Like divergent spokes touching the same center, so our varied efforts tending toward diverse ends come together in one and the same charitable mind and proceed from the same principle.

Frédéric Ozanam

Charity must be organized, and well organized to be effective.

Preface

AGGREGATION AND INSTITUTION OF CONFERENCES AND COUNCILS

The visible unifying link within the Society is the Aggregation of the Conferences and the Institution of the Councils. Conferences applying for Aggregation and Councils applying for Institution must comply with requirements spelled out by The Rule and the policies of the National Council and the Council General International.

Faithful to the principle of subsidiarity, requisite signatures of Officers must appear on the application forms prior to the approval and recommendation of the National Council and the forwarding of such applications to the General Council. Only the Council General is empowered to institute new Councils and aggregate new Conferences to the Society.

Aggregated Conferences and Instituted Councils thereby become official members of the Confederation of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

Isolated Conferences follow the same procedures as applicable to all Conferences for Aggregation, except the appropriate Regional Vice President must approve their applications before being forwarded to the National Council for its final approval.

Following the aggregation or institution of a respective entity within the Society of St. Vincent de Paul it will be necessary to consider appropriate governance procedures. The following material is designed to assist you in this selection and adoption of appropriate Bylaws.

Document 1. BYLAWS for Conferences without Boards of Directors
Simple BYLAWS for the majority of parish based, youth, young adult Conferences or Councils without a Board.

Document 2. BYLAWS for Conferences with separate Boards of Directors

Document 3. BYLAWS for District Councils with separate Boards of Directors

Document 4. BYLAWS for (Arch)Diocesan Councils with separate Boards of Directors

Document 5. BYLAWS for the National Council

Document 6. BYLAWS for District Councils with an integrated Board of Directors

Document 7. BYLAWS for (Arch)Diocesan Councils with an integrated Board of Directors

Model Bylaws were approved by the National Trustees at the Society of St. Vincent de Paul's 2005 Annual Meeting held in Chicago (August 31st - September 4th, 2005) so that good governance policies are in place and are in compliance with the:

Rule of the Society,
Charter of the Society (a.k.a. Articles of Incorporation)
Bylaws of the National Council, and leave flexibility for compliance with national and state laws that govern Charities.

This publication is intended to provide Conferences or Councils with model Bylaws to meet governance needs. The Bylaws presented here are interlocking in nature through all levels of the governance structure of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul in order to provide uniformity, accountability and continuity in governance procedures. These Bylaws include a basic understanding of the practical and legal concepts underlying Bylaws, and sample provisions or policies that can be tailored to suit the individual needs of a Conference or Council.

In drafting these Bylaws "The Nonprofit Board's Guide to Bylaws – Creating a Framework for Effective Governance" was used extensively as a reference. This publication is available from the National Center for Nonprofit Boards, 2000 L Street NW, Suite 510, Washington, DC 20036. Telephone: 202-452-6262 or 800-883-6262. STRUCTURE “Bylaws determine how an organization is structured. For example, most Bylaws specify whether an organization has members, define the duties of officers and board members, and identify standing board committees.

An important function of Bylaws (if this matter is not covered in the Articles) is to specify how board members are selected.”

National Center for Nonprofit Boards

Organizational structure and organizational relationships need to be considered carefully. As a volunteer led organization and one in which volunteers are used at all levels the complex nature of relationships with those in need, Conferences, Councils, higher Councils, the Rule and the charter of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul have to be respected and honored. The relationship and accountability also between governance (volunteer leadership) and management (paid staff or volunteer staff who operate in a management capacity) needs to be very clearly defined in Governance policies.

This structure is defined at the time of approval in relationship to the goals of the various levels of the Society’s governing entities as they relate to the purpose and mission of the International Society of St. Vincent de Paul, to whose Rule they are subjected through membership, Aggregation, etc. It is most beneficial to define the organizational structure, including noting the mission of all governing entities, in order to ensure that relationships and accountabilities are clearly stated.

On the following pages are exhibited the Bylaws and organizational charts of the various governing entities in the Society of St. Vincent de Paul in the USA.

