SAINT PATRICK AND SAINT JOSEPH

During our season of Lent, we also have a number of special feasts and solemnities sprinkled along the way. They remind us of the wonderful witness of the saints and they can also provide something of a breather from all the rigors of Lent! This coming week is a case in point when on Tuesday we celebrate St. Patrick and then on Thursday, Saint Joseph. The lives of both saints read like an adventure and they can both inspire us and encourage us as we continue our journey of Lent.

Saint Patrick was alive at a crucial and difficult time in history (at the beginning of the fifth century) when the Roman Empire was crumbling fast. Patrick was the son of a Roman civil servant and was a native Briton (nobody quite knows where he lived, but it was probably somewhere in the west of England). At the age of sixteen he was captured by Irish raiders and spent six years as a slave in Ireland tending the sheep. It was during this time that he experienced a deep spiritual conversion and became a firm disciple of the Lord.

After those six years Patrick escaped and returned home, but soon he went to France to live as a monk. At some stage he was ordained as a priest, but always felt a call to return to Ireland to be the Lord’s instrument there. After sixteen years (around 432 AD) he was made a bishop and went to Ireland to spread the Gospel, travelling far and wide from his base in Armagh (that is still the principal Diocese of all Ireland). He did this with great enthusiasm and success, despite some setbacks and opposition.

Saint Patrick is known, of course, for many things. He had the idea of using the three-leaved shamrock to explain the three persons yet one God of the Holy Trinity. His poem or hymn called “Saint Patrick’s Breastplate” is a wonderful prayer and well worth reading and using. Above all, perhaps he shows how God can use apparent misfortune (Saint Patrick’s capture) and turn it to the good. Saint Patrick also reminds us that we are all called to spread the Gospel in whatever way we can through our own circumstances.

By contrast, St. Joseph always seems to be a background figure, often depicted as an old man in many pictures or statues of him. Yet all this is perhaps a bit of a disservice to St. Joseph as he was a key figure in Jesus’ life and ministry and because he can provide a wonderful example for us. In fact, he is the official patron of the universal church: a title given to him to indicate this important role and that he continues his work and presence even today.

We hear about St. Joseph a number of times in the Scriptures. He is described as a “just man” as he wishes to do the right thing when Mary is discovered to be with child. He is also a man of humility and faith. He did what the Lord asked him to do many times: in taking Mary as his wife, in escaping King Herod and going into exile in Egypt and in naming the child “Jesus” as he had been told to, even though it was his right to choose a name. He was, therefore, also a man of action and obedience in humbly doing what was asked to do.

At the same time he was a man of prayer and contemplation: how else would he have listened and then heard what God wanted him to do with his life and with Mary and Jesus who had been placed in his care? We can imagine that prayer also gave him strength in his many trials and tribulations: in the desperate search to find a place for Mary to have her child, or in fleeing as a refugee with his family to a foreign land and then having to rebuild his business and connections from scratch as he and the family returned not to their home town of Bethlehem but to Nazareth, or as he and Mary searched for the lost twelve-year old Jesus in Jerusalem.

St. Joseph also provided for his family with his craft as a carpenter (although interestingly, some traditions say that he was a metal worker). His vocation was to be a guardian and foster father to Jesus, as a husband and protector to Mary and to support them with his job. St. Joseph can be a great help and inspiration to all fathers as they try to do their best for their children. After all, to quote one writer, ‘it is easier to be a friend than a parent…!’

Let us be inspired by our two saints and ask their prayers and protection.

Fr. Anthony

CHURCH HEATING SYSTEM

UPDATE AND APPEAL

As mentioned at the Masses last weekend, we need to make some significant and overdue repairs and improvements to the church heating system (that is also the system for part of the school). Our heating system is certainly feeling its age, especially after the cold winter that we have had. We also have the issue that there are no thermostatic controls for the system: it is either on or off and we cannot zone areas for heating. Of course, all of this means that we are wasting energy and that we cannot control the heating in particular areas. We have also had a number of close calls over the winter when we nearly lost the whole system!

We are looking at estimates for the cost of this necessary and overdue work and we hope to carry it out once the spring arrives: if it ever does! Again, as mentioned at Mass, we do budget for repairs and general maintenance and this is usually covered by our tithing and weekly offertory (many thanks, as ever for your amazing generosity), but, as you can imagine, this project would be well beyond the usual amount. The total cost would be in the $45,000 range. It seems a good idea to have mini capital project to help meet these costs and so special envelopes will be available in the church over the next few weeks. It must be stressed that this collection is entirely voluntary.

Many thanks again for your generosity and ongoing support.

Fr. Anthony

Hats Off to Dr. Seuss!
This has been the most magical, Seussical week! Earlier in the week Thing One and Thing Two with their fluffy hair of blue were found reading to students in grade 1 and grade 2. Green eggs and ham was the food choice this week. Some students liked them some shrieked “EEEK!” One Fish, Two Fish, Red Fish, Blue Fish. Actually 356 Aidan guessed was the number of Goldfish! Wocket in Pockets, some named Zocket and one named ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ! Who could mock it? The Cat in the Hat was alive and well. Who liked the books more the teachers or students? No one could tell! Our week is done but not the fun. Rhyming and timing are always a hoot. Now we await the leprechaun and his pot of loot!

We will be collecting Easter Candy baskets for children. Please bring them to my office by Monday, March 23, so they can be delivered. This project is also being assisted by a Pastoral Studies Student Melissa Argay.
