GOOD SHEPHERD SUNDAY:
WORLD DAY OF PRAYER FOR VOCATIONS 2016

This Sunday is, of course, the Fourth Sunday in Eastertide and it is also known as “Good Shepherd Sunday”, since our Gospel is always about that favorite image of Jesus as the Good Shepherd. Today is also a world day of prayer for vocations. While deeply valuing and promoting the vocation that every person has to follow Jesus and to build up the Kingdom of God, the Church community focuses today on the particular vocations to the ordained ministries (priesthood and diaconate) and to the religious or consecrated life.

There are many reasons why we have this annual day of prayer. The first is to promote what we might call a culture of vocations to the ordained ministries and to the religious life (more of how we might cultivate this culture at the end of this article!). We know only too well how necessary this is from our own experience of the often called “shortage” of priests, deacons and religious. This shortage has many causes such as the secular culture in which we live, the terrible scandals of recent years and the questions that many might have about whether they (or a son or daughter) will be happy and fulfilled in such a life. The statistics for priests in our own Diocese are indeed deeply worrying. In 1980 there were 356 active priests, by 2000 this was down to 223 priests and by 2020 it is projected that there will be only around 59 active priests for the entire Diocese. Currently, there are a number of parishes “open” in the Diocese (that is still awaiting the appointment of priest), some have been so for over a year. Why? Because, sadly, there is no priest available to send there. One good piece of news is that we now have 14 seminarians: we have not had such a number in a long time. So, keep up those prayers for vocations!

However, our World Day of Prayer for Vocations has a second, and perhaps more positive and optimistic reason. If God calls a person to the ordained ministry or to the religious life, then this will indeed be a truly wonderful, fulfilling and joy-filled life. I can only speak personally, but at the end of many days I find the words on Psalm 115 on my mind and in my heart: “how can I repay the Lord for goodness to me.” Certainly there are tough and trying days, but then who does not have these! Yet there are so many more great and exhilarating days. After more than 30 years of being a priest, I still find wonder and awe in the fact that the Lord uses me to make a real difference in people’s lives…each and every day; that as a priest I am with people in key, special and personal moments of their lives and that I have been entrusted with the task of preaching God’s saving Word and of celebrating His life-giving sacraments, especially the Eucharist and Reconciliation.

So, as we keep this special day of prayer for vocations to the ordained ministries and to the religious and consecrated life, please do pray for vocations and please actively promote a positive culture of vocations in our parish, our school and in your home. Finally, if any of you are thinking about such a vocation, think on and pray on…and perhaps chat with someone who can help you and guide you.

What else can we do? Well, do visit the Diocesan vocations website at www.albanyvocations.org or the section in the USCCB website on vocations. We also have some prayer cards at the church entrance so that we can pray for those in formation for the priesthood. This year, the Diocesan Vocations Office has organized a special Vocations Summit. This takes place on Saturday, 7th May at the Shrine of the North American Martyrs in Auriesville, N.Y. For more details, see the bulletin and the special leaflets at the church entrance. We are hoping to set up a parish Vocations Team or Group who will help to continue building a “culture of vocations” in our parish. If you are interested, please let Fr. Barratt or a Parish Staff Member know. A final exciting piece of news is that we will have a seminarian, Sam Bellafiore, who will be staying with us over the summer months.

A few final words from Pope Francis’ message for this world day of prayer for vocations…

“Every vocation… always requires an exodus from oneself in order to center one’s life on Christ and on his Gospel.”

“A vocation flows from the heart of God and blossoms in the good soil of faithful people.”

“I turn now to those who are well disposed to listen to the voice of Christ that rings out in the Church and to understand what their own vocation is. I invite you to listen to and follow Jesus, and to allow yourselves to be transformed interiorly by his words, which ‘are spirit and life’” (John 6:62).

SACRISTAN MINISTRY

Like altar serving, being a Sacristan is a very beneficial way to help out your church community, and an active way to participate in Mass. Sacristans perform the following duties:

- Setting up the church before Mass. Typically, sacristans arrive at church half hour before anyone else. They light the candles, arrange the books, ready the linens and basically perform a little simple organizing before Mass begins.
- Prepare the Holy Eucharist for the celebration of the Mass. This includes readying the wine, water and bread and putting them in place for the start of Mass.
- Coordinate all Mass participants make sure Lectors, Eucharistic Ministers and Altar Servers are ready.
- Cleaning the holy materials after Mass in the sacristy.
- Before the sacristan leaves the church everything is set back in its place and secured.

Decide if this is something you think you can do. Setting the table of the Lord is a ministry that is essential for the Mass. We are in need of sacristans for all Masses. Our schedules are flexible so after training you can let us know what Mass works for you. Our schedule is posted ahead several months at a time for your convenience. Please contact the Sacristan Coordinator Pat Rayball 708-9615 for more information.
What are we doing here at St. Ambrose?

We are beginning a consecration to our Blessed Mother from April 28th to May 31st, ending with a Mass said by Fr. Anthony. We will have a weekly group meeting on Tuesdays after the daily Mass as well as one on evenings. We also want to give support to individuals, families or other groups who would like to also do the consecration on their own time and in their own way. We are also working to make the book available to you at St. Ambrose or you can also order your own copy!

