Dear ASA Families,

ASA 2020 Talent Show - Quarantine Edition

The show must go on! The fact that the annual talent show could not be presented in the traditional manner did not stop our students. Three 7th graders tackled this year's talent show as their Passion Project. They collected videos that other students had made to showcase their talents, curated them and created a video version of the show. Many thanks to Josh M, Hadrian S, and Thomas V for taking this on and producing such a great showcase for our students. You can watch the show here.

Library Books

If your child still has school library books out, you should have received an email listing the books and prices last week, with a reminder this week. For those who returned their books this week, or paid for lost books, thank you so much! If you still have the books, please bring them to the elementary office, which is open 9am - 4pm Monday-Friday all summer. Books still out next week will be charged to your SmartTuition account. If the book is returned or located later, that charge will be removed.

Keep Scanning and Collecting Those Box Tops All Summer!

Although we will not be collecting clipped Box Tops for Education until next Fall, you can continue to collect them or SCAN your receipts each time you shop. Clipping box tops is being phased out, and replaced with scanning. Please download the Box Tops for Education app, and scan your grocery receipts within 14 days of purchase. ASA will receive credit for both scan only and clippable box tops. If you clip and save your box tops, we will receive double credit for them. Please do not clip Box tops with the word SCAN on them. Thanks for continuing to support ASA!

Best Social Media Networks Made for Young Kids

It's summer, and kids love to stay in touch with their school friends. Social Media is technically designed for ages 13 and up, although the jury's still out as to whether students as young as 13 are mature enough to handle social media. Three social media platforms specifically designed for children are reviewed by Protect Young Eyes in this blog post.

In the Summertime, Internet Risks Go Up, Up, Up

As we prepare for summer break, it's important for parents to recognize the situations that increase digital risk that are unique to this block of time. The places, patterns, and people of summer create new risks for parents to mitigate. Our friends at Protect Young Eyes provide tips for parents here.

Summer's Here and So Is the TikTok Obsession

Not sure what TikTok is? Not sure what parts of it you should be concerned about? This post from The Bark Blog will help parents keep children safe on the app.
