FIRST HOLY COMMUNION

This Saturday (2nd May), our parish and school family here at St. Ambrose’s celebrates the First Holy Communion of 63 of our children. They have been preparing for this day for many months and they, along with their families have been eagerly awaiting this unique and special day with great excitement. Please do keep all of them in your thoughts and in your prayers during this coming week and for the weeks ahead.

This great event is, of course, also a wonderful opportunity for us to reflect upon the Eucharist, the sacrament that is so often called the “source and the summit” of the Christian life. The Eucharist is so many things because it is such a great gift from God. It is the real presence of Jesus Christ: not just an ordinary symbol, but a living and real presence. We can remember our Lord’s own words at the Last supper: “this is my body, this is my blood” (Mark 14: 22-24). In the Eucharist, we receive Jesus in a substantial and sacramental way under the form of the consecrated and converted bread and wine. As St. Ambrose wrote: “be convinced that this is not what nature has formed but what the blessing has consecrated… for by the blessing, nature itself is changed.” The Eucharist is also a true memorial and presence of Jesus’ sacrifice for us and it is the sacrament, above all, where we partake in the fruits of that sacrifice.

The Eucharist is “real food and real drink” (John 6:55) where we are fed and sustained. As St. Ambrose writes: “be convinced that this is not what nature has formed but what the blessing has consecrated… for by the blessing, nature itself is changed.” The Eucharist is also a true memorial and presence of Jesus’ sacrifice for us and it is the sacrament, above all, where we partake in the fruits of that sacrifice.

As St. Ambrose wrote: “be convinced that this is not what nature has formed but what the blessing has consecrated… for by the blessing, nature itself is changed.” The Eucharist is also a true memorial and presence of Jesus’ sacrifice for us and it is the sacrament, above all, where we partake in the fruits of that sacrifice.

As we celebrate with our First Holy Communion children and their families, let us also celebrate and appreciate (or re-appreciate!) this great gift that we receive. Let coming to Mass and receiving the Eucharist never become an empty ritual or something that happens on autopilot, but rather always be a life-changing encounter with the Lord.

Fr. Anthony

May Crowning after the 9am Sunday Mass this weekend

May is a month when we honor Our Lady
This Sunday, May 3rd, immediately following the 5:30pm Lifeten Mass there will be Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament. Jesus Christ veiled in the Eucharist. Combined with the sacrament of Reconciliation. All are invited and encouraged to come and share this awesome time of prayer, praise, Adoration and Reconciliation.

What is XLT? It is a time to spend in front of Jesus Christ veiled in the Eucharist and PRAY because there is no better way to share your thoughts with Jesus than to just open your heart and talk to Him:

Praise, because there is no better way to humble yourself and recognize how charitable He is with us and how gratefulness can bring us closer to Him than ever before:

Adore, because once you get a glimpse of how much He loves you and wants the best for you Adoration is the natural human response to God’s love.

What else happens? There is a group of priests that give their time for us to receive the sacrament of Reconciliation. The gift that keeps on giving. So many of us struggle with going to the sacrament thinking that we don’t need it; we didn’t do anything that bad; we don’t remember how to do it; we’re afraid to do it wrong and be in trouble by the priest. Just excuses I say—come, be brave, be reluctant, just come. Receive the grace God has for you to embrace you, empower you, encourage you to live in love.

Altar Server Lector Retreat for anyone in High School.

Have you thought about being an Altar Server or Lector but wasn’t sure how to get started? Have you done it before but not for a while? Are you doing it now and want to continue?

Lifeten is having a little getaway for anyone interested. Come one, come all to our annual Altar Server, Lector Retreat at Christ the King Spiritual Life Center in Greenwich, NY.

The cost is $50 per person. We’ll leave on Saturday morning at 9am and return for Mass at 5:30pm on Sunday.

This is the perfect chance to grow closer to Christ while growing closer to understanding Jesus Veiled in the Eucharist. To know Jesus is to love Him. To love Him is to serve Him. To serve Him is to know yourself.

Saturday May 16th to Sunday May 17th

Academic Success

One of our very own 4th graders, Peter Biegun, entered an academic Talent Search at Johns Hopkins Center for Talented Youth. Peter performed with excellence in mathematical, verbal, and spatial abilities. He was invited to their awards ceremony later this spring, and to participate in its prestigious summer program. His 4th grade teacher Eileen Galough and Math teacher Lily Spera are so proud of his accomplishment. As are all of us!
Way to go, Peter!

Thank you to everyone who contributed to our successful Trash-to-Treasure Sale and Electronics Recycling Event. 75 cars came through with recyclable electronics providing $800 in donations to St. Ambrose School. Miss Viola’s perennial sale netted over $3,000!

A Hollowed Space to be filled...

Borrowed from William Breault, SJ

A cup must be empty before it can be filled. If it is already full, it can’t be filled again except by emptying it out. In order to fill anything, there must be a hollowed-out space. Otherwise it can’t receive.

This is especially true of God’s word. In order to receive it, we must be hollowed out. We must be capable of receiving it, emptied of the false self and its endless demands.

When Christ came, there was no room in the inn. It was full. The inn is a symbol of the heart. God’s Word, Christ, can take root only in a hollow.

All Welcome!
SAINT OF THE WEEK
STS. PHILIP & JAMES THE LESS
First Century
May 3

Philip and James the Less, son of Alphaeus, are listed among the Twelve Apostles commissioned by Jesus. Philip brought Nathaniel to Christ, had a part in feeding the 5,000, and at the Last Supper, when he asked to be shown the Father, was told by Christ, “Have I been with you for so long a time and you still do not know me, Philip?” He may have evangelized in Turkey. Not much is known about James, but “the less” may refer to his height. One tradition puts him in Syria, while another has him martyred in the same Jerusalem persecution as James the Righteous.

The month of May is devoted to Mary and is traditionally celebrated with a crowning of Mary and praying of the Rosary. (CNS photo/Mike Crupi, Catholic Courier)

PRO-LIFE PERSPECTIVE
MARY, PRO-LIFE INSPIRATION
by Kimberly Baker

“Queen of Heaven, rejoice, alleluia.” So begins the Regina Caeli prayer, which replaces the noon-time Angelus during the Easter season. Because the Easter season extends well into May, we are able to use this special prayer to Mary during much of the month traditionally dedicated in her honor. Marian devotion can be a wonderful help in pro-life efforts.

Mary has many beautiful titles: Patroness of the Americas, Patroness of the New Evangelization, and Patroness of the Unborn, to name a few. We see her immense faith and total gift of herself at the moment of the Annunciation, when she agrees to be the Mother of God. We see her sensitivity and her spirit of charity when she visits her pregnant older cousin Elizabeth. We see her love and maternal care for new life when she shelters her infant son Jesus in the stable at Bethlehem. We see her conviction in pointing to Christ at the wedding of Cana when she says, “Do whatever he tells you” (Jn 2:5). We see her at the foot of the Cross, even there opening her heart to be the mother of all humanity.

Mary’s example is especially important to remember in pro-life efforts. She can be a tremendous source of inspiration and hope for women in today’s society, where there is so much woundedness resulting from the culture of death. Mary’s example of authentic Christian living speaks especially to a model of womanhood that is life-giving and love-affirming, and therefore very relevant to the pro-life message.

We have a beautiful message to share, a message of life, love, and true freedom. Let us remember the Queen of Heaven—not only during the month of May, but throughout the year—as we share the Gospel of Life.
