Twenty Second Sunday of Ordinary Time

The Duties of parents towards their children according to Catechism of the Catholic Church

The fecundity of conjugal love cannot be reduced solely to the procreation of children but must extend to their moral education and their spiritual formation. "The role of parents in education is of such importance that it is almost impossible to provide an adequate substitute." The right and the duty of parents to educate their children are primordial and inalienable.

Parents must regard their children as children of God and respect them as human persons. Showing themselves obedient to the will of the Father in heaven, they educate their children to fulfill God's law.

Parents have the first responsibility for the education of their children. They bear witness to this responsibility first by creating a home where tenderness, forgiveness, respect, fidelity, and disinterested service are the rule. The home is well suited for education in the virtues. This requires an apprenticeship in self-denial, sound judgment, and self-mastery - the preconditions of all true freedom. Parents should teach their children to subordinate the "material and instinctual dimensions to interior and spiritual ones." Parents have a grave responsibility to give good example to their children. By knowing how to acknowledge their own failings to their children, parents will be better able to guide and correct them:

He who loves his son will not spare the rod.... He who disciplines his son will profit by him.

Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord.

The home is the natural environment for initiating a human being into solidarity and communal responsibilities. Parents should teach children to avoid the compromising and degrading influences which threaten human societies.

Through the grace of the sacrament of marriage, parents receive the responsibility and privilege of evangelizing their children. Parents should initiate their children at an early age into the mysteries of the faith of which they are the "first heralds" for their children. They should associate them from their tenderest years with the life of the Church.

Education in the faith by the parents should begin in the child's earliest years. This already happens when family members help one another to grow in faith by the witness of a Christian life in keeping with the Gospel. Family catechesis precedes, accompanies, and enriches other forms of instruction in the faith. Parents have the mission of teaching their children to pray and to discover their vocation as children of God. The parish is the Eucharistic community and the heart of the liturgical life of Christian families; it is a privileged place for the catechesis.

Novena for the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary From Tuesday, August 30 to Wednesday, September 8.

Dear Parish Family,

It's time for us to intensify our prayers as families and as a parish community to ask the Lord to be merciful on our world through the intercession of the blessed mother for an end of Covid-19. I would also request people to skip a meal for 9 days in reparation for the sins of our world.

Nine days Novena will be sent out via Flocknote at 7 am every day. Copies of the Novena is placed at the entrance of the Churches.

I request families to say the Novena everyday at 6.30 pm along with a Rosary. Novena and Rosary will be said at the Churches every day. Please join us.

On September 8 Wednesday, on the Nativity of the Blessed mother we will have a solemn Mass, and Procession at 6 pm at St. Jules Church.