HOWTO USE THIS BOOK

This book is designed to assist you to develop bylaws for your specific entity with in the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

Document 1. Simple Bylaws for most Conferences. This set of Bylaws is intended for use by the majority of the Society’s Conferences in the United States of America. This normally includes parish based, youth or young adult Conferences that generally do not have employees, do not have reporting requirements to the IRS, do not need to provide their own insurance or indemnification coverage, do not own property, etc. Conferences covered by this document generally rely on their District or Archdiocesan Councils for tax identification numbers, filing tax returns/reports etc. In most cases Document 1 will be circulated to its attached Conferences by the local District or Archdiocesan Council and the only action required by the Conference will be to insert Conference name and location, adopt the document and appropriately notify their District (or Archdiocesan Council as appropriate) of adoption.

Step 1: Need for Bylaws:

Bylaws are significant written rules by which an organization is governed. Because Bylaws may be cumbersome, they are frequently neglected or even disregarded as a tool for governance. For many reasons, however, SVdP governing entities should pay careful attention to Bylaws. For example, they can take on added importance during governance disputes centering on the way an organization is carrying out its mission. These disputes can take many forms: a non-conforming entity needs dissolution, a board member who is voted out of office seeks reinstatement, a dissident group within the organization attempts to gain control, or a faction mounts a legal challenge to a board decision. In these difficult situations, carefully crafted Bylaws and adherence to them can help ensure the fairness of governance decisions and provide protection against legal challenges.

The laws of some states require membership, board selection, and other issues to be stated in the Articles of Incorporation. Bylaws expand on the Articles of Incorporation as necessary and typically perform at least three important functions:

- Bylaws determine how SVdP is structured. For example, most Bylaws specify whether an organization has members, define the duties of officers and board members, and identify standing board committees. An important function of Bylaws (if this matter is not covered in the Articles of Incorporation) is to specify how board members are selected.
- Bylaws-- along with state law -- determine the rights of participants in the structure, such as the rights of members to be notified of meetings, the rights of board members or officers whom others want to remove from office and the rights of board members to indemnification.
- Bylaws determine many procedures by which rights can be exercised. For example, Bylaws may require a certain form of notice for meetings, or they may specify whether board meetings can be held by telephone or elections conducted by mail.

Step 2: Begin the Bylaws Planning Process:

Before you select which of these models is the proper one for your entity, a discussion of governance considerations should be held to be sure that the provisions best fit your situation. However, Document 1 should be adopted in the form provided for Conferences without Boards after the inclusion of the Conference name and location.

Step 3: Select the model for your Bylaws:

Review the model Bylaws included in this book from which you are to select new Bylaws to best suit your Conference or Council. This will bring your organizational entity into compliance with the governance structure recommended by the National Council. Your organizational entity will also be in compliance with the Rule and Articles of Incorporation of the Society, and the National Council's Bylaws. Also be sure that these new Bylaws are in agreement with your Articles of Incorporation.

COMPLIANCE

For membership in the National Council of the United States, Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Inc. it is a requirement that every organizational unit (Conference or Council) have Bylaws (see Document 1 for Conference or Councils WITHOUT Boards) and Bylaws (see Document 2 – 7 for Conferences and Councils WITH Boards or WITH INTEGRATED Council/Board). To remain in good standing, Conferences and Councils must maintain their Bylaws (including any and all amended articles) in updated and amended form.

The National Council considers Document 1 (Conferences or Councils without a Board) as standard Bylaws for the majority of Conferences. District and/or Archdiocesan Councils should maintain on file copies for each of their attached Conferences.

Isolated Conferences should comply through the nearest District or Archdiocesan Council in their Region.

If your entity uses Document 2 – 7 then copies of these Bylaws in current, updated and amended form must be provided to the National Office.

As changes in accepted governance practices, Federal laws, or events occur, the National Office will prepare and notify all levels of leadership of any needed or required changes in these instructions or Documents 1-7.

As a reflection of the whole family of God, Members, who are known as Vincentians, are drawn from every ethnic and cultural background, age group, and economic level. Vincentians are united in an international society of charity by their spirit of poverty, humility and sharing, which is nourished by prayer and reflection, mutually supportive gatherings and adherence to a basic Rule. Organized locally, Vincentians witness God's love by embracing all works of charity and justice. The Society collaborates with other people of good will in relieving need and addressing its causes, making no distinction in those served, because in them Vincentians see the face of Christ.”

The Conference may be established within a wide variety of social groups and settings, such as a parish, college or school, firm or company. Conferences are organized primarily to perform person-to-person service to those in need, but also may be organized for the performance of a specific special work.

Article 6 - SOLIDARITY CONTRIBUTIONS

Individual Members: A secret collection is taken up as part of every meeting. This contribution is to give proof of the spirit of sharing of the members.

