“A FORTNIGHT FOR FREEDOM”…

faith, government and the law…

This weekend, we celebrate the “Fourth of July” holiday weekend. It is, of course, a great time for family and friends to gather and it is also a special time when we remember the independence and freedoms that are so much part of the identity of the United States of America and the American way of life. Let us hope and pray that the weather cooperates with all those cookouts or firework displays this weekend and that everyone has a wonderful time together.

As has happened for a few years now, the Catholic Bishops of the United States of America (USCCB) have asked for a “Fortnight for Freedom”. This year, The Fortnight for Freedom: Freedom to Bear Witness began on June 21 and finishes this holiday weekend. It is a time when our liturgical calendar has celebrated a series of great martyrs who remained faithful in the face of persecution by political powers: St. Thomas More and St. John Fisher, St. John the Baptist, SS. Peter and Paul, and the First Martyrs of the Church of Rome.

The theme of this year's Fortnight focused on the "freedom to bear witness" to the truth of the Gospel. It is a request for a special time of prayer and reflection, especially for the protection of our religious freedoms in the United States. This may seem a radical, or puzzling, or even disturbing request, given that we live in a free society: something that can be brought into sharp focus especially when we see the news from other parts of the world. Perhaps we may be unsure about the issues or concerns that are being raised or discussed by this special “fortnight”, or perhaps we may just wonder what all the fuss is about.

As the USCCB website tells us, the religious liberty that has been enjoyed in the United States is, to quote Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI, the “most cherished of American freedoms.” However, many people (including our US Bishops), strongly believe that this essential and fundamental freedom is now under serious threat in a number of complex and interrelated ways. We have a display featuring some articles in the main church entrance vestibule. Some examples are also given on the USCCB website, or check out the resources guide that can be found on the Diocesan website www.rcda.org/fortnight.

We are asked to consider three things in particular. First, of course, is prayer (as well as penance and sacrifice): to renew our prayers for the rebuilding of a culture that is favourable to life and marriage and for increased protections for religious liberty (cf. the USCCB website: www.usccb.org/life-marriage-liberty). Secondly, we are asked to educate ourselves further about our Catholic beliefs. How can we do this? Well, we could look further into what we believe of course; but also why we believe it and then how these beliefs and values relate to our present-day culture, our choices and our way of life and also to the various items of legislation that may well come into law in the months ahead. A very current example of this is the recent Supreme Court decision regarding same sex unions. The media has often focused on rights and equality and rightly so; but these in turn involve the very nature of what marriage is and, for us as Catholics, the very essence of marriage as a sacrament. (For some information and discussion on the what, why and how questions regarding this key matter, visit the USCCB or the Vatican websites.) Thirdly, we are asked to be advocates and promoters of a “culture of life” and of a respect for the fundamental dignity of every person from the moment of their conception to the natural end of their life.

Once again, it must be said that the issues are complex because they involve so many fundamental things such as human rights, political philosophies, religious beliefs, values, attitudes, life-styles and the very nature and direction of our American culture and society as well as the very nature of essential matters such as “life”, “marriage” etc. However, because they are so fundamental they have, and they certainly will, affect all of us. It is not just something for a few politicians, lobby groups, bishops or “others” to argue about! Please do take some time to follow the three suggestions above given by the US Bishops.

Fr. Anthony

Sir Francis Drake 1577
Disturb us, Lord, when we are too pleased with ourselves; when our dreams have come true because we dreamed too little; when we arrived safely because we sailed too close to the shore.

Disturb us, Lord, when with the abundance of things we possess we have lost our thirst for the waters of life; having fallen in love with life, we have ceased to dream of eternity; and in our efforts to build a new earth, we have allowed our vision of the new heaven to dim.

Disturb us, Lord, to dare more boldly; to venture on wilder seas where storms will show Your mastery; where losing sight of land, we shall find the stars.

We ask you to push back the horizons of our hopes; and to push back the future in strength, courage, hope and love.

This we ask in the name of our Captain, who is Jesus Christ.
THE RECENT SUPREME COURT DECISION ON SAME SEX UNIONS

Some parishioners have asked for some more information regarding the recent Supreme Court decision on same sex unions. This is good because it is so important for us to know and indeed to deepen our faith; that is to know and also to understand what we believe but also why we believe it!

The recent Supreme Court decision and the matter of same sex unions is, of course, a very complex issue; as well as a fundamental one as it is about the very core of human life. It certainly involves matters such as human rights and the search for equality (that has been the focus of much of the media coverage or the remarks by various politicians), but it is also about our understanding of the human person and what human nature really is, that gender differences go far beyond something that is simply biological, the fundamentals of what is often called “natural law” and the very nature of marriage.

It is further complicated because marriage is indeed a secular and legal issue, not least because it is so essential for any society. However, for many Christian traditions, it is also not only all these legal and social things, nor even just a general religious or spiritual entity; but marriage is also a sacrament. The practice and celebration of the sacraments has certainly been fluid over the centuries, but the essence or substance of any sacrament (what it is at its very core) has not changed and cannot change, nor can it be subject to any human law.

So, here are some extracts from the statement issued by the chair of the United States Catholic Conference of Bishops.

“Regardless of what a narrow majority of the Supreme Court may declare at this moment in history, the nature of the human person and marriage remains unchanged and unchangeable…

The unique meaning of marriage as the union of one man and one woman is inscribed in our bodies as male and female. The protection of this meaning is a critical dimension of the “integral ecology” that Pope Francis has called us to promote.

Jesus Christ, with great love, taught unambiguously that from the beginning marriage is the lifelong union of one man and one woman. As Catholic bishops, we follow our Lord and will continue to teach and to act according to this truth.”

Of course, no matter who we are, no matter where we come from, everyone is always most welcome here!

For more information, do check out the USCCB website or the Vatican website. There is also some information on the New York State Catholic Bishops’ Conference website. You can also look at the Catechism of the Catholic Church, especially the paragraphs on the sacrament of marriage (1601-1666).

Fr. Anthony
I propose that we offer a prayer where we Christians ask for inspiration to take up the commitment to creation set before us by the Gospel of Jesus. (Pope Francis)

A Christian prayer in union with creation

Father, we praise you with all your creatures. They came forth from your all-powerful hand; they are yours, filled with your presence and your tender love.
Praise be to you!

Son of God, Jesus, through you all things were made. You were formed in the womb of Mary our Mother, you became part of this earth, and you gazed upon this world with human eyes. Today you are alive in every creature in your risen glory.
Praise be to you!

Holy Spirit, by your light you guide this world towards the Father’s love and accompany creation as it groans in travail. You also dwell in our hearts and you inspire us to do what is good.
Praise be to you!

Triune Lord, wondrous community of infinite love, teach us to contemplate you in the beauty of the universe, for all things speak of you. Awaken our praise and thankfulness for every being that you have made.
Give us the grace to feel profoundly joined to everything that is.

God of love, show us our place in this world as channels of your love for all the creatures of this earth, for not one of them is forgotten in your sight.

Enlighten those who possess power and money that they may avoid the sin of indifference, that they may love the common good, advance the weak, and care for this world in which we live. The poor and the earth are crying out.
O Lord, seize us with your power and light, help us to protect all life, to prepare for a better future, for the coming of your Kingdom of justice, peace, love and beauty.
Praise be to you!
Amen.

Pope Francis

ALL ARE WELCOME!
Don’t forget we are looking for new members, so bring a friend.
Feel free to join us to see what we are all about.
With some new members, we might be able to resume our bus trips.
