OUR STEWARDSHIP CAMPAIGN BEGINS...

This week we are launching our increased offertory campaign for our parish community here at St. Ambrose. It is many years since we have had such a campaign (No one seems to be able to remember when we last did this!) and so it seems like a good thing to run a brief campaign over the next few weeks. Besides, as often happens in many parishes, our weekly offertory amount has declined over recent years (although some good news is that our Mass attendance has risen in the same period!). Some figures may help us to see the longer term picture:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Average Weekly Offertory</th>
<th>Mass Attendance</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2010</td>
<td>$17,801</td>

<tr>
<td>2012</td>
<td>$16,060</td>
<td>1425</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2015</td>
<td>$15,709</td>
<td>1528</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(Note: offertory figures reflect the financial year that runs from July 1st of the previous year to June 30th of the indicated year. Mass attendance figures are taken in October of the indicated year.)

The campaign is also a great opportunity for us to remind ourselves afresh of Jesus’ invitation to follow him as his disciples and to prepare ourselves for a true life with God. Our lives do change in an extraordinary way when we accept his invitation and make a full commitment to our Lord and His church. Hopefully, many of us have experienced the importance of our faith, not least the need for a spiritual center in our often busy and stressful lives. The recent visit of Pope Francis touched our hearts and encouraged us; reminding us of the value and importance of our faith. So, with all this in mind, we are hoping to renew our commitment to living our lives as good and faithful stewards. At the same time, we will be responding to Jesus’ offer to lead us to act for the greater financial good of our parish.

Of course, we exercise our stewardship in so many ways. As disciples of Jesus, we are asked to look at the many gifts God has given to us and to see if we can give back in proportion for the many blessings we have received. Many give of their gifts of time and talent so that the many activities in our parish and for the wider community can take place. We have so much to celebrate: our support for local groups or event; outreach to those in need through the Food Pantry, the Saint Vincent de Paul Society; pastoral care and visits at home and in local nursing homes and hospitals; social and community events such as the upcoming annual Thanksgiving Dinner and the many forms of helping us grow in our faith. Mass attendance has increased and it is wonderful to see many younger families and young people at Mass. Yes, we have much for which to give thanks. It is important to remember that your generous financial support is the major reason we are able to carry out this mission of Jesus in our parish and local community.

The campaign will run for about four weeks. Hopefully, you have already received the first week letter and the brochure that provides a picture of all that St. Ambrose parish and school is and does. At Mass this week, I will be introducing the campaign (I promise not to speak for too long!). In Week Two, there will be a second mailing along with a pledge form. At Mass next week, three representatives of the parish will share with us just what their faith and being a member of the parish means to them. After this, we will collect the pledge cards, and for those who are able, the increase in their weekly offertory donations will begin.

It is so important for me to write several things at this point. First of all, thank you for all your current and often long-standing generosity. It is so much appreciated and please do know that it is never taken for granted. Secondly, whatever you can give in support of our parish is indeed a true gift and so if you cannot increase your offertory at this time, please also do know that whatever you give is of great value. Finally, thank you again for generous financial support of our parish and school, and thank you in advance for your support of our increased offertory campaign.

God bless,

Fr. Anthony

Pope Francis Calls the Italian Church to Radical Renewal

Gerard O’Connell | Nov 10 2015

Taken from the America Magazine website

Speaking in the magnificent cathedral of Florence known as the “Duomo,” Pope Francis issued a clarion call to the Italian church to radically renew itself by adopting “the sentiments of Jesus: humility, disinterest and beatitude.”

Commenting on “humility,” he said “the obsession to preserve one’s own glory, one’s own ‘dignity,’ one’s own influence, should not be part of our sentiments. We must seek the glory of God, and this does not coincide with our own.”

Referring to “disinterest,” Francis like St Paul said, “each one should not seek his own interest, but that of the others.”

Many times during his talk he quoted from his programmatic document “Evangelii Gaudium” (“The Joy of the Gospel”). He did so when speaking of “disinterest,” saying Christians must reach out to others, not be narcissistic or self-referential or “remain shut up within structures which give us a false sense of security, within rules which make us harsh judges, within habits which make us feel safe (No. 49).” He told them, “Our duty is to work to make this world a better place and to struggle (for this)” and emphasized that “our faith is revolutionary through the impulse that comes from the Holy Spirit.”

He drew their attention to the fact that the Beatitudes in the Gospel “begin with a blessing and end with the promise of a consolation” but to undertake this journey to happiness one must have “a heart that is open” to the Spirit of Jesus.

Emphasizing the importance of “humility, disinterest and beatitude,” Pope Francis said there is a message here for the Italian church. These traits underline that “we must not be obsessed with ‘power,’ even if it takes the face of a power that is useful and functional to the social image of the church.” Francis warned that “If the church does not take on these sentiments of Jesus, it becomes disoriented and loses its meaning.” Indeed, he said, “these sentiments of Jesus tell us that a church that thinks of itself and of its own interests would be sad.”

He pointed out that “the Beatitudes are a mirror in which to see ourselves, one which permits us to know if we are walking on the right road: it is a mirror that does not lie.”

