Everyone Sought to Touch Jesus

This article was published in the magazine "Magnificat" and I thought it was so beautiful that I want to share it with you. Sometimes we get too over-zealous in evangelizing our Catholic Faith; most of the time it is a good thing but sometimes we pick the wrong time, the wrong words or we make a judgment on where the people are at the time. It might not be the right time. So, here is another approach accompanied by a lot of prayer. I hope you will see the value in these words.

“Most people who want to know God and who are outside the Church have just one thing that is precious to them though to us with our clear-cut definitions, our discipline, our sacraments, it may seem so vague that it is hard for us to realize how much it means to them. This is their personal approach to God. Very often it seems to be hardly that at all, so vague is it, so closely does it lean to sentimentality. It may be simply a memory of childhood, or a stirring of the spirit when a certain familiar hymn is heard; it may be just a fling of the heart to God, on seeing the first wild spray of blossoms that proclaims the Spring. But, it is quite surely an indication of that individual’s approach to God and of His approach to them, and it is as sweet to them as it would be to a blind man if, reaching out in darkness he touched the garment hem of Christ.

Too often, through our own fault, we give people who are thus clinging to their own personal contact with God the idea that Catholicism would sweep it away. Quite wrongly, we give them the idea that we are not seeking any more, that we have a formula for everything, that we hold feeling in contempt, live only by acts of will, and that there is nothing that we cannot explain.

Of course, this is untrue. We, too, are always seeking for God, always reaching out blind fingers to touch His garment, and we are blinded by the very light of the mysteries of our Faith, which we can live by but cannot explain and can barely begin to understand.

To the enquirer, our hard, unanswerable arguments, dealt out blow by blow with our sledgehammer of zeal, are all too convincing - to the mind. But, the heart rises up in revolt against "apologetics" which may convince against the will, and sweep away that lovely touch in the darkness which is at the heart of our lives."

(My words: we are still obligated to pass on all that constitutes our Catholic Faith; however, we have to meet people where they are, not where we want them. Conversion is a gradual thing; a good thing; a desirable thing.)

Fr. Jim

Caryl/ Houselander was a British mystic, poet and spiritual teacher.

Join us to Pray the Rosary on Saturday, October 13 at noon!

Where two or three are united in my name there am I (Mt18:20)

YOU ARE THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD (Mt5:14)

Last year, we celebrated the 100th Anniversary of the apparitions of Our Lady to the 3 children Lucia, Jacinta and Francisco in Fatima, Portugal. On Oct. 13, 1917, the last of the apparitions in Fatima, a miracle of the sun took place, which was witnessed by 70,000 people, including atheists, communists and anti-Catholics. Some of them converted. This year the Rosary will take place on Saturday, October 13th at 12 noon. The location is 5050 Los Angeles Ave., Simi Valley, on the sidewalk in front of the Amtrak/ Metrolink Station, directly across the street from Rancho Santa Susana Park. The rosary is a powerful prayer. Let’s gather to pray for blessings on our nation, and on our world and in reparation the sins of the world. We hope to see you there. For more information please contact: Lorraine Ferrall 805-428-1893.

Catholicism in the United States has a challenging but rich history that is rarely told. Emily Stimpson Chapman, an experienced journalist and the author of numerous books, tells of the triumphs and obstacles that Catholics faced in the 1800s when evangelizing. Emily’s telling of the immense struggles that bishops, religious, and lay people endured to spread the Gospel in the nineteenth century offers us relatable role models and inspiration as we face challenges in our own day.

Parishioner Comments
An interesting and inspiring talk about the lessons we can learn from those who came before us and laid the foundations of faith in our country. What a beautiful talk to remind us of those who sacrificed their lives for our faith! If it were not for them we may have not have what we have now. Ben - Chicago, IL

Our Lord Himself has promised that He will bless and sanctify those families who Enthroned Him as King. He asked Saint Margaret Mary, to whom He revealed His Sacred Heart, that He be allowed to reign over the homes of the rich and the poor; that He be solemnly received as King and Friend, and that His Sacred Heart be honored and loved. “I will establish peace in their homes: I will give them all the graces necessary for their state of life: I will comfort them in all their afflictions; I will bless all their undertakings.” Hence we may safely say that this is the means Our Lord Himself has selected to restore His sovereign rights over the family, and through the family, over society itself.

Mutual Respect is Key for Friendships

Your child will make many friends throughout his lifetime. As children grow, their interests change and develop, and they meet many new people along the way. But as children make new friends, mutual respect should be the guiding principle of these relationships. Parents, talk to your children about how they should feel in a friendship — true friends care about each other and respect each other’s thoughts and feelings and personal boundaries. If your child isn’t receiving respect from her friends, she is learning to accept less than she deserves in a relationship. And if she is the one who doesn’t give respect to her friends, she is learning emotional power.
