My Dear Parish Family,

Let us continue our review of the series on The Elements of the Catholic Mass from the Liturgical Institute. The three episodes below take us deeper into our reflection on the signs used, the purpose of and our role in the Mass. These and all the episodes can be viewed at this website: www.elementsofthecatholicmass.com/episodes.

Episode 7 – Sacramental Signs: From the old “Baltimore Catechism” we know that a sacrament is “an outward sign, instituted by Christ, to give grace.” In the celebration of every Sacrament there are two essential ingredients which are the perceptible elements, that is what we can see, hear, taste, smell and touch and the invisible element which holds the meaning of the sign and imparts the grace. The Mass contains many such signs with the most obvious being the perceptible bread and wine which when transformed by the power of the Holy Spirit become the Body and Blood of Christ and impart the invisible grace to us who receive Him. On your next occasion to celebrate Mass, be more aware of all the sacramental signs and reflect upon their invisible meanings.

Episode 8 – The Purpose of the Mass: Why do we gather to pray the Mass? What do we expect to accomplish by repeating this prayer week after week, year after year? If we listen carefully to the prayers proclaimed by you, the participants and the ministers of the Mass, the purpose is revealed. We gather for the twofold purpose to give praise to God and to pray for the sanctification of the world. In fact, as the offertory portion of the Mass is completed and we rise to our feet, the priest says. “Pray brothers and sisters....” The response of the faithful, the part you say, states very clearly the purpose of the Mass: “May the Lord accept the sacrifice at your hands for the praise and glory of His name, for our good and the good of all His Holy Church.” There it is – the twofold purpose of the Mass

Episode 9 – Active Participation: Quick True or False quiz: Is “active participation” a term created during Vatican II? It may surprise you that the term was used by Pope Pius X in 1903 more than 60 years before the beginning of Vatican II. In the video, Fr. Martis goes through a great analysis of the word active leading us to understand that our active participation means we must make the mysteries we celebrate real in our life. What Vatican II did add was that our participation should also be full and conscious. It must be conscious in that we push ourselves to always understand and be aware of what we are doing and why we are doing it when we pray. It must be full in the respect that all that we are, joys and sorrows, are brought to the altar and contributed to the offering.

Next Saturday night, before you come to celebrate the Mass, view these three short videos and see if your celebration of the Mass next weekend is not fuller, more conscious and more prayerful.

Peace of Christ,
Deacon Bruce

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults

(RCIA) is a journey of conversion to God and what He intends for us. A special opportunity to practice charity, solidarity, and a preferential option for the poor. Today, over 2 billion people live on less than $2 per day, and millions of small-scale producers around the world have been plunged into poverty by international market forces over which they have no control. Pope John Paul II reminds us, "the primary basis of the value of work is man himself," not the items he or she produces. Fair Trade products guarantee prices that enable producers to cover their costs and provide a very modest yet decent standard of living for their families right in their own countries. By purchasing fairly traded foods and handcrafts, we are making a conscious choice to buy from poor people in a way that promises to help lift them out of poverty without the upheaval of migration.
