My Dear Parish Family,

In today’s gospel, the proverbial “vineyard” makes an encore appearance. Once again it represents the Kingdom of God here on earth and once again the characters in the parable are directed to go to work there. The purpose and the people to whom the parable is directed are quite different.

This parable is directed to the Pharisees, those opposed to His claim to Messiahship rather than to His disciples. These were the people who were quite smug in their attitude, convinced that they, because of their dutiful practices and adherence to the Law, were in God’s good grace, that they were doing God’s will. These were the folks that throughout Matthew’s gospel are attempting to trap Jesus in His own words regarding divorce or the greatest of the commandments. In today’s gospel, Jesus turns the tables and asks them their opinion on a situation.

In every verbal trap the Pharisees set for Him, Jesus was able to avoid being ensnared by revealing their evil intent, raising the bar and turning the issue to the will of the Father. In today’s parable about the two sons ordered to work in the vineyard, the Pharisees’ response is self-incriminating. They are clearly the ones who said “yes, I will go” but never went. They have condemned themselves by their duplicity, by their saying one thing and doing another.

What should we take away from this lesson? One thing is that what we say is not as important as how we act. To say we desire to do the will of the God does not cut it unless we actually get to work in the vineyard. Another takeaway is that while the Pharisees were reluctant to admit their own sinfulness when they heard Jesus, the prostitutes and tax collectors did not hesitate. Put another way, the priests and lawyers felt they did not need to be forgiven and therefore did not need a savior; the sinners knew they needed both. Finally, regardless of our selfish acts of disobedience, our sins of the past, it is never too late to admit our mistake and change. It’s not how you appear while on the journey through this life, it’s not how good you look on the way but where you end up, that is how you finish.

The challenge of the scriptures today also makes an encore appearance. Are you ready to go to work in the vineyard?

Peace of Christ,
Deacon Bruce

This Week’s Schedule:

Monday, October 2 || Labre Project
This is a fantastic and transformative ministry to the homeless in which all Case, CIM, and CIA students are welcome to get involved. We’ve been in need of a couple of extra pairs of hands the past week or two, so now is a great time to give this project a try!

Look at the attachment for more details, and send an email to Sam Poplar (slp84@case.edu) if you would like any more information, or to volunteer!

Tuesday, October 3, 6:15 p.m. at the IFC || Lectio Divina Bible Study
A great ministry who are looking for spiritual community and deep conversation! Especially for grad students, but all undergrads and area young adults are welcome.

Contact Peter Liao (pll21@case.edu) if you want to join this week!

Wednesday, October 4, 7:00 p.m. at Nighttown || Theology on Tap
Father Michael Lee from St. Stephen Byzantine Catholic Church will be delivering a talk entitled “Searching for Icons in a World Full of Screens.” In this talk, he’ll offer some insights on how we can see God’s grace and activity in a world and culture that ignores him. This promises to start some great conversation! Send me an email if you’re interested in joining.

Thursday, October 5, 6:15 p.m. at Holy Rosary || Newman Night on the Eucharist
This week we’ll be talking about The Eucharist – why we believe what we do about it, why Christ chose to leave it as a memorial, and why it’s so central to what we believe that we call it the source and summit of our faith. I’ll be leading the discussion this week, so if you want to hear a little bit about the beauty of this Sacrament, join us at Holy Rosary! Free Dinner starts at 6:15 p.m. and the discussion will start at 7:00 p.m.
