My Dear Parish Family:

Today’s readings constitute life lessons that can be learned and accepted only if we are willing to step out of ourselves, and the societal box that restrains us from our God-given freedoms. In the Book of Ecclesiastes, the author is expressing that all that is in this life is meaningless if we focus on the future and our material gains. All things are vanity! He does not condemn the one who labors with wisdom, knowledge and skill, but instead helps us to understand that today’s accomplishments are for today, not for a future that may never be.

For the baptized Christians, those who have died to our old self in the waters of baptism, Saint Paul is speaking to us when he writes, “Think of what is above, not of what is on earth... put to death, then the parts of you that are earthly”....our weaknesses that distract us from the things of heaven. In our transformation, there should no longer live within us bias or discrimination among races, religions, gender, culture or social status. If, indeed, we ignore Saint Paul’s words and lower our eyes from the heavens, we will lose sight of our destiny: life in Christ, sharing in His kingdom, not just in earthly death, but here and now.

Greed, obsess, worry, hoarding possessions for the future... these are words that we must not succumb to and embrace as a way of life. It’s natural that we save for the rainy days in our lives, retirement plan, or a long-awaited vacation. But to live and do now for the future is futile as we heard in the first reading. Vanity of vanities! If I place my focus on possessing stuff for my future self-gratification, a division is created between God and me, family and me, and ultimately, heaven and me. We lose sight of God’s providence; His hand in our lives. We are ignoring God’s creation here and now; what exists for us at this moment.

In the past weeks and months we have seen lives taken in an instant, without warning. Within our own parish family we have witnessed lives lost in an instant through some fluke accident. When someone dies we normally speak about their legacy and who they were as a person. If one lives their life as described by Saint Paul, with their eyes towards the heavens, they leave to those left behind a witness of someone who believed, who loved, and who lived his/her life in Christ, making His kingdom real each day they lived this earthly life. For those who chose to look away from the heavens and never experienced the freedoms that God has given us, but rather accumulated a lot of stuff that they will never be able to share or enjoy for a future never to be lived on earth, they leave behind a void that can never be filled.

My past, O Lord, to Your mercy;
My present, O Lord, to Your love;
My future, O Lord, to Your providence.

Saint Padre Pio
Need a Retreat? Can’t Get Away?
The Women’s Ministry invites the parish to participate in a personal retreat by reading 33 Days to Merciful Love by Father Michael Gaitley, MIC – a “Do-it-Yourself Retreat in Preparation for Consecration to Divine Mercy.” Live the extraordinary “Jubilee Year of Mercy” to the fullest! Journey with one of the most beloved saints of modern times, St. Therese of Lisieux, who made a consecration to Divine Mercy which she calls her Offering to Merciful Love. So whether you want to deepen your love of Divine Mercy or have a devotion to St. Therese, 33 Days to Merciful Love is a wonderful resource during this Year of Mercy. We invite you to read each day so that the retreat will come to completion on the Feast of the Assumption. You may purchase the book online, or order it from a local book store. Please join us in preparing our souls for The Feast of the Assumption. If you would like to be notified of an optional gathering to view a film, please contact Mora at (216) 932-9515 or Tammy via email at tmoore@holyrosary.org.
