Dear Parish Family,

Our scriptures this weekend offer us a challenge – to avoid complacency in our lives, but most especially in how we live our faith in Christ. We hear the prophet Amos chastise the people of Israel who have fallen into this trap, believing that they have achieved all their success on their own without Divine Providence. They soon forget the harsh treatment they endured in Egypt for centuries (“the collapse of Joseph”) and the glory of God working through Moses that brought them out and settled them in the Promised Land.

Likewise, the rich man in the Gospel story lives his life of luxury with no thought of the poor Lazarus at his door. He, too, is complacent and enjoys the comforts of this world. He later endures the cost of this error.

Both of these are examples of what we call the sin of omission – the failure to do the right thing when it is clearly apparent to us. This can have various degrees. For example, it would be grave if chosen deliberately, by not acting and knowing that inaction will cause harm to someone. To a lesser degree, it might be the result of carelessness or blindness to a situation that requires attention or action.

In our fast-paced, technologically-based world, it has become easy for us to fall into complacency. We become content with believing that “someone will take care of this or that” situation or person in need. Maybe someone is us? Perhaps our complacency stems from being overwhelmed with so much to do – emails to read, texts to send, Facebook posts to make – that we fail to recognize the needs of others around us?

The point Luke is making in his Gospel is for the faith community to increase its awareness of the needs of others and less of themselves. You will recall in the Gospel of several weeks ago, we defined humility as expressed by Luke to mean “thinking of yourself less” (C. S. Lewis). Luke takes this deeper with the parable by Jesus. It is a call to action. As disciples, we cannot just profess a faith and then just sit there – become complacent. Or worse yet, sit there and complain about what others are doing to build up the kingdom.

Discipleship is not passive. God initiates, but that requires a response from us. We are called to work with the grace God gives us to further the mission Jesus left the apostles when He founded the Church. Each of us has a part to play. Let us not fall into complacency and let someone else do it. As members of the family of believers, we are reminded that someone is us!

In Christ,
Fr. Joe Previte
