Dear friends,

This weekend is Memorial Day Weekend. As Americans, we should take the time to reconnect with our history and with our core values by honoring and praying for those who gave their lives for the ideals we cherish. More than a million members of America’s Armed Forces have died in the wars and conflicts this nation has fought since the first colonial soldiers took up arms in 1775 to fight for independence. Each person who died during those conflicts was a loved one cherished by family and friends. Each was a loss to the community and the nation. That’s why our nation established this day of memorial. It is important for us to remember. Memories are precious and defining. We are who we are by what we choose to remember, and a nation is what it is by what it chooses to remember and celebrate. That’s why our nation set aside this day to remember all those men and women who have given their lives in service to this great country and made it possible for us to be here today and to worship freely.

It’s so easy for us to take for granted this day and the memories of all those heroic men and women. A three-day weekend with beautiful weather makes it tempting for us to get so busy with family activities and fun that we might forget what today is about. What a tragedy that would be!

We need to take time to remember all those men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice of their lives so that we could have our lives, and millions around the world could have theirs. Let me share with you three important reasons why we should remember.

Number one: We should remember because it’s through the sacrifice of others that we have our freedom and our faith. In India, there is a beautiful monument called the Kohima Memorial that commemorates all the Allied soldiers who died repulsing the Japanese Army who had invaded India in March 1944. The Allied Forces succeeded in driving the Japanese Army back and out of India. This impressive memorial consists of a large monolith of Naga stone, some fifteen feet high, set upright on a dressed stone pedestal. It has a small cross carved at the top of the monolith and below there is a bronze plaque that bears an even more impressive inscription which is known as The Kohima Epitaph. It reads: “You Go Home, Tell Them Of Us And Say, For Their Tomorrow, We Gave Our Today”

It is because of all those people whom we remember this weekend—those people who sacrificed their lives in the yesterdays of history because they believed in ‘life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness’ for every person—it is because of all those people that the further pursuit of these ideals in all the tomorrows of history is possible.

The second reason we remember is that we cannot afford to forget. American philosopher George Santayana once said: “Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it.” While it may be politically fashionable to forget certain things about our history or to re-write them to fit a particular viewpoint or agenda, the danger from forgetting them is that history, with its many disasters, has a way of repeating itself.

Finally, we remember because the act of remembering is an act of gratitude. We in this country owe a great debt of gratitude to those who sacrificed their lives so that we could live free. We can start to pay that debt by not forgetting, by remembering what they did and what they stood for. Charles M. Province expressed it poignantly in his powerful reflection:

"It is the Soldier, not the reporter,
Who has given us Freedom of the Press.
It is the Soldier, not the poet,
Who has given us Freedom of Speech.
It is the Soldier, not the campus organizer,
Who has given us the Freedom to demonstrate.
It is the Soldier, not the lawyer,
Who has given us the right to a fair trial;
And it is the Soldier—who salutes the flag,
Who serves the flag, and
Whose coffin is draped by the flag—
Who allows the protester to burn the flag."

It is important that we take time to remember. Memories are precious and defining. We are who we are by what we choose to remember, and a nation is what it is by what it chooses to remember and celebrate.

That’s why we gather on this Memorial Day to celebrate the greatest Memorial of all—the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass—and to pray for those who sacrificed their lives for us and for our nation. All those other memories of their heroic sacrifices are small, mirrored reflections of the greatest sacrifice of all—the sacrifice of Christ on Calvary where Jesus said, “You go out to all the world and say of Me, for their tomorrow and for their eternity, I gave My Today.”

Did you Know?

Sometimes adults may have a tendency to try to fix problems that come up with their children. While the instinct to help and the loving concern behind it is understandable, it is not always the best course of action if the child is not learning something about how to handle a problem at least partly on their own. For some problems, children just need a good listener; for others they need guidance and help discerning how best to respond. Try asking questions, encouraging solutions, and praying with and for the child. For a copy of the VIRTUS® article “Communication Tip No. 10: You Can’t Fix Them, But You Can…” email jvienna@la-archdiocese.org or call 213-637-7227.

Avoid “fixing” and try to listen and understand

Evite “reparar” y trate de escuchar y entender

En ocasiones los adultos pudieran tener una tendencia a tratar de reparar problemas que puedan surgir con sus hijos. Aunque el instinto para ayudar y la preocupación amorosa detrás de esta actitud es comprensible, no es siempre el mejor curso de acción a tomar si el niño o la niña no está aprendiendo algo sobre cómo manejar un problema, al menos en parte por ellos mismos. Para algunos problemas, los niños sólo necesitan un buen escucha; otros necesitan guía y ayuda para discernir cómo responder mejor. Trate de hacer preguntas, ánimeslos a encontrar soluciones, y recé con y por el niño o la niña. Para una copia del artículo en VIRTUS® “Communication Tip No. 10: You Can’t Fix Them, But You Can…” (Consejo de comunicación No. 10: Usted no puede repararlos, pero puede…) envíe un correo electrónico a jvienna@la-archdiocese.org o llame al 213-637-7227.
Este fin de semana es el “Día Memorial”. Como Americanos debemos tomar tiempo para conectarnos con nuestra historia y nuestros valores, honrando y orando por aquellos quienes dieron sus vidas por los ideales que no nosotros apreciamos.

Primera razón: Debemos recordar que es por medio de el sacrificio de otros que nosotros tenemos la libertad y nuestra Fe. La segunda razón por la que tenemos que recordar es que no podemos permitirnos el lujo de olvidar. El filósofo Americano, George Santayana dijo una vez: “Aquello que no recuerdan el pasado están condenados a repetirla”. Finalmente hay que recordar porque el acto de recordar es un acto de gratitud. En este país nosotros tenemos una gran deuda hacia aquellos quienes sacrificaron sus vidas para que nosotros pudiéramos vivir con libertad. Podemos empezar a pagar esa deuda recordando lo que hicieron y por el ideal que lo hicieron. Charles M. Province lo expresa potencialmente aquí:

"Es el Soldado, no el reportero quien nos da la libertad de la Prensa. Es el Soldado no el poeta quien nos da libertad de expresarnos públicamente. Es el Soldado, no el organizador quien nos da la libertad de hacer “demostraciones” Es el Soldado, no el abogado quien nos da el derecho a un juicio justo; y es el Soldado—quien saluda y sirve a la bandera, y a quien se le pone en su atadí y por el que el que protesta puede quemar la bandera”

Es importante tomarnos el tiempo y recordar. Es por eso que hoy nos reunimos en este Día Memorial a celebrar el Memorial mas grandioso de todos—El Santo Sacrificio de la Misa—y oramos por todos quienes sacrificaron sus vidas por nuestra nación. Todos los otros recuerdos y sus sacrificios heroicos son pequeños y reflejan el sacrificio mas grande de todos—el sacrificio de Cristo en el Calvario donde Jesús dijo, “Ve a todo el mundo y diles que dí mi Hoy para que ustedes tengan su mañana y su eternidad”

Sinceramente en Cristo,
P. Joseph Shea

Es el Soldado, no el reportero quien nos da la libertad de la Prensa. Es el Soldado no el poeta quien nos da libertad de expresarnos públicamente. Es el Soldado, no el organizador quien nos da libertad de hacer “demostraciones” Es el Soldado, no el abogado quien nos da el derecho a un juicio justo; y es el Soldado—quien saluda y sirve a la bandera, y a quien se le pone en su atadí y por el que el que protesta puede quemar la bandera”