Each higher Council determines the expected contribution or exemptions from attached Conferences and Councils in order to meet its necessary expenses and assist needy Conferences and Council groupings attached to it. From time to time Councils may establish policies that apply to Conference members attending higher Council Meetings. The Conference can also derive financial support from other means such as parish collections, special events, etc.

Article 7 - MEMBERSHIPS OF CONFERENCES

Individuals from parishes generally make up the Conference and are represented by the Conference President at the District Council level who has the obligation of consulting with the Conference in order to vote the spirit of its membership.

Conferences may be established within a wide variety of social groups and settings, such as a parish, college or school, firm or company. A Conference may be organized for the performance of a specific Special Work.

The government and power of the District Council shall be vested in the District Council members. District Councils represent at least three and ideally no more than twelve Conferences. (Arch)Diocesan Councils determine the number of Conferences that make up each of the District Councils within their jurisdiction.

Article 8 - ADMISSION PROCEDURES AND ELECTION PROCESS

Admission Procedures

The names of persons proposed for active and associate membership should be submitted to the President of the Conference. The President will then make information about the recommended person known to the Conference. If approved, the candidate will be admitted and given a Vincentian welcome. Training and in-service opportunities for members should include but not be limited to: Ozanam Orientation, Vincentian formation, Retreats/Days of Recollection, and other formation opportunities that afford members growth or enrichment in spirituality, resource skill building, updating and renewal.

Election Process for Conference President

The Conference is directed by a President elected through a process that culminates in a secret ballot for a three-year (one year for youth conferences) term (beginning on October 1st), which may be renewed once. A method for breaking a tie must be established at the beginning of the election process. For serious reasons, and in accordance with The Rule, an election can be annulled. A retiring President who has just served two consecutive terms is not eligible for re-election as President until a further period of three years has elapsed. After a Conference President has been selected the name of that person shall be submitted to the District Council President, thereupon that person shall be enrolled as a member of the District Council and installed at the next District Council Meeting.

Extraordinary Circumstances

Should the President resign, become permanently incapacitated, be removed from office or die during the term of office, then the Vice President of the Conference shall act as President until the election of a new President. Upon the vacancy of the office of President prior to the completion of the term of office, the Vice-president shall within ten days from receipt of the notice of the vacancy of the office of President initiate the election process. The election is then held within 3 months. The newly elected President's term of office begins on the date of election to that position and installation occurs on October 1st of that year. Irrespective of the months involved, the portion of year one in office is counted as the first year with the remaining 2 years of a three-year term of office beginning October 1st of that year.

If the President, because of illness or any other reason, were unable to attend and preside at any meeting of the Conference this privilege and duty may be delegated to the Vice President or any Officer.

This does not preclude the Conference from going into executive (closed) session during a meeting.

Article 11 - PROCEDURE FOR THE DISSOLUTION OR SUSPENSION OF THE AGGREGATION OF A CONFERENCE AND DISPOSITION OF ASSETS AND CIRCUMSTANCES UNDER WHICH MEMBERS MAY RESIGN OR BE SUSPENDED

For reasons prompted by the seriousness of a particular situation the (International) President General may suspend temporarily or permanently exclude a Conference, after notifying the Permanent Section accordingly. In case of a permanent exclusion, this shall always entail the cancellation of the Aggregation.

The National President is given the power through extraordinary delegation to temporarily suspend a Conference or member. The National President in cases of extreme seriousness and urgency may suspend a Conference or member exclusively as a precautionary measure.

In such circumstances the (International) President General shall be notified of such decision and the justified reasons for the same, within a maximum of 15 working days; the Conference or member in question may appeal to the National Council President's conciliation process in effect at that time. The (International) President General shall approve or reject the appeals that are presented.

For procedures for disposing of a suspended Conference's assets, the District (or next higher Council if appropriate) Council should be consulted.

Upon the dissolution of the Conference, all assets shall be distributed for one or more exempt purposes within the meaning of section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or corresponding section of any future federal tax code, to the next higher Council of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul holding jurisdiction over the Conference boundaries or shall be distributed to the federal government, or to a state or local government, for a public purpose. Any such assets not disposed of shall be disposed of by the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the principal office of the organization is then located, exclusively for such purposes or to such organization or organizations, as said Court shall determine, which are organized and operated exclusively for such purposes. Where the Conference is covered by a District Council, assets will be distributed to the District Council.
