Holy Rosary’s Parish Code is OH473.
My Dear Parish Family,

Immediately after John the Baptist heralds Jesus by declaring, “Behold the Lamb of God!,” Andrew and his companion waste no time and immediately begin to “stalk” Jesus. Jesus, the wisdom of the Father, also has the “street smarts” to know He’s being followed so He asks a legitimate question: “What are you looking for?”

Clearly, Andrew and his friend were anticipating something or someone, otherwise they would not have been following St. John the Baptist in the first place. They are devout Jews who are seeking anything to do with the actions of God toward His people. They really are not sure at first what or who they are seeking because when Jesus puts the question to them, they are a little embarrassed and respond with another question, “Where are you staying?”

Andrew wants more information on this person St. John has identified as the “Lamb of God.” His request to know where the Master lives is respectful and implies that they want to spend time “at home” with Him to find out more. Jesus invites them to “come and see.” They accept and the story of their discipleship begins.

The question Jesus puts to these two newcomers is one that can be put to each of us, even those who faithfully attend Mass here at Holy Rosary each weekend: “What are you looking for?” Do we still have the hungry anticipation of Andrew who was sure God was about to do something magnificent? Hopefully, we are not complacent with our relationship with Jesus where it is, but are looking to go deeper to see more. What are we looking for if not to get to know Jesus better, to allow Jesus to show us where He lives?

During this short Ordinary time before Lent, it is a good time to check ourselves and our relationship with Jesus. Am I as eager as Andrew to be an intentional disciple? Am I as diligent in my pursuit of Jesus as I can be? Do I long to see where Jesus lives in the hearts and souls of those who surround me? If not Jesus, then “What are you looking for?”

Peace of Christ,
Deacon Bruce
