Following Jesus: Invitation to Discipleship

St. Teresa of Calcutta,

a model of discipleship:

"We do not need to carry out grand things in order to show a great love for God and for our neighbor. It is the intensity of love we put into our gestures that makes them into something beautiful for God."

Five Ways to Live Like Mother Teresa:

- 1. Be an advocate for those without a voice.
- 2. Be determined, but don't be afraid to ask for help.
- 3. Pray.
- 4. Live humbly.
- 5. Smile.

From the Desk of Pamela Sherlock – Youth Ministry*Living God's Loving Mercy

Today, September 4, 2016, we celebrate the canonization of Mother Teresa of Calcutta, as Pope Francis declares her saint. In her life, Mother, now Saint Teresa was the embodiment of mercy. She physically manifested God's loving mercy on earth and walked among us! Saint Teresa was a tiny woman with a great and open heart. Having heard the voice of God commanding her to serve the poorest of the poor, St. Teresa gave her assent. This was not an easy decision. There were many obstacles for her to overcome, both corporal and spiritual. Perhaps the most daunting was the spiritual dryness St. Teresa experienced after beginning her mission. She felt as if God had dropped her hand in the middle of a turbulent stream. Nevertheless, she persevered. Her tenacity despite roadblocks, detours, and dead-ends, is a testament to her significant faith. How many of us can say the same? As the year of mercy draws to a close, let us reflect more on living a life of mercy. Pope Francis, in his reflection on July 3rd, 2013 said: "How can I find the wounds of Jesus today? I cannot see them as Thomas saw them. I find them in doing works of mercy, in giving to the body—to the body and to the soul, but I stress the body—of your injured brethren, for they are hungry, thirsty, naked, humiliated, slaves, in prison, in hospital. These are the wounds of Jesus in our day." Another saint connected to mercy is Saint Faustina. Saint Faustina is most commonly known for the Divine Mercy Chaplet, yet she also offered this prayer in 1937:

Help me, O Lord, that my eyes may be merciful, so that I may never suspect or judge from appearances, but look for what is beautiful in my neighbors' souls and come to their rescue.

Help me, O Lord, that my ears may be merciful, so that I may give heed to my neighbors' needs and not be indifferent to their pains and moanings.

Help me, O Lord, that my tongue may be merciful, so that I should never speak negatively of my neighbor, but have a word of comfort and forgiveness for all.

Help me, O Lord, that my hands may be merciful and filled with good deeds, so that I may do only good to my neighbors and take upon myself the more difficult and toilsome tasks.

Help me, O Lord, that my feet may be merciful, so that I may hurry to assist my neighbor, overcoming my own fatigue and weariness. My true rest is in the service of my neighbor.

Help me, O Lord, that my heart may be merciful so that I myself may feel all the sufferings of my neighbor. I will refuse my heart to no one. I will be sincere even with those who, I know, will abuse my kindness. And I will lock myself up in the most merciful Heart of Jesus. I will bear my own suffering in silence. May Your mercy, O Lord, rest upon me.

You Yourself command me to exercise the three degrees of mercy. The first: the act of mercy, of whatever kind. The second: the word of mercy – if I cannot carry out a work of mercy, I will assist by my words. The third: prayer – if I cannot show mercy by my deeds or words, I can always do so by prayer. My prayer reaches out even there where I cannot reach out physically.

O my Jesus, transform me into Yourself, for You can do all things.

Rural Culture

We are fortunate to live in a strong rural area. Below are remarks from Pope Pius XII I found on the Catholic Rural Life website. Even though these comments are about 60 years old, they hold ideals that are timeless. Enjoy the excerpt:

“Your lives are rooted in the family — universally, deeply, and completely; consequently, they conform very closely to nature. In this fact lies your economic strength and your ability to withstand adversity in critical times. Your being so strongly rooted in the family constitutes the importance of your contribution to the correct development of the private and public order of society. You are called upon for this reason to perform an indispensable function as source and defense of a stainless moral and religious life. For the land is a kind of nursery which supplies men, sound in soul and body, for all occupations, for the Church, and for the State.

So much the more, then, must great care be taken to preserve for the nation the essential elements of what might be called genuine rural culture. We must preserve the qualities of industriousness, simple and honest living, respect for authority, especially for parental authority, love of country, and loyalty to traditions which have proved a source of good throughout the centuries. We must preserve readiness to aid one another within the family circle and amongst families, from home to home. All of these qualities we must have animated with a true religious spirit, for without such a spirit these very virtues tend to degenerate into unbridled greed for profit. May the fear of God and faith in God, a faith which finds daily expression in prayers recited together by the whole family, sustain and guide the life of the workers of the fields. Let the Church remain the heart of the village, the shrine of the people. Sunday after Sunday, may it gather the faithful, true to the sacred traditions of their ancestors. There may they lift their minds above material things to the praise and service of God and to supplication for the strength to think and live in a truly Christian manner during the coming week.”
