Epiphany of the Lord

They were overjoyed at seeing the star, and on entering the house they saw the child with Mary his mother. They prostrated themselves and did him homage. Then they opened their treasures and offered him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. - Mt 2:10-11

LIVING OUR FAITH

From the Desk of Fr. Thomas Pastorius,

1. Faith & Family Programs

January 10 2017 (2nd Tuesday): Men's and Women's Group Meeting at 6:30 PM in the Rectory.

2. Farewell to Fr. Michael Rennie

We have been extremely blest at Epiphany to have had Fr. Michael Rennie with us as our pastoral associate for a little over four years now. He has served the parish to the best of his ability and there is no doubt in my mind that our parish is better off because of his service. We were also blest to witness to an important part of his faith journey. As it was announced last weekend Fr. Michael will be leaving us January 17 and so next weekend will be his last weekend with us. Fr. Michael's Last Mass will be the 10:30 AM Mass on January 15th. There will be a special time to thank Fr. Michael and a reception after that Mass. I would like to invite you to please take a moment and sign the matting for two special pictures that we will present to Fr. Michael as a going away gift for him.

4. Special Meeting Concerning Homecoming

On Tuesday February 7th, there will be a special meeting that all parishioners are invited to attend. The meeting will be at 7 pm and take place in the rectory community meeting room. The topic of the meeting will be the future of Epiphany of Our Lord parish homecoming. I would like to invite in a special way those who have run a booth or other key area of the homecoming. In addition I would like to invite all those who are looking for an opportunity to serve our parish in a major way. The Homecoming is by far the largest fundraiser that our undertakes.

5. Weekly Shout Out

Someone suggested that I allow other people point out what they are grateful for, so therefore I invite you to call the rectory or e-mail me at fathertompas-torius@gmail.com and let us know who we should give a shout out to.

Blessing for the New Year We will have Epiphany chalk blessed by Father Michael available at the back of Church this weekend. Take a piece of chalk home and use this prayer as you mark the front door of your home. It's a good way to ask for God's blessing for this new year.

Using the blessed chalk mark the lintel of your front door (or front porch step) as follows: 20 + C + M + B + 17 while saying: The three Wise Men, Caspar, Melchior, and Balthazar followed the star of God's Son who became human two thousand and fifteen years ago. May Christ bless our home and remain with us throughout the new year. Amen.

Then offer the following prayer: Visit, O blessed Lord, this home with the gladness of your presence. Bless all who live or visit here with the gift of your love; and grant that we may manifest your love to each other and to all whose lives we touch. May we grow in grace and in the knowledge and love of you; guide, comfort, and strengthen us in peace, O Jesus Christ, now and forever. Amen

Spiritual Ponderings

As I continuing sharing my thoughts with you I pray and hope that they will help you develop a deeper faith life.

5. Anti-Authority

I have mentioned a few times already my love for baseball, and I know this love for baseball started off as a kid playing Wiffle ball with some of the other children in the neighborhood. If you would go to my mother's house today, you could probably find four patches of dirt in the front yard where the grass was not given a chance to grow because that was where we placed our bases. Sadly most of these games ended not after nine innings but rather after a fight where one player thought the runner was safe and another player thought the runner was out or where the pitcher thought he had thrown strike three and the batter thought the pitch was a ball.

Playing baseball in my parents' front yard and later playing baseball for a CYC team taught me the importance of having umpires and referees. Many people today leave the Church because they do not see the value of structure or rules. They think in some way these rules limit our freedom but the truth of the matter is, it is the rules and the people that enforce them fairly that allow us to interact with one another in a loving and free way.

The Church has always taught individuals that they have a duty to follow their conscience but more importantly the Church has taught that we have an obligation to inform our consciousness. While we can determine whether an act is morally good or evil, we cannot make an act morally good or evil. In addition evil acts or often at least momentarily pleasurable and thus at least slightly addictive and therefore we cannot say whether something is morally good or evil by how it feels. While a parent may enjoy physically abusing a child because it allows the parent to release his or bent up frustration, we know that it is not morally good for a parent to physically abuse their child because a child is a person who has certain rights. Morality therefore cannot be left up to what people feel otherwise there would be no way to hold rapists and murders accountable.

Many people today leave the Church because they choose to see the Church's teaching as being restrictive instead of loving. They are like children who become frustrated with the parents because their parents will let them touch the fire or put a fork in an electric socket.

6. Karma

I am amazed at the number of Catholics that I encounter that believe in karma. Many of them would deny it but at least subconsciously their actions and expectations seem to show that deep down they do believe in karma. The idea behind karma is simple. Good things are supposed to happen to good people and bad things are supposed to happen to bad people. In other words the more good things you do the more good things God will give to you and the more bad things you do the more bad things that will happen to you.

While I think life would be much easier if this was true we know deep down that it is not true and that sometimes bad things happen to good people and good things seem to happen to bad people. This mostly manifests itself when we believe that God is punishing us for something despite having done everything right. For example, I might get a speeding ticket on the way home from helping the homeless and feel that God should have somehow prevented the officer from seeing the fact that I was speeding because I had been doing nothing but good today. On a more serious level we may assume that God is displeased with us because we have been diagnosed with Cancer and we ask ourselves what did I do to deserve this illness? The truth of the matter is that bad things do happen to good people and no one ever does anything to deserve an illness. Our world because of sin is in chaos. God does not leave the world in Chaos though but enters into it in Jesus Christ and suffers right alongside. God's ultimate answer to suffering in the world is not karma but rather the Resurrection.

Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

Lectionary: 64 Gospel JN 1:29-34

Spiritual Reflection: John the Baptist's favorite title for Jesus is "the Lamb of God". Clearly it also became one of John the Evangelist's favorite titles, since he used it twenty-nine times in the Book of Revelation. It brings together three images that would have been familiar to the Jews of that time, and by being applied to Christ, it indicates that in him those images find their full meaning. 1. The Lamb that was slaughtered for their sins. 2. The Paschal lamb whose blood was used to mark the door posts of their house to save them from the angel of death. 3. The prophets talked about the messiah as being the lamb silently lead to slaughter.

Spiritual Questions

1. What do you think of when you hear the "Lamb of God?"
2. What is your favorite title of Jesus and why?
3. What does it mean that Jesus takes away our sins?
4. What does it mean that God saves us through the Blood of the lamb?
5. What does it mean that God offered Himself up for you?
