Third Sunday of Advent – Gaudete Sunday

For two weeks already, the season of Advent has been calling us to spiritual vigilance in preparation to welcome the Lord who is to come. Today, we note another interior attitude by which to live out this time of waiting for the Lord-Joy. The Church looks forward to the joy of Christmas and so today is called “Gaudete Sunday”. The rose colored candle and chasuble used during the third week represents joy and reveals a shift in the season away from repentance and toward celebration.

John who was sent by God to prepare the way for the Messiah had faithfully accomplished his mission, and people of different walks of life, except the religious and political leaders, had come to him repentant and asking for the baptism of repentance. He experienced the joy of seeing these people return to God. His joy knew no bounds when he heard the Heavenly Father speaking at the baptism of Jesus: “This is my Son, the beloved, my favour rests with him” (Mt 3:17).

But then John is arrested and put in prison by Herod, and in his loneliness and suffering in prison he is troubled with doubts and faced a crisis of faith. He was wondering why Jesus was delaying what he himself had announced about him, all the more because his days were counted. So he sends his disciples to ask Jesus if he is really the Messiah. Jesus in answer to John’s question says, as we heard in today’s Gospel, “Go and tell John what you hear and see: the blind see, the deaf hear, the lame walk...” which is the fulfilment of what Prophet Isaiah had foretold as we heard in the first reading of today (Isa 35:5-6).

From this it would be clear to John that it is Jesus Himself for whom he prepared the way. So now John is happy and he feels that he can patiently wait for the day to depart from this world, and his disciples will have Jesus as their Master and Savior.

Advent is a time for us Christians to prepare ourselves to celebrate the birthday of Jesus.

Let us also then, like the people of Israel who heeded to the call of John to repent, be sorry for our sins and return to the Lord by making use of the Sacrament of Reconciliation, and rejoice at the fact that the Lord has come and liberated us from the clutches of the devil and made us one with Him so that we are God’s own beloved children. Therefore, with grateful hearts we can celebrate Jesus’ birthday and be certain of the eternal bliss that awaits us after our life here on earth when the Lord will come again. Meanwhile we too, as in the 2nd reading, may patiently wait for the second coming of Christ, like the farmer waits for the harvest, accepting with faith the sufferings that God permits in our lives.
