It is not surprising that today’s selections for readings are in juxtaposition to last week’s Liturgy of the Word. Last week, the beginning of the penitential season of Lent, told of God’s willing assistance to those who place their faith in Him. The Gospel, itself, conveyed the Temptation of Jesus in the desert. Christ successfully passed where Adam had failed and as a result received the grace needed to confront His supreme test – the Cross. The message was clear. God will assist all who reach out to Him in order to bring about victory. Today’s Liturgy of the Word reveals the ultimate reward, God Himself, that is bestowed upon those who truly listen to the Word.

The result of truly “listening” to the Word is reflected in the second reading from the Letter of St. Paul to the Philippians. Paul clearly exhorts the Christians to live life according to the model they have received. The Apostle to the Gentiles reminds all that people of the “world” are corrupt and the end result will be their destruction. However, Christians own citizenship in heaven and will reap the glory received by Christ if they adhere to His teachings. Despite whatever sufferings may come their way, the Christian who relies upon God will be rewarded just as Christ was.

This reward is revealed in today’s Gospel according to Luke that relates the Transfiguration of the Lord on a mountain. This divine event has been misinterpreted by many Christians throughout the ages; however, the significance of it is inestimable. According to many theologians, it is here that Jesus encounters Moses and Elijah and learns of the extent of the Messiah’s sufferings. While this is true, there is another important factor involved. It is at this point that the full divinity of Jesus is revealed to his disciples and they are privileged to see him in all of his Glory. This is the total revelation of who Jesus really is – God! Following Christ’s willful acceptance of the Father’s plan for salvation, the Father is moved to declare, “This is my chosen Son, listen to him.” After this, things return to normal and Jesus heads to Jerusalem to fulfill the Will of the Father.

This miraculous event presents a paradox to Christ’s followers who were witnesses on the mountain. Jesus continues to preach that he must suffer and die. This statement would run contrary to what the disciples would expect of their Messiah. According to all the different beliefs, the Messiah was to establish a new and eternal kingdom. The Lord’s followers would naturally be thinking as men do. They would be expecting and desiring a geopolitical kingdom where the Jews would be supreme ruler. The upcoming events would challenge their faith and cause them to fear for their own survival. This singular event they witnessed would be the slim thread they could grasp as they awaited the glorification of the Lord.

Today, Holy Mother the Church reminds us of this divine revelation. The Transfiguration of the Lord recalls for us the Divinity of Christ who conquers all – including sin and death. It is a glimpse of what awaits us if we “listen to him” and follow his voice. God is calling all through our baptism to be part of His Chosen People. We are a people who does His Will and imitates Christ’s sacrificial love for all. As we shed our mortal framework, we put on the armor of light. It is through this Light that we show the world the path to the Father. It is road transverse first by Christ, then, by those who follow him. Through prayer, almsgiving and fasting, we prepare for the great Paschal Mystery where we will rise in glory with our brother, Jesus.

SAINTS OF LENT:  SAINT JOSEPH
March 19
The Holy Scriptures state St. Joseph, the husband of Mary, was a just man. He became holy by opening himself totally to God and His will. He was simply, joyfully and wholeheartedly obedient to God. He demonstrated his faith be marrying Mary who was pregnant, naming Jesus, shepherding his family to Egypt and bringing them safely to Nazareth. St. Joseph is a great intercessor to pray to for encouragement and guidance.
