Jesus replied, “Do not prevent him. For whoever is not against us is for us. Anyone who gives you a cup of water to drink because you belong to Christ, amen, I say to you, will surely not lose his reward.”

PARISH FESTIVAL AND A VISIT BY THE POPE!

Well, last week was quite a week! We began, right here at St. Ambrose parish and school with the Festival. It was a great event and a wonderful opportunity to celebrate and to look at who we are as a community, what we do and what we might do or be in the future. It was also a time of thought and outreach to those who, for many reasons, we do not see so often at Mass or who have become distanced from the church. Deepest, deepest thanks, once again, must go to all those who worked so hard for the Festival and to all those who came and who brought along family and friends.

And, if that was not enough, we then enjoyed the visit of Pope Francis to Washington DC, New York and Philadelphia. There was something of a Pope mania about the visit. I was travelling through Philadelphia a few weeks ago, and you could buy every sort of Pope memorabilia from the usual T-shirts, to Pope coffee mugs or even those waving Pope dolls powered by a photovoltaic cell! Hopefully, we managed to enjoy the media coverage and a few fortunate folks managed to get tickets (they were like gold dust!) for the public events and Masses.

Thinking of Pope Francis’ visit and his words and, of course, of our Parish Festival, there is much that we can take away from this busy week. A key focus seemed to be about what we might call both an outreach and an “inreach”. We were certainly invited to look inside our hearts (that is “inreach”), to see and to reflect upon what is there: values, attitudes, motivations etc. and how these reflect our faith and our relationship with God and with those around us. Then we were invited to reach out: to show how we can reflect what is in our heart in our speaking and acting.

Lots of coverage was given to the Pope meeting political leaders and to various historical firsts, such as the meeting of congress and the Pope’s address to both houses or to the United Nations. There were also great celebrations such as the canonization of Saint Junipero Serra, the apostle and evangelizer of many parts of the western USA, especially California. However, a central focus of the Pope’s wonderful and joyful visit (and also of our Festival!) concerned both the family and family life, and the call to care for the poor, the struggling and needy in our community. This was made so clear, for example, in the Pope’s presence at the World Meeting of Families in Philadelphia (do google the homily given at the Mass), or in his time with workers, volunteers and clients of Catholic Charities in Washington and the visits to a correctional facility in Philadelphia and to a school in East Harlem. Pope Francis reminded us, as so many other popes have done, that the family is at the very heart of society and of faith and that we need to promote, encourage and even defend the family and family life.

All this reminds us that our faith is what we might call a matter of the heart yes, but also of our hands too! This simply reflects the person of Jesus Christ who calls us to imitate him in both our inward disposition but also in our words and actions. We are indeed called by the Lord, as in our Gospel this weekend, to be, above all, “for Christ”, that is to offer “a cup of water” to those who thirst, or to use our hands, our eyes, our feet, in fact all of us, in the service of Jesus. There is, a “great ocean of need” both material and spiritual, and the Lord calls us, as Pope Francis reminded us numerous times, to be his hands, his feet, his eyes, to help meet that need that is all around us. We can begin this great adventure with our own immediate and extended family, including our parish family, but we can also then go on to reach out to those in the wider community who are in any sort of need.

Fr. Anthony

Hope is a path made of memory and discernment. Hope is a path taken with others. Hope is a path of solidarity. The culture of encounter should naturally lead to a culture of solidarity. I was struck by what Leonardo said at the beginning, when he spoke of solidarity as a source of strength for overcoming all obstacles. Without solidarity, no country has a future. Beyond all other considerations or interests, there has to be concern for that person who may be my friend, my companion, but also someone who may think differently than I do, someone with his own ideas yet just as human and just as Cuban as I am. Simple tolerance is not enough; we have to go well beyond that, passing from a suspicious and defensive attitude to one of acceptance, cooperation, concrete service and effective assistance. Do not be afraid of solidarity, service and offering a helping hand, so that no one is excluded from the path. Pope Francis to the youth of the world.

I had a fight with the cotton candy machine and I lost! :/ - Good Times!

What a great time was had by all at the First (hopefully annual) FEST. A big gathering of Parish Family coming together to laugh, play, sing songs, eat, pray, dance, listen, talk to friends, meet new people, surround ourselves with the love of Jesus Christ as He would have it in community.

Hebrews 10:24,25—We must consider how to rouse one another to love and good works. We should not stay away from our assembly as is the custom of some, but encourage one another, and this all the more as you see the day draw near.
Thank you to all who generously gave assistance to the children in need. Your goodness lives on in these children’s lives. A good deed, or a kind word is never forgotten.

Hope in life when you feel down. Watch the sunshine all around. Catch a glimpse of a baby boy, who immediately can fill a hard day with a burst of joy.

As struggles seem to arise, look at the hope in a little one’s eyes. No one knows what is in store. Some times a closed door can open to so much more. God is with you, even when it’s hard to see, He has no favorites, not you, not me.
