SAINT PETER AND SAINT PAUL:
A FOCUS ON SAINT PAUL...

On Monday, June 29th, we will celebrate the annual feast of Saint Peter and St. Paul, the “princes of the apostles.” In some countries it is such an important feast given the huge debt we owe to these two saints, that it is a holyday of obligation. Perhaps we could spend a few minutes reflecting on and learning about just one of these two wonderful saints; Saint Paul. St. Paul’s letters contain a huge treasury of thought and insight that has profoundly influenced and guided the development of our Christian faith. Many elements of Christian teaching are rooted in St. Paul’s letters and thirteen out of the twenty-seven documents in the New Testament are in his name.

St. Paul was probably born around 8-10 AD and, as we know, he was a zealous defender of the Jewish faith. Before his famous conversion on the road to the city of Damascus (Acts 9: 1-22), he was a persecutor of the early Christians. After his conversion he went on three missionary journeys to the then known world to spread the Gospel and he founded many churches as he went along on those journeys. In fact, many of his letters are addressed to these new churches. St. Paul finished his life in the great city of Rome where he was imprisoned for some time before being executed for his faith by beheading. As mentioned, he shares a feast day each year with the other great apostle, St. Peter, on 29th June.

There are thirteen letters attributed to St. Paul. Seven are undisputedly from him: Romans, 1 and 2 Corinthians, Galatians, Philippians, 1 Thessalonians and Philemon. The other six letters (Ephesians, Colossians, 2 Thessalonians, and 1 and 2 Timothy & Titus) are probably inspired by Paul, but may well have been written by disciples of Paul: a development of his teaching. We hear many of these letters in our second reading at Mass each Sunday.

There is no doubt that many key areas of doctrine and spirituality have been profoundly influenced by the writings and testimony of St. Paul. These include: our justification (that is the new relationship with God we receive through our baptism), the nature of original sin, how we are redeemed through Jesus Christ, the role of good works in our lives and the meaning of faith and of conversion. He also shows us the pattern and nature of evangelization itself (how we are to spread the Gospel today). St. Paul took the Gospel to the everyday places where people could be found, rather than expecting them to come to him. Most famously, he went to the areopagus (the town square, the center of civic life) in Athens and preached Christ there (Acts 17: 16-34). Two thousand years later at the beginning of the third millennium, Pope John Paul II invited all of us to do the same: to go to the modern day “areopagi” and to bring Christ to those everyday places. St. Paul also stressed the importance of our own experience of the risen Lord so that, as he puts it, “I no longer live, it is Christ who lives in me” (Galatians 2: 20).

Over the summer, why not take the opportunity to deepen our faith, guided by this great apostle to the nations. Finally, as St. Paul wrote movingly towards the end of his life; “I have run the race, I have kept the faith” (2 Timothy 4: 7). Handing on our faith is like running a relay race. St. Paul handed on the baton to the next generation and so this has continued until our time. It is now our turn to continue this living of our faith and passing on this faith to others. Let us have the same courage and enthusiasm as St. Paul to proclaim boldly the Gospel that brings true life in our time and place.

Fr. Anthony

Do you have a child in high school? Perhaps a niece, nephew or grandchild in high school?
Would you like them to grow in their faith and have an experience of a life time? This youth conference is their chance. Invite them, encourage them, persuade them to attend and bring their friends. This weekend event has given the opportunity to thousands of teens to see what Jesus Christ has for them in their lives and how they can have a personal relationship with Him. It is all about Love because God is Love and He desires our friendship to get ever stronger.

“Nothing is more practical than finding God, that is, than falling in love in a quite absolute, final way. What you are in love with, what seizes your imagination, will affect every thing. It will decide what will get you out of bed in the morning, what you do with your evenings, how you spend your weekends, what you read, who you know, what breaks your heart and what amazes you with joy and gratitude. Fall in love, stay in love, and it will decide everything.” Pedro Arrupe SJ

Time is running out!

As we approach the 4th of July holiday weekend, we are reminded of all the traffic, picnics, parties and the excess drinking that can occur. This can be one of the most hectic, busy times in the ER. I remember it with all the need for additional blood due to accidents. I also recall learning from the Center for Donation and Transplant that because of all the Trauma, this may also be the time for THOSE AWAITING TRANSPLANTS, who will get the call that a Donor Organ is available. All this being said, it is some of the best reasons, we should hold a Blood Drive here to support those in need.

It is essential that when you or a member of your family is a patient in any of the area hospitals that you call the parish office to let us know.

Please also inform the hospital that you are a member of St. Ambrose Parish. Hospital visitation is done on a weekly basis and it is important to us that all our parishioners are visited.

I propose that we offer a prayer we can share with all who believe in a God who is the all-powerful Creator (Pope Francis)

A prayer for our earth

All-powerful God, you are present in the whole universe and in the smallest of your creatures. You embrace with your tenderness all that exists. Pour out upon us the power of your love, that we may protect life and beauty. Fill us with peace, that we may live as brothers and sisters, harming no one. O God of the poor, help us to rescue the abandoned and forgotten of this earth, so precious in your eyes. Bring healing to our lives, that we may protect the world and not prey on it, that we may sow beauty, not pollution and destruction. Touch the hearts of those who look only for gain at the expense of the poor and the earth. Teach us to discover the worth of each thing, to be filled with awe and contemplation, to recognize that we are profoundly united with every creature as we journey towards your infinite light. We thank you for being with us each day. Encourage us, we pray, in our struggle for justice, love and peace.
