Dear Parish Family,

As we celebrate the Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord, we continue the mission Christ gave the disciples to spread the gospel throughout the world. We do this by living the Christian way of life Jesus establishes for us. A good example for living the Christian life may be found in a letter to Diognetus, part of the Office of Readings during the Easter Season. The following excerpt from that letter, dating back to the early Church, describes the meaning:

Christians are indistinguishable from others. They do not follow some outlandish way of life. Their teaching is not based upon reveries inspired by human curiosity. Unlike others, they champion no purely human doctrine. They follow the custom of whatever city they happen to be living. And yet there is something extraordinary about their lives. They live in their own countries as though they were only passing through. They play their full role as citizens, but labor under all the disabilities of aliens.

Like others, they marry and have children, but they do not expose them. They live in the flesh, but they are not governed by the desires of the flesh. They pass their days upon earth, but they are citizens of heaven. Obedient to the laws, they yet live on a level that transcends the law.

Christians love all, but all persecute them. Condemned because they are not understood, they are put to death, but raised to life again. They live in poverty, but enrich many; they are totally destitute, but possess abundance. They suffer dishonor, but that is their glory. They are defamed, but vindicated. A blessing is their answer to abuse, deference their response to insult. For the good they do they receive the punishment of malefactors, but even then they rejoice. They are attacked and persecuted, yet no one can explain the reason for this hatred.

We may say that a Christian is to the world what the soul is to the body. As the soul is present in every part of the body, while remaining distinct from it, so Christians are found in the entire world, but not identified with the world. As the visible body contains the invisible soul, so Christians are seen in the world, but their religious life remains unseen. The body hates the soul and wars against it, not because of any injury the soul has done it, but because of the restriction the soul places on its pleasures. Similarly, the world hates Christians, not because they have done it any wrong, but because they are opposed to its enjoyments.

Christians love those who hate them just as the soul loves the body and all its members despite the body’s hatred. It is by the soul that the body is held together, and similarly, it is by the Christians detained in the world as in a prison, that the world is held together. As the soul benefits from the deprivation of food and drink, so Christians flourish under persecution. Such is the Christian’s lofty and divinely appointed function, from which he or she is not permitted to be excused.

The challenge to live as a Christian in the 21st century remains similar to the challenge back in the 2nd or 3rd century when this letter was written: to live in the world, but not to be of this world. May the last week of the Easter season be a blessed one!

In Christ,
Fr. Joe Previte
Change for Life! Monetary Donations to Benefit Womankind

Seasonal clothing donations may be dropped off in the Holy Rosary church hall on Sunday mornings. Holy Rosary will provide volunteers on Saturday, June 8th, from 9:45 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. To volunteer, call Deacon Bruce, 216-421-2995.

Culture of Life Ministry, An Invitation to Spiritually Adopt a Child
