LABOR DAY WEEKEND IS HERE ALREADY...!

Do you find it amazing that here we are, once again, at Labor Day weekend…? As we were thinking last week, where did this summer go…? It is so true that this time of year seems to be very much a time about beginnings and endings. Labor Day is, of course, a sort of unofficial end of summer and those with camps will be busy sorting out things as the summer season comes to a close. Parents and grandparents also are thinking about beginnings as children and young people prepare to go to begin or to return to school or college (and many have already gone). Our prayers, of course, for all our students as they begin the new academic year.

The origins of Labor Day can be found in the Labor Movement and the cause for just and fair employment, especially in the nineteenth century. The first official Labor Day occurred in 1882 in New York City when Peter J. McGuire, the founder of the carpenters’ union suggested an annual day for workers when they could meet to discuss conditions of work and air any grievances. Eventually, the day became a recognized national holiday.

From a religious perspective, Labor Day is a time when we can reflect on work and how we are God’s “co-workers” in bringing about His Kingdom. It is a great time of the year to do this as we do indeed experience all those new beginnings and endings in our family life. Did you notice by the way that the original Labor Day was proposed by a carpenter…how appropriate! From our Christian perspective, work is never just “work”: it can also be a means of growing as a spiritual person as we seek to offer what we do to God and use our gifts and talents for others. Work is also about our stewardship of creation and of realizing how God can take what we do and bless it. That is why we use the prayers at the preparation of the bread and wine at Mass: “blessed are You, Lord God of all creation, for through your goodness we have received this bread we offer You, fruit of the earth and work of human hands…” Even the word “liturgy” comes from the word for “work” and a number of psalms celebrate the “marvelous works” that God has done. The prayer for the Mass suggested for Labor Day puts all this so well:

O God, who through human labor, never cease to perfect and govern the vast work of creation, listen to the supplication of your people and grant that all men and women may find work that befits their dignity, joins them more closely to one another and enables them to serve their neighbor.
Through Christ, our Lord.

So, perhaps we can spend some time in prayer over this weekend and during the coming week, reflecting on the nature and importance of work to us as human beings, praying for those who cannot find work and thinking about how we can be the Lord’s disciples and co-workers at work, at school, at home and in our neighborhood. There are also plenty of things to read such as the US Bishops’ letter about work called Economic Justice for All, or an number of teachings from various Popes about work (you can read all of these on the Vatican website).

Every prayer for you and your families, and a happy and safe Labor Day weekend!

Fr. Anthony

Dear Friends,

Rev. Deacon Dennis and Mary Barratt sincerely thank all our friends in the U.S.A. for their good wishes on the occasion of their Diamond Wedding Anniversary on 20th August. It was unfortunate that Mary was taken into hospital on the actual day, but she is now recovering at home. No doubt she was bolstered by the sentiments expressed in the numerous cards etc. which weighed down our postman! It was added to on the day by a special Greeting from Her Majesty, The Queen! We will endeavor to express our thanks personally when we hope to be with you next summer (when we visit Fr. Anthony). In the meantime God Bless you all...

With love and prayers,

Dennis and Mary Barratt

It's nice to be back in communication with the use of the bulletin.
I haven't been away or anything, I'm just trying to firm things up for this year, and perhaps simplifying my life, if that's possible.

I love the symbolism of a simple daisy, clean neat and precise, flowing blissfully in the wind, wouldn't that be nice!
I'm anxious to get things going, and to make sure that the programs here are both informative and beneficial to all.

Thank you all, for your generosity in helping those children in need of school supplies, shoes and clothing.
You certainly have put beautiful smiles on their faces.
