On this Second Sunday of Easter we also celebrate Divine Mercy Sunday, "a perennial invitation to address, with confidence in divine benevolence, the difficulties and trials that await humanity," according to Pope Saint John Paul II. Pope Francis has also declared a special Holy Year of Mercy that began on 8th December last year: it is a special time when we can celebrate God’s great love and mercy. Our Divine Mercy Sunday this year can be a good reminder and encouragement to celebrate this Year of Mercy.

In May 2000, a decree of the Congregation for Divine Worship and the Sacraments, established by instruction of Pope Saint John Paul II the feast of the Divine Mercy on the Second Sunday of Easter. Devotion to the Divine Mercy constitutes an authentic spiritual movement within the Catholic Church, promoted by Faustina Kowalska, who was canonized (officially declared a saint) on April 30, 2000.

Faustina Kowalska was born in the rural village of Glogowic in Poland on Aug. 25, 1905. At 20, she was admitted to the convent of the Sisters of Our Lady of Mercy in Warsaw. For the next 13 years, she carried out humble tasks as cook, gardener and porter. She died in Krakow on Oct. 5, 1938. While living her hidden, humble life, she began to be favored with the mystical experience of consecration to the Divine Mercy. She received visions, revelations, and hidden stigmata and, at the suggestion of her spiritual director, began to write about these experiences in her diary. The diary is quite long (over 700 pages), but it’s well worth the effort of reading it!

Faustina Kowalska's life centered on the proclamation of Divine Mercy to every human being. Her spiritual legacy to the Church is the devotion to the Divine Mercy, inspired by a vision in which Jesus himself asked that a portrait be painted of him with the inscription "Jesus I trust in you," which she commissioned to a painter in 1935 (we have an image of this in our Day Chapel). Jesus is shown in most versions as raising his right hand in blessing, and pointing with his left hand on his chest from which flow forth two rays: one red and one white (translucent). The rays streaming out have symbolic meaning: red for the blood of Jesus, and pale for water (which justifies souls).

The whole image is symbolic of charity, forgiveness and love of God, referred to as the "Fountain of Mercy". Sister Faustina's diary, entitled "Divine Mercy in My Soul," revealed how Our Lord entrusted her with the mission to proclaim to the world once again, the evangelical message of his mercy and to establish new ways of devotion to God in his attribute of “mercy for all”. The essential and fundamental characteristic of devotion to the Divine Mercy is trust in Jesus’ love and mercy. Incidentally, we have two images of the Divine Mercy at St. Ambrose: one is in the Day Chapel and the other in the McCormick (Parish) Center.

All forms of devotion to the Divine Mercy must stem from trust, according to the revelations given to the Polish nun; whether it is venerating the image of Divine Mercy, or praying the chaplet of Divine Mercy (said by many Catholics throughout the world), or observing the hour of great Mercy -- three in the afternoon, the time that Jesus died on the Cross - or receiving the sacraments on the feast of Divine Mercy. There is a very special indulgence given if the devotions are recited and the sacraments received around the time of Divine Mercy Sunday. The devotion urges us to act daily with a spirit of mercy toward our neighbor: with prayers, words and deeds.

One last thing: the national shrine of the Divine Mercy is quite near to us: in Stockbridge, Massachusetts and it is well worth a visit!

Sacristan Ministry
Like altar serving, being a Sacristan is a very beneficial way to help out your church community, and an active way to participate in Mass. Sacristans perform the following duties:

- Setting up the church before Mass. Typically, sacristans arrive at church half hour before anyone else. They light the candles, arrange the books, ready the linens and basically perform a little simple organizing before Mass begins.
- Prepare the Holy Eucharist for the celebration of the Mass. This includes readying the wine, water and bread and putting them in place for the start of Mass.
- Coordinate all Mass participants make sure Lectors, Eucharistic Ministers and Altar Servers are ready.
- Cleaning the holy materials after Mass in the sacristy.
- Before the sacristan leaves the church everything is set back in its place and secured.

Decide if this is something you think you can do. Setting the table of the Lord is a ministry that is essential for the Mass. We are in need of sacristans for all Masses. Our schedules are flexible so after training you can let us know what Mass works for you. Our schedule is posted ahead several months at a time for your convenience. Please contact the Sacristan Coordinator Pat Rayball 708-9615 for more information.
