Baked by the Fire of Divinity
This bread, being the Son of the living Father, is life by its very nature, and accordingly gives life to all. Just as earthly bread sustains the fragile substance of the flesh and prevents it from falling into decay, so Christ quickens the soul through the power of the Spirit, and also preserves even the body for immortality. Through Christ, resurrection from the dead and bodily immortality have been gratuitously bestowed upon the human race.
Jesus said to the people: "I am the bread of life. Whoever comes to me shall never hunger, and whoever believes in me shall never thirst." He did not say "the bread of bodily nourishment" but "the bread of life." For when everything had been reduced to a condition of spiritual death, the Lord gave us life through himself, who is bread because, as we believe, the leaven in the dough of our humanity was baked through and through by the fire of his divinity. He is the bread not of this ordinary life, but of a very different kind of life which death will never cut short.
Whoever believes in this bread will never hunger, will never be famished for want of hearing the word of God; nor will such a person be parched by spiritual thirst for lack of the waters of baptism and the consecration imparted by the Spirit. The unbaptized, deprived of the refreshment afforded by the sacred water, suffer thirst and great aridity. The baptized, on the other hand, being possessed of the Spirit, enjoy its continual consolation.
St. Theophylact, Commentary on John Theophylact (ca. 1050-1109) was archbishop of Ochrida in Bulgarian territory. He wrote numerous commentaries on Scripture and, with his model Chrysostom, stressed practical morality.

Horneado por el Fuego de la Divinidad
Este pan, siendo Hijo del Padre viviente, es vida por su misma naturaleza y, por tanto, da vida a todos. Así como el pan terrenal sostiene la frágil sustancia de la carne y evita que se descomponga, así Cristo da vida al alma por el poder del Espíritu y también preserva incluso el cuerpo para la inmortalidad. Por medio de Cristo, la resurrección de entre los muertos y la inmortalidad corporal han sido otorgadas gratuitamente a la raza humana.
Jesús dijo a la gente: "Yo soy el pan de vida. El que a mí viene nunca tendrá hambre, y el que cree en mí no tendrá sed jamás". No dijo "el pan de nutrición corporal" sino "el pan de vida". Porque cuando todo se redujo a una condición de muerte espiritual, el Señor nos dio la vida por sí mismo, que es pan porque, como creemos, la levadura de la masa de nuestra humanidad fue cocida por completo por el fuego de su divinidad. Él es el pan no de esta vida ordinaria, sino de un tipo de vida muy diferente que la muerte nunca se acorte.
El que cree en este pan nunca tendrá hambre, nunca pasará hambre por no escuchar la palabra de Dios; ni una persona así estará reseca por sed espiritual por falta de las aguas del bautismo y de la consagración impartida por el Espíritu. Los no bautizados, privados del refrigerio que proporciona el agua sagrada, sufren sed y gran aridez. El bautizado, por otro lado, estando en posesión de la Espiritu, disfruta de su continuo consuelo.
San Teofilacto, Comentario sobre Juan Teofilacto (ca. 1050-1109) fue arzobispo de Ochrida en territorio búlgaro. Escribió numerosos comentarios sobre las Escrituras y, con su modelo Crisóstomo, enfatizó la moral práctica.

"Yo soy el pan de vida"