What is a Marian Consecration?

In the words of Saint Louis Marie de Montfort, "We never give more honor to Jesus than when we honor his Mother, and we honor her simply and solely to honor him all the more perfectly. We go to her only as a way leading to the goal we seek - Jesus, her Son." The Marian Consecration is a devotion that leads us closer to Jesus through Mary.

When to make a Consecration.

We will be making the Consecration together as a parish family on May 31, 2016 on the Marian Feast Day of The Visitation. For the days prior to the Consecration we will be preparing our hearts together in a variety of ways. We will be using the book 33 Days to Morning Glory by Michael E. Gaitley, MIC. But this is not the only way to prepare for the Consecration. For those who have already completed this retreat recently, we invite you to join us using the 33 Days to Merciful Love also by Michael E. Gaitley. Total Consecration according to Saint Louis Marie de Montfort is also an option. There is no right or wrong way to prepare yourself for the consecration!

How to begin the preparation.

There are a variety of ways that you may choose to prepare for the Consecration starting on April 28th. You may choose to do the 33 Days retreat privately on an individual basis, together as a family, in a small group in your home inviting friends/relatives, in a group within a ministry for which you participate with at St. Ambrose, or you can join the small groups that will take place on Tuesdays after the morning Mass and Devotion or with the evening group on (TBA).

What do I need?

You will need the book and you may want to use the available DVD’s and participant packs if you are choosing a group.
Well let’s bring in the and say good bye to

The Food Pantry Garden is being planned and work crews assembled. As in the past we are looking for families who would be willing to manage a small area of the garden and keep it free of weeds so that the food we grow will be our best crop ever.

Everything from this garden goes into the hands of our brothers and sisters we serve through the food pantry. So we want this produce to be the absolute best it can be for our extended family. Please consider joining the team and caring for a small piece of the garden. Bring the whole family every once in a while to weed and maintain your spot. It takes maybe an hour a week for a few short months and then you start to see the fruit of your labor. If you are interested please contact the Lifeteen office for more information at 785-1351 x309. And if you have a green thumb we are always looking for planting advice.

Did you ever get the feeling that something awesome is about to happen but you don’t know what it is? Like you feel kind of tingly and restless inside but you don’t know why. Consider how the Apostles felt at this time and maybe you’ll realize that is for us too!

Acts 1:1-12

In the first book, Theophilus, I dealt with all that Jesus did and taught until the day he was taken up, after giving instructions through the holy Spirit to the apostles whom he had chosen. He presented himself alive to them by many proofs after he had suffered, appearing to them during forty days and speaking about the kingdom of God. While meeting with them, he enjoined them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for “the promise of the Father about which you have heard me speak: for John baptized with water, but in a few days you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit.” When they had gathered together they asked him, “Lord, are you at this time going to restore the kingdom to Israel?” He answered them, “It is not for you to know the times or seasons that the Father has established by his own authority. But you will receive power when the holy Spirit comes upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, throughout Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth.” When he had said this, as they were looking on, he was lifted up, and a cloud took him from their sight. While they were looking intently at the sky as he was going, suddenly two men dressed in white garments stood beside them. They said, “Men of Galilee, why are you standing there looking at the sky? This Jesus who has been taken up from you into heaven will return in the same way as you have seen him going into heaven.” Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, a sabbath day’s journey away.

Are you ready? - Come Holy Spirit! Come!

The Goal of Trying to Maintain Order...

Happiness is not a matter of intensity but of balance, order, rhythm and harmony.

Thomas Merton

To have balance in life can be a challenge. What can work with some could never work with others, we were all made so different. Much has to do with what side of the brain is dominate, and so a dominate right brained person may approach a situation entirely different as a left brain person.

When one begins to focus on life’s issues, becoming active rather that reactive. Calm, grounded, clear headed and motivated. One can plan down to the most minute detail, retirement plans, vacations, etc. However, when it comes down to it, nothing is certain or predictable, life happens as it will. Things may be internal or external (work generated, relationships, activities, less heart minded). One may become self reflective, missing out on life by overthinking the issue.

External Work

Oriented with goals, vs seeing the bigger picture, enjoying life, social, satisfying vs alone. Family is fulfilling vs healthy boundaries. There is a fun time for enjoyment, making sure not to over do. Both spectrums are positive but extremes can be detrimental, check-ins and balance important.

What to do if you become pulled in one direction.

1. Acknowledge it. Be honest with yourself. Is some area being neglected. (sleep, duties, house work)
2. Re-examine your activities. Internal or External
3. Look at Goals. Make a list. Cross out as you go. It can be therapeutic.
4. Plan Tasks.
5. Reflect. What was the most important task you did in the past. How did you focus. (fears, doubts, anxieties, worries or negative thoughts). How did it feel to accomplish this.
7. Become empowered. Have you been self sabotaging. Be kind to yourself.
8. Connect. Stay on tract to achieve your goals, try for 3 months.

Life is filled with the constant flow of ups and downs. What separates you from the next person is your response to the external-you can allow it to bother you, chisel away at your well being or accept the bad, look for the good and embrace God’s gift of life.

Be kind to yourself. Many circumstances if not most are not in one’s control. Do give yourself credit for doing the best that you could at this time. Seek God’s help.
