In reading through and then reflecting on our Gospel this weekend where Jesus heals a leper, there are so many layers of meaning to discover. It can also be so easy for us to miss the huge impact of this encounter between Jesus and the leper and the message that is present for us. Saint Mark in his Gospel often reports things very simply and in a straightforward manner and leaves us to explore things further. Our Gospel then is not simply yet another account of the miraculous healing of a person by Jesus, wonderful as this is, but it means so much more.

We know that at the time of Jesus, the disease of leprosy (or what is often called today Hansen’s disease) was greatly feared, not least because there was no known cure for it and also because the disease greatly disfigured the sufferer. It was also feared as it was seen as highly contagious. The result of all this was that anyone who had the disease had to leave their family, their job and their whole life behind and go and live in special camps outside any populated area. If all this was not bad enough, many believed that if one had the disease then this was a sign that you had been cursed by God. So, apart from the terrible physical consequences of leprosy, a leper had to endure isolation and stigma on every level: socially, spiritually and humanly. It would be like a living death and who could endure such a thing?

Into this situation comes Jesus. The first thing that we notice in the encounter is that the leper approaches Jesus. This would be shocking, as lepers were required by law to keep their distance. None-the-less, the leper takes a chance and comes to Jesus. Notice too that he kneels down: a sign, St. Bede reminds us, of the humility of the leper before the Lord. Jesus too breaks convention and enters into a dialogue with the leper; but not only that, he actually touches the leper! It is hard for us to grasp just how incredible this would have been. For one thing, Jesus could have healed him from a safe distance, but instead he touches him. In that touch, of course, Jesus breaks the isolation of the leper and shows a love and an intimacy for this suffering person, an acceptance and a welcome. Jesus heals the leper and sends him to fulfill the requirements of the Law so that he can return to his family and to his home. Of course, Jesus does not only physically heal the leper, but heals him on every other level too. A living death, as we have seen, becomes a new life.

As always, when we reflect upon the Word of God, perhaps especially all those wonderful encounters between Jesus and others, there is also a question and a challenge. How does this encounter affect me and what can I discover from it for my own relationship with the Lord and with others? With our Gospel, we can certainly renew our appreciated of the healing power of Jesus: he is the one who can heal us on every level, perhaps most clearly when we too feel isolated or disconnected in some way, especially through our faults and failings.

We can also realize that, like the leper, we have to take something a chance or a leap of faith and approach Jesus with our request, again just as the leper did in the Gospel. We can also publicize this healing power of Jesus, just as the leper went about telling everyone in the town that he had been healed. After all, good news should be shared with others! Finally, Jesus also asks us to be healers too. We will probably not encounter someone who is suffering from leprosy or Hansen’s disease, but we will certainly encounter people who feel isolated or who are treated almost like lepers, perhaps what we might call social lepers whether at work, or at school or just in the neighborhood. Can we stretch out a hand and offer some sort of contact or healing, imitating the wonderful example of Jesus…?

Fr. Anthony

Suffering is a great grace; through suffering the soul becomes like the Savior; in suffering Love becomes crystallized; the greater the suffering, the purer the Love. St. Faustina

This past week my mother-in-law, Mary Jane Damberg experienced suffering. And while she suffered her children suffered. And while my bride suffered I too suffered. And we huddled together in loves embrace and we shared our sorrow and our pain. My brother Bart gave me a prayer that said:

God our Father, we press our open wounds into the precious wounds of Jesus Your son; that Your will and ours be one. Through these shared wounds may we be healed and bring your healing love to others that all may be enriched in the fullness of love by Jesus the Divine Humanity.

Today Mary Jane will and our Lords are one.
Principal for the Day
By Priddy-Jolliffe-Buyce
Grade 4

On Thursday, February 5th I had a very good starting with morning prayer. I announced the birthdays and the February Students of the Month. It was very fun! Together Mrs. McGraw and I handed out pencils and pens to the students of the month. While Mrs. McGraw was in a meeting, Mrs. McCoy (my secretary) and I decorated the faculty room door. Then Mrs. McGraw and I enjoyed our birthday cupcakes.

I visited the parish offices and met the parish staff.

At lunch time, I invited my two friends Emily and Vivienne, to join me in my office for lunch. After lunch, I went to my favorite subject: music class. I concluded my day by writing the weekly bulletin article just like Mrs. McGraw does.

One of my favorite parts was eating lunch with my friends. I also liked decorating the door. My very favorite part was having the “keys to the kingdom.” The students all loved me when I made the announcement over the PA speaker that there was “NO homework!” My final fun thing I did as principal was announce Friday would be a backwards dress down day for everyone in the school.

DEALING WITH GRIEF-SEEKING ASSISTANCE "BEGINNING EXPERIENCE"

There is a wonderful, amazing program that for the most part has been a well kept secret. It is a Diocesan Program which has been running for several years. It was founded by a Catholic nun and her divorced friend, serving all faiths. It can help you deal with the natural Grief process and offers an opportunity, through God, for turning your pain of loss into an experience of positive growth.

It is a weekend retreat that may be the beginning of a transformation. It is peer Leadership and Team, which means those that present, serve and get it. They have experienced the devastation of Loss through Death of a Spouse or Divorce.

The next weekend Retreat is approaching. There are only 2 per year (limited openings).
The next retreat is March 20—22nd.
If you are interested please call me at 785-1351 x304 or call 866-610-8877 or
WWW.BEGINNINGEXPERIENCE.ORG

It can make a difference. It is a gift for you or someone you love or care about. Help them on their difficult journey of pain and grief. It is held in a beautiful Holy setting locally, a Catholic Priest from NY is available to speak with through reconciliation.

DIOCESE SPECIAL COLLECTION

On weekending February 21 & 22 a special collection will be taken up in every church in the Diocese for the Black & Native American & Latin American Missions. Your support of the Black and Indian Missions assists the presence of missionaries here in African American, Native American, and Alaska Native missions, schools, and religious education programs. Your sacrifice addresses the need to train catechists, permanent deacons, and seminarians for future generations here in many of our cities. For the Missions of Latin America you bring support to a range of pastoral projects and your donations are used to help fund catechesis and evangelization programs in many areas of Latin America where resources are scarce.

As we are a tithing parish, a portion of our regular collection will be tithed toward this Special Collection.
