Reflection on Today’s Scriptures

We have again settled into the liturgical season of “Ordinary Time.” The Easter Season officially ended with Pentecost a few weeks ago, but the Solemnities of The Most Holy Trinity and Corpus Christi on the past two Sundays extended the glorious wonder of the Easter season.

The past two weeks since Pentecost, and the weeks between Advent and Lent were also Ordinary Time. So, as we now begin the 13th week of Ordinary Time and settle into the summer months, we may reflect on what “ordinary” means for our regular daily life.

Today’s Scriptures reference the need to leave the things of the world behind in order to better follow God’s will. In the First Reading from Kings, Elisha is chosen by God to succeed Elijah. Elisha promptly leaves his work and belongings behind to do so. In the Second Reading, Saint Paul addresses the Galatians instructing that Christ set us free, so we should focus on things of the Spirit. To live in unity with God, we are to love our neighbors and strive to live by the Spirit instead of being consumed by earthly desires and vices.

During these days of Ordinary Time, perhaps we can make a conscious effort to modify some of our habits and desires that might draw us into the secular world. Instead of seeking distraction or entertainment, perhaps we can seek a deeper relationship with God through a focus on being guided by the Spirit. This conscious change in focus might transform Ordinary Time into something extraordinary!

There is an electronic app for most everything! Do you know that Formed has an app? You can download books and access Catholic themed movies easily on your electronic devices! (for Free!) * There are also apps for instant access to the daily Mass readings and Liturgy of the Hours – for structured prayer throughout the day.

In Luke’s Gospel, we hear of someone promising to follow Jesus wherever He goes. Jesus replies that “the Son of Man has nowhere to rest his head” and though His followers are saying they wish to follow, there are things they would like to take care of first.

We too can easily say that we are Catholic Christians and followers of Jesus – but do we really follow Him in a conscious way throughout our day? Do we put God first? Or are we focused on other things?

Perhaps praying a simple Morning Offering prayer can be a first step toward making our faith more extraordinary. This prayer places a faithful and faith-filled lens on all that we think and do and say each day. Through incorporating this prayer into our daily life, even our sinfulness and struggles become united with Jesus Christ who is always ready to walk with us, as we truly follow Him and stay focused on the goal of eternal life.

Peace,
Tammy Moore
