mirrors the previous bubbles (whether of the Tulip, Silicon Valley or Real Estate variety), it undergirds them all. I call it “The More Bubble.”

The nature of bubbles is that some asset is absurdly overvalued until — eventually — the bubble bursts, and we’re left scratching our heads wondering why we were so irrationally exuberant in the first place. The asset we’re overvaluing now is the notion of doing it all, having it all, achieving it all; what Jim Collins calls “the undisciplined pursuit of more.”

This bubble is being enabled by an unholy alliance between three powerful trends: smart phones, social media, and extreme consumerism. The result is not just information overload, but opinion overload. We are more aware than at any time in history of what everyone else is doing and, therefore, what we “should” be doing. In the process, we have been sold a bill of goods: that success means being supermen and superwomen who can get it all done. Of course, we back-door-brag about being busy: it’s code for being successful and important.

Not only are we addicted to the drug of more, we are pushers too. In the race to get our children into “a good college” we have added absurd amounts of homework, sports, clubs, dance performances and ad infinitum extracurricular activities. And with them, busyness, sleep deprivation and stress.

Across the board, our answer to the problem of more is always more. We need more technology to help us create more technologies. We need to outsource more things to more people to free up own our time to do yet even more. Luckily, there is an antidote to the undisciplined pursuit of more: the disciplined pursuit of less, but better. A growing number of people are making this shift. I call these people Essentialists.

These people are designing their lives around what is essential and eliminating everything else. These people take walks in the morning to think and ponder, they negotiate to have actual weekends (i.e. during which they are not working), they turn technology off for set periods every night and create technology-free zones in their homes. They trade off time on Facebook and call those few friends who really matter to them. Instead of running to back-to-back in meetings, they put space on their calendars to get important work done.

The groundswell of an Essentialist movement is upon us. Even our companies are competing with one another to get better at this: from sleep pods at Google to meditation rooms at Twitter. At the Annual Meeting of the World Economic Forum in Davos this year, there were — for the first time — dozens of sessions on mindfulness. TIME magazine goes beyond calling this a movement, instead choosing the word “Revolution.”

One reason is because it feels so much better than being a Nonessentialist. You know the feeling you get when you box up the old clothes you don’t wear anymore and give them away? The closet clutter is gone. We feel freer. Wouldn’t it be great to have that sensation writ large in our lives? Wouldn’t it feel liberating and energizing to clean out the closets of our overstuffed lives and give away the nonessential items, so we can focus our attention on the few things that truly matter?

Yours in Christ,

Fr. Joseph Shea

The Story of the Miraculous Infant Jesus of Prague (continued from last week’s bulletin)

The 20 years’ War in Europe ravaged Prague. After the Treaty of Peace in 1630, the Carmelites returned to the monastery and the Church of Our Lady of Victories. Father Cyril, Pastor of the Church, found the statue of the Miraculous Infant Jesus with arms broken. It was at this time that the Infant Jesus appeared to him in a vision and said, “Give me my hands and I will give you peace. The more you honor me, the more I will bless you.”

From that time on, the devotion to the Divine Infant Jesus of Prague continued and spread throughout the world.

From the records of the National Shrine of the Holy Infant Jesus of Prague, Prague, Oklahoma.

RESPECT LIFE

“Nothing changes the objective reality; abortion kills babies in their mothers’ wombs. Abortion is not merely the removal of some tissue from a woman’s body. Abortion is not the removal of a living ‘thing’ that would become human if it were allowed to remain inside the woman’s body. Abortion is the destruction of an unborn baby. Pregnancy is the period for this new human life to mature, not to ‘become human’—it already is. This is why the Church considers abortion the killing of a human being, and why the Second Vatican Council called it an ‘unspeakable crime.’”

Did you Know?

Bullying is a form of abuse

Did you know that bullying is a form of abuse, and therefore is forbidden in our Catholic schools? Bullying typically consists of direct behaviors, such as teasing, taunting, threatening, hitting, shoving and stealing. But it might also be indirect, such as spreading rumors that cause victims to be socially isolated through intentional exclusion. Cyberbullying, which involves the use of the Internet or mobile phones to send inappropriate messages and images to or about others, is also behavior that is not tolerated in our Catholic schools. If you suspect bullying of a child at school, please contact the school principal with your concerns. For particular help, you may call the Archdiocese’s Victims Assistance Ministry, (213) 637-7650.

¿Sabia Usted?

El hostigamiento es una forma de abuso

¿Sabía usted que el hostigamiento (bullying) es una forma de abuso y por lo tanto está prohibido en las escuelas católicas? El hostigamiento suele consistir en bromas pesadas, burlas, amenazas, golpes, empujones y robo. Pero también puede ser indirecta, como la difusión de rumores que provoca que las víctimas se aíslén socialmente porque se sienten excluidas por la sociedad. El acoso cibernético, que implica el uso de la Internet o los teléfonos celulares para enviar mensajes o imágenes inapropiadas de personas o a personas también es un comportamiento que no se tolera en nuestras escuelas católicas. Si usted sospecha que algún estudiante es víctima de hostigamiento, inmediatamente comuníquese sus preocupaciones al director de la escuela. Para obtener más ayuda llame a la oficina de la arquidiócesis del Ministerio de Asistencia a Víctimas, (213) 637-7650.

Estudio de Biblia en Español
La parroquia de St. Peter Claver les hace una cordial invitación este verano a sesiones de estudio de la Biblia. El que abre la Biblia busca a Jesús. La Biblia no es un libro que habla de Dios, sino que es el libro en el que Dios nos habla de él por medio de testigos que él eligió.
¿Qué contiene el Antiguo Testamento? ¿Qué enseñan los salmos?
¿Dónde están escritos los mandamientos de Dios?
¿Cuál es el mensaje de Dios para mí? ¿Y dónde puedo escuchar este mensaje?
Venga y juntos encontraremos estas y muchas más respuestas que nos comunica Dios.
¿Cuándo?: - Los Martes de Julio & Agosto, empezando el 8 de Julio de 6:30pm – 8:30pm de la noche.
Traiga su Biblia…y si no tiene, nosotros le prestamos.
Para más información comuníquese con el Diacono Melecio Zamora, (818) 262-1090. ¡Los esperamos!

TRADICIONES DE NUESTRA FE
Hace algunos años, el cantante de rock Carlos Santana y el grupo roquero Maná ganaron un premio en los “Latin Grammys” por su canción: “Corazón espinado”. Esta bella canción es de un hombre que lamenta el dolor que una mujer le ha causado. No la puede olvidar, porque ella le ha dejado el corazón espinado. Esta canción siempre me recuerda al Sagrado Corazón de Jesús, corazón rodeado por una corona de espinas e inflamado por el amor que le tiene a su mujer, la Iglesia, es decir, nosotros. La devoción al Sagrado Corazón proviene de una monja francesa, santa Margarita María Alacoque a quien Jesús le mostró su corazón en junio de 1675. Jesús le dijo que su corazón arde de amor por los seres humanos, pero los cristianos sólo lo ofendemos con insultos, ingratitud e indiferencias. ¿Cuántas veces, como Iglesia o como individuos, le hemos espinado el corazón al Señor? Y aun así, la imagen del corazón espinado e inflamado de Jesús nos sigue cantando y llamando para que seamos suyos. Si regresamos a él, Jesucristo nos promete doce bendiciones de paz, consolación, fervor y otras gracias.
