My Dear Parish Family,

In 2 Timothy 3:16 we hear a self-reference on Scripture, *“All scripture is inspired by God and is useful for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness.”*¹ It is with this attitude we should prepare ourselves for each celebration of Mass by reading and praying over the scriptures. This is particularly true with the readings the Church gives us for this Sunday. The reading from Isaiah, the letter to the Hebrews and the Gospel each has something to tell us about Jesus Christ, our Savior.

If the first reading sounds familiar it is because it is taken from Isaiah’s Fourth Servant Song, one of the readings we hear proclaimed each Good Friday. This is the mysterious suffering servant of the Lord who defies identification within the confines of Hebrew scripture study. From our Catholic Christian perspective we clearly see Jesus Christ as the one who “gives his life as an offering for sin” and who “through his suffering, shall justify many.” Although these verses were well known to a devout Jew of the first century, they were not well understood.

In the gospel we see that Jesus has to bring the sons of Zebedee down from their high horse. They have a misguided idea of what Jesus’ (their Messiah’s) glory is going to be like when they ask for the seats of honor. Jesus asks if they are willing to endure what it will take to journey with him along the path he must take. After their naïve “yes” our Lord enlightens them to just what type of “Messiah” He truly is. He reminds them, “The Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many.” In short He points back to the suffering servant of Isaiah. It is hard to overstate what a shock this must have been to these disciples who were in their “glory-seeking” phase.

The letter to the Hebrews was written a full generation after the Resurrection. In this relatively short time, the Church had gained a great perspective on the meaning of Christ’s passion, death and resurrection. Jesus is now understood as “the Son of God” – clearly identifying his divinity. In this short reading we come to understand Jesus as not only the servant that gave His life as an offering for sin (ours), not only as one who came to serve and not be served, but also the high priest who makes the sacrifice to God the Father. What is more, this high priest-servant-Lord of ours knows what it is like to be human – “one who has been tested in every way, yet without sin.”

Did you hear and understand a little of that when you heard the scriptures proclaimed this morning/ (evening)? Try reading and saying a short prayer over the upcoming Sunday readings this Monday or Wednesday or Friday. I bet it makes a difference in how you encounter Jesus during next week’s Mass.

Peace of Christ,
Deacon Bruce

Dying Catholic: Medical and Moral Issues At the End of Life

The end of life (which can happen at any time of life!) is part of our journey to God; but in the modern world, it can bring with it complex and puzzling decisions that were not faced by earlier generations.

When can one insist on treatment – when can one reject it? Is organ donation morally good, bad, or neutral? How do doctors define death nowadays? What do the terms ordinary and extraordinary treatment mean? Why have some countries, and U.S. states, legalized assisted suicide, and what should a Catholic think about it? What is euthanasia? Is a Living Will a good thing? What can you do if your Catholic values are not acknowledged – or understood – by medical personnel?

These are some of the issues that will be addressed by Fr. Joseph Koopman, Assistant Professor of Moral Theology at St. Mary Seminary. His talk will be given in Holy Rosary’s church hall on Wednesday night, November 11, at 7:00 p.m. All are welcome and there will be plenty of opportunities for you to ask questions.

Please come! All are welcome and refreshments will be served.
