On the 5th Sunday of Lent, the Church celebrates the 3rd Scrutiny for the Elect who will be baptized at the Easter Vigil Service. Their responses come from reflections on the reading from Ezekiel 37:12-14.

The questions include: “Where in my life do I long for freedom to live new life in Christ?” “In what areas of my life do I experience death? What sins bind me?” “What are the graves in my life, those places of darkness and death?” “How might I also reach out to others to help untie and free them to live in Christ?” During this 5th week of Lent, we too can reflect on these questions at prayer time.

During the week following the 5th Sunday of Lent, the Church presents the Elect with the “Our Father”. The Lord’s Prayer fills the Elect with a deeper realization of the new spirit of adoption by which they will call God their Father, especially in the midst of the Eucharistic Assembly. The Presentation of the Our Father will be Wednesday evening, March 25th at 6:45 PM in the Church. Our Parish Community is welcome to join us.

“Truly, truly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit.”

Second, the devil tempts us through accusation. Revelations 12:10 calls the devil the “accuser” of Christians as well as a “liar.” By making accusations against us and others—which usually are false—the devil acts like a bully, trying to pressure us into sinning. For example, “Your situation is hopeless. You might as well end it all by suicide” or “Your husband doesn’t appreciate you, but your boss does. Take him up on that invitation.”

Third, the devil tempts us through doubt. His strategy is to insinuate into our thoughts various doubts about God, about His Truth and His Will for us. He used this tactic with Eve: “Did God really say...” (Genesis 3:2). He took the same approach when he tempted Jesus in the wilderness (Luke 4:3).

Fourth, the devil tempts us through enticement. The devil brings to our attention things we find attractive and then suggests that we attain these attractive things through illicit, sinful means. So, just as he did with Eve, the devil holds out to us a good thing of God’s creation and tells us that it is good and it will make us happy. The devil deceives us by not having us ask the critical question, “As good as this thing is, is this thing good for me? Will this thing or this experience lead me closer to Christ and the Kingdom of heaven—my true destiny?”

Finally, the devil tempts us through provocation. He plants thoughts or arrange circumstances that can provoke us to pride or anger or lust or even despair. The Book of Job tells how God allowed Satan to tempt Job to despair by trying to provoke him through tremendous adversity. When the loss of all Job’s possessions, his health, and even his children didn’t achieve the result that Satan sought, Satan resorted to another form of provocation—the harsh, condemnatory words of friends, and even his wife.

Now, with all these temptations, the devil never forces anyone to sin. Satan and his minions are simply using their powers to tempt us to sin—to provide an occasion for sin by using the world and our human nature.

Besides the ordinary activity of demons through temptation, there is also extraordinary demonic activity.

The first is infestation which is a term for demonic activity connected to a particular location or object. People who have lived in infested houses have seen objects moving, levitating, flying through the air or disappearing and materializing in other places. They have smelled offensive odors or heard inexplicable noises, such as crashes, laughter or screams. I know several people who have experienced these phenomena.

Next is oppression which describes the demonic attacks on a victim’s exterior life: influences on his bodily health or his finances or his work situation or upon his family and other social relations. It may even include physical assaults such as invisible blows to the body or a push out of bed or a push down the stairs or mysterious scratches on the skin. A number of saints such as St. Anthony of the Desert, St. Teresa of Avila, St John Vianney and St. Padre Pio spoke about enduring these kinds of assault.

Obsession is another extraordinary demonic activity. Obsession refers to a more severe and relentless form of the struggle in a victim’s interior life—a wrestling with disturbing thoughts that the Enemy plants. This inner torment—suffered while awake or in nightmares—can become so intense that the sufferer may seem like he or she is going insane. The victim may also experience visual and auditory hallucinations, as well as persistent temptations to suicide.

Now it needs to be noted here that the symptoms I just spoke about may have mental or physical causes rather than spiritual ones. That’s why the Church always insists that those who experience such obsessive afflictions first must have a very thorough physical and psychological examination by competent professionals before concluding that they are under attack by evil spirits.

Possession is the last form of extraordinary demonic activity. It is the rarest and most powerful form of demonic activity. It involves periodic episodes in which an evil spirit controls the body of another, though the victim usually is not aware of what is taking place. Several accounts of demon possession are found in the Gospels.

Tips to help protect children from sexting

Before buying your child a cell phone, set rules for its use, including what sort of information and images are appropriate to share via text. Know what safeguards are available on your child’s phone, such as turning off and/or blocking texting and picture features. Talk to your child about the possible social, academic, and legal consequences of sexting. They could face humiliation, lose educational opportunities, and get in trouble with the law.

Encourage your child to not be a bystander or an instigator. If he or she receives a “sex,” discuss why it is important that he or she not forward the image to anyone else. Remind your child that they can talk to you if they receive a nude picture on their cell phone. Report any nude or semi-nude images that your child receives to law enforcement or contact www.cybertipline.com.

Consejos para proteger a sus hijos de “texteo sexual”

Antes de comprarle un teléfono celular a su hija(o), establezca reglas para su uso, incluyendo qué tipo de información e imágenes son apropiadas para compartir vía texto. Aprenda qué tipo de seguridad hay disponibles para el teléfono de su hijo(a), como apagar y/o bloquear el texteo y las imágenes.

