My Dear Parish Family,

Not long ago, I witnessed someone who gave of himself to a family in desperate need of guidance, reassurance, and renewed hope. He wasn’t a physician or a counselor or a member of the clergy. He was a man who had experienced the pain of alcohol and drugs first hand and, by God’s grace, was able to turn his life around. In observing his exchange with family members, his voice was calm and yet strong. His conversation was a sharing and not a lecture. The family knew (as did I) that this person was a man of integrity and genuinely lived what he believed and knew to be true.

In today’s Gospel, Jesus came to the Synagogue and began to teach the eternal truth of God. Jesus communicated simply, gently, and with authority. This was reinforced when He confronted and expelled an unclean spirit that had possessed a man, who was in the Synagogue. In their amazement, those who were present witnessed Jesus as both teacher and healer; they realized that the authority with which He acted was not self-imposed, but emanated from His very being.

Saint Paul tells us basically to remain calm and make Christ our Center whether we are married or single. Being free of anxieties allows us to focus on our lives in conjunction with God. If we’re distracted and obsessed by reaching goals that would give us prestige or power, money or status, then Christ, as the center of our lives, diminishes. We are very likely to miss our personal call from God to service: the gift to evangelize on His behalf, to help family and stranger alike, and most importantly, freedom to worship Him.

Pope Paul VI wrote:…”for the Church, the first means of evangelization is the witness of an authentically Christian life, given over to God in a communion that nothing should destroy and at the same time give to one’s neighbor with limitless zeal. As we said recently to a group of lay people, ‘Modern man listens more willing to witnesses than to teachers, and if he does listen to teachers, it is because they are witnesses.’ St. Peter held up the example of a reverent and chaste life that wins over even without a word, those who refuse to obey the word. It is therefore primarily by her conduct and by her life that the Church will evangelize the world, in other words, by her living witness to fidelity to the Lord Jesus – the witness of poverty and detachment, of freedom in the face of the powers of this world, in short, the witness of sanctity.” (Evangelization in the Modern World)

The gentleman who assisted the family in need allowed God, our Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit to live within him. God became the center of his life and freed him from addiction, to be a person of compassion, and speak with the authority that our Lord so graciously gave him. God speaks to us all in some fashion and, through the Spirit, God speaks through us. Married or single, rich or poor, young or elderly, let us give witness to the sanctity, the fidelity, and the love we have for God and His Church, the Body of Christ. Let our hearts never harden to the point that we lose our way but, if it should, turn back and you’ll find God right behind you, waiting patiently.

In Christ,
Anne De Marco
Pastoral Minister

This Week’s Schedule:

Monday, January 29 || Labre Project
While we always need help with Labre, going forward, we are in great need of volunteers to heat the food prior to the team delivering it to the homeless. We have several weeks in a row where we do not have a volunteer set to do that. If you are available to help out with this essential part of this ministry, or in any other capacity, send an email to Sam Poplar (slp84@case.edu) and she’ll get you the information you need!

Tuesday, January 30, 6:15 p.m., at the IFC || Lectio Divina Prayer Group
A group of young professionals, graduate, and undergraduate students who gather to pray with the Scriptures at this time every week. Feel free to drop in whenever you’re free. Contact Peter Liao (pll21@case.edu) if you have any questions!

Thursday, January 1, in Parish Center ||
Newman Night, on the Images of the Church
This Thursday, Tommy Dome, Director of Evangelization at St. Basil the Great, will be joining us to deliver a talk entitled “Images of the Church,” in which he speaks about Images God uses in our Scriptures and Tradition that help us to understand what the Church is to us, and what it is to Him. As always, meal starts at 6:15 p.m., and the talk will begin at 7:00 p.m.!

Other Events Coming Up

Friday, February 9: Winter Jam Concert
On Friday, February 9th, we’re going to take a group out to the Winter Jam concert, a concert in which Christian Artists from many areas will be performing at the Wolstein Center at Cleveland State University. The price of the concert is $15.00 a person. Send me an email if you’d like a link to more information!
