

September 27 2020 // Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time // Lectionary: 136 // Gospel MT 21:28-32

Jesus said to the chief priests and elders of the people: "What is your opinion? A man had two sons. He came to the first and said, 'Son, go out and work in the vineyard today.' He said in reply, 'I will not, ' but afterwards changed his mind and went. The man came to the other son and gave the same order. He said in reply, 'Yes, sir, 'but did not go. Which of the two did his father's will?" They answered, "The first." Jesus said to them, "Amen, I say to you, tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before you. When John came to you in the way of righteousness, you did not believe him; but tax collectors and prostitutes did. Yet even when you saw that, you did not later change your minds and believe him."

Do you really think that we are going to be able to fool God with our excuses?

3. What does it feel like to know God knows you at your worst and still loves you?
4. Are you willing to keep working and following God every day of your life?
5. Who do you think is in heaven?
