

BREAKING OPEN THE WORD

---

Fr. Thomas M. Pastorius

October 12, 2014

Twenty-eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Lectionary: 142

Gospel mt 22:1-14

Jesus again in reply spoke to the chief priests and elders of the people in parables, saying, "The kingdom of heaven may be likened to a king who gave a wedding feast for his son. He dispatched his servants to summon the invited guests to the feast, but they refused to come. A second time he sent other servants, saying, 'Tell those invited: "Behold, I have prepared my banquet, my calves and fattened cattle are killed, and everything is ready; come to the feast.'" Some ignored the invitation and went away, one to his farm, another to his business. The rest laid hold of his servants, mistreated them, and killed them. The king was enraged and sent his troops, destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. Then he said to his servants, 'The feast is ready, but those who were invited were not worthy to come. Go out, therefore, into the main roads and invite to the feast whomever you find.' The servants went out into the streets and gathered all they found, bad and good alike, and the hall was filled with guests. But when the king came in to meet the guests, he saw a man there not dressed in a wedding garment. The king said to him, 'My friend, how is it that you came in here without a wedding garment?' But he was reduced to silence. Then the king said to his attendants, 'Bind his hands and feet, and cast him into the darkness outside, where there will be wailing and grinding of teeth.' Many are invited, but few are chosen."

Spiritual Reflection:

Every action that man makes invokes a response from God. God's responses are always just. Every action from God invokes a response from us. Our responses are not always just. Most likely the man was giving a wedding garment (as it was a part of the custom of the day) by the host but he simply refused to wear it. What made the man think that he could win a battle of wills with the King? A king who had been more than gracious to him by inviting him in the first place.

Spiritual Question:

1. Who do you think wins in battle of will between you and God?
2. What would happen if you win?
3. How are you doing with using the God given talents God has given you to make the world a better place?
4. Why would the people in the parable beat the servants and kill some of them? Why didn't they just refuse to go?
5. How unworthy are the people who attend the banquet? What makes them worthy?