Dialogue con su hijo(a) sobre las posibles consecuencias sociales, académicas y legales del “texteo sexual”. Ellos podrían ser humillados, perder oportunidades educativas y enfrentar problemas con la ley. Fomente en sus hijos a no ser un espectador ni un incitador del “texteo sexual”. Si él o ella reciben un texto sexual, hágalos saber por qué es importante que no envíen la imagen a alguien más. Recuerdelle a su hijo(a) que puede hablar con usted si recibe una fotografía de desnudo en su celular. Informe cualquier imagen de desnudo o semidesnudo que su hijo(a) reciba a las autoridades policiales o contacte: www.cybertipline.com.

Continuación del artículo del libro "Manual de Guerra Espiritual"

En segundo lugar, el diablo nos tienta con la acusación. En el Apocalipsis 12:10 llaman al diablo el “acusante” de Cristianos así como un “mentiroso.” Haciendo acusaciones contra nosotros y otras personas—que generalmente son falsas—el diablo actúa como un “tirano”, intentando presionarnos para que pequeños. Por ejemplo nos dice, “Tu situación está desesperada”. “De una vez acaba con todo con el suicidio” o “Tu esposa no te aprecia, pero tu jefe sí”.

“Acepta su invitación”.

Tercero, el diablo nos tienta con la duda. Su estrategia es insinuar en nuestros pensamientos dudas sobre Dios, sobre su Verdad y su Voluntad para nosotros. Él utilizó esta táctica con Eva: “De veras Dios dijo eso...” (Génesis 3:2). Él usó la misma táctica cuando tentó a Jesús en el desierto (Lucas 4:3).

Cuarto, el diablo nos tienta con la seducción. El diablo nos atrae con cosas que encontramos atractivas y después nos sugiere como lograr estas cosas por medios ilícitos y pecadores. Así pues, como lo hizo con Eva, el diablo nos muestra una buena cosa de la creación de Dios y nos dice que es buena y nos hará felices. El diablo nos engaña al no hacernos la pregunta crítica, “Tan buena como esta cosa, esta cosa es buena para mí? Esto o esta experiencia me conduce a Cristo y al Reino del cielo—mi destino verdadero.

Finalmente, el diablo nos tienta con la provocación. Él planta pensamientos o arregla las circunstancias que pueden provocarnos para enorgulleceros o para enojarnos o para la lujuria o para desesperarnos. El Libro de Job nos dice cómo Dios permitió que Satanás tentara a Job a desesperarse intentando provocarlo con enorme adversidad. Cuando la pérdida de las posesiones de Job, su salud, e incluso sus niños no alcanzó el resultado que Satanás buscó, Satanás recurrió a otra forma de provocarlo —palabras ásperas, condenatorias de amigos, e incluso de su esposa.

Ahora, con todas estas tentaciones, el diablo nunca forza a nadie a pecar. Satanás y sus demonios están utilizando simplemente sus poderes para tentarnos a pecar—proporcionando una ocasión para el pecado usando el mundo y nuestra naturaleza humana.

Además de la actividad ordinaria de los demonios con la tentación, hay también actividad demoniaca extraordinaria.

La primera es la infestación que es un término para la actividad demoniaca conectada con un lugar o un objeto particular. La gente que ha vivido en casas infestadas ha visto objetos moverse, levitar, volar o desaparecer y materializar en otros lugares. Han olido olores ofensivos o han oído ruidos inexplicables, tales como desplomes, risa o gritos. Conozco a varias personas que han experimentado estos fenómenos.

Está después la opresión que describe los ataques demoniacos contra la vida exterior de una víctima: influencias en su salud corporal o sus finanzas o su situación de trabajo o sobre su familia y otras relaciones sociales. Puede incluso incluir asaltos físicos tales como golpes invisibles al cuerpo o empujar de la cama o empujar bajo las escaleras o rasguños misteriosos en la piel. Un número de santos tales como San Antonio del Desierto, Sta. Teresa de Avila, San Juan Vianney y San Padre Pio nos hablan como aguantaron estas clases de asaltos.

La posesión es la última forma de actividad demoniaca extraordinaria. La posesión es una forma más severa y más implacable en la lucha de la vida interior de una víctima—luchando contra los pensamientos disturbantes plantados por el Enemigo. Este interno tormento—sufrido mientras despierto o en pesadillas—puede llegar a ser tan intenso que la víctima puede parecer como si estuviera insana. La víctima puede también experimentar alucinaciones visuales y auditivas, así como tentaciones persistentes al suicidio.

Ahora es necesario observar aquí que los síntomas mencionados pueden tener causas mentales o de enfermedad física en lugar de espiritual. Es por eso que la Iglesia siempre insiste que aquellos quienes sufren de aflicciones obsesivas deben primero hacerse un examen físico y sicológico por un profesional competente antes de concluir que están atacados por espíritus malignos.

La posesión es la última forma de actividad demoniaca extraordinaria. Es la forma más rara y más fuerte de la actividad demoniaca. Se trata de episodios en los cuales un espíritu maligno controla el cuerpo de otro aun sin que se de cuanta de lo que esta pasando. Se encuentran varios pasajes en el Evangelio sobre esto.