He went on to warn the Italian Church against “[…]temptations”… He identified the first temptation as “Pelagian.” It pushes the church not to be humble, disinterested, blessed, but does so “under the appearance of good.” It brings the church “to put trust in structures, in organizations, in planning that is perfect because it is abstract,” and often leads it “to assume a style of control, of hardness, of norms.”…He told the Italian church that “faced with the evils or the problems of the church it is useless to seek solutions in conservatisms or fundamentalisms, in the restoration of behavior and forms that are outdated and that even culturally do not have the capacity to be meaningful…the Christian doctrine is not a closed system, incapable of generating questions, doubts, interrogations, but is living, and knows how to disturb and encourage. It has a face that is not rigid, a body that moves and develops, it has tender flesh. The Christian doctrine is called Jesus Christ.”

[…]

He urged [the Church] “to be a free church and be open to the challenges of the present time, never on the defensive for fear of losing something.”

[…]

At the same time, the Argentine pope had some suggestions to offer. He told the bishops: “I ask you to be pastors. Nothing more! Just pastors.” Moreover, he said, “Do not be preachers of complex doctrines, but announcers of Christ, dead and risen for us. Aim at the essential!” He encouraged this church to work for “the social inclusion of the poor,” to make “the preferential option for the poor” and prayed, “May God protect the Italian Church from every surrogate of power, image, money.”

Francis called the church in Italy to develop “the capacity to encounter and dialog so as to foster social friendship in your country, seeking the common good.” But he reminded them that “to dialogue is not to negotiate,” but “to discuss together and to think what is the best solution for everyone.” Conflict can arise in dialogue, he said, but they must not fear or ignore that, rather they must “face conflict head on, to resolve it and to make it a link in the chain of a new process” (“The Joy of the Gospel,” No. 97). He reminded them that “the best way to dialogue is not to talk and discuss but to do something together, to build together, and to make projects, no alone, among Catholics, but together with all people of good will.”

He called on the whole church in Italy to engage in the public debate for the construction of the common society, and he invited the young people “to be builders” of “an Italy that is better,” and to engage in social and political dialogue, and not just watch from the balcony. “Today we are not living in an era of change but in a change of era”, he stated. He reminded that “the Lord is active and at work in the world” and urged them to go out on the roads and crossroads and call whomsoever you meet, “no one excluded”, and help the one who’s on the side of the road. He encouraged them “to see problems as challenges, not as obstacles” and to “build bridges, not walls.” Wrapping up, he told the convention, “I would like an Italian church that is restless, always close to the abandoned, the forgotten and the imperfect. I desire a joyful church with the face of a mother that understands, cares and accompanies.” He urged them to “dream of such a church, believe in it, and innovate with freedom.”

School Days
Each day we gather as a faith community at 8:05 AM for morning prayer and a brief meeting. Each month the students learn one or two new prayers. Different classes each month take turns as the prayer leaders. In addition to prayer, each day of the week has a different theme.

Monday – Mrs. McGraw reads and discusses Sunday’s Gospel.

Tuesday – ‘Trivia Tuesday’ – Students pose and answer a trivia question.

Wednesday – “STEMSday” – Different topics related to Science, Technology, Engineering and Math are discussed. This week our topic is “Toys in Space.” The students were asked to make a prediction of what it would be like to jump rope in space. We also called on our friend and favorite toy, Buzz Lightyear, to learn what “to infinity and beyond” really means.

Thursday – ‘Thankful Thursday’ – The students reflect on all they are grateful for.

Friday – We call upon our Guardian Angels to keep us safe until we meet again.

And so I offer for you our Friday prayer...

Angel of God my guardian dear, to whom God’s love commits me here. Ever this day be at my side, to light and guard, rule and guide.

Amen.

BOX TOPS for Education
Your little donations turn into big resources for our school. Please drop your Box Tops in the wooden box located in the church vestibule or our new mailbox in the school lobby.

Thank you!

PEOPLE ARE SO THOUGHTFUL...
It is always a surprise to see what appears in my work mailbox. It is an array of thoughtful items or gestures of kindness. Please know they are appreciated very much, if I fail to mention them. This morning there was a little prayer card so worth sharing...

A prayer for Christian Iraqis
I pray that the Christians of Iraq (and everyone) know the close presence of Jesus, the guidance of the spirit and the protection of the Father...

That those who have chosen to remain in Iraq will not be subjected to violent or unjust treatment...

That those in settlement camps will not lose hope...

That humanitarian assistance will reach all who are in need, and that Christians throughout Iraq and the Middle East will know the peace and presence of Jesus each day, and will remain faithful to Him and clear in their testimony.

Lord protect the innocent children who can’t possibly understand...

A special thank you to all who remembered my Sister in law (Murat’s sister) who died recently. Your cards and acts of kindness are very much appreciated. She will be remembered always.

The Family Life Ministry is designating NOVEMBER as the MONTH of SERVICE

What is the key aspect when you think of a family? Love... and... Service. Service to one another, helping each other, sacrificing our love, conveniences, and comforts so that someone else may be more comfortable, so that they are happy and live a better life. This can be in our immediate families, but also our “Parish Family”. It all comes down to service. We should treat everyone as family. We should serve them as if they were our own family.

For next month our ministry is asking two questions—

First—Do you know someone in our Parish Family that needs assistance in fall cleanup—either inside or outside? Do you know someone who needs assistance in a small project, like cleaning out the garage, or painting a room, etc.? PLEASE contact Justina our Faith Formation Secretary at 785-1351 (307) or faithformationaa@stambroseLatham.com with the info.

Second—Would your family like to give back to our Parish Family by sharing your time/talents/comforts. Also PLEASE contact our Faith Formation Secretary Justina at 785-1351 x307 or faithformationaa@stambroseLatham.com with the info.

Thank you and God Bless
