Thirty-First Sunday of Ordinary Time

Why do we pray for the dead?

The Church encourages us to hope and pray for all those we've lost. She asks us not to presume that anyone has gone straight to heaven or hell, but rather to petition God with loving confidence on their behalf. Our prayers and sacrifices for loved ones who've gone before us have real efficacy. They can bring comfort and consolation to those suffering from the purification that comes in purgatory, and they can bring about their final release from that purification, helping them experience at long last the loving gaze of the Father. The Catechism tells us:

This teaching is . . . based on the practice of prayer for the dead, already mentioned in Sacred Scripture: "Therefore [Judas Maccabeus] made atonement for the dead, that they might be delivered from their sin." From the beginning the Church has honored the memory of the dead and offered prayers in suffrage for them, above all the Eucharistic sacrifice, so that, thus purified, they may attain the beatific vision of God. The Church also commends almsgiving, indulgences, and works of penance undertaken on behalf of the dead. (CCC 1032)

These prayers also bring comfort to us, who are left behind. In his First Letter to the Thessalonians, Saint Paul reminded the Christian community that they were not to "grieve as others do who have no hope" (4:13). He didn't tell them not to grieve. Grief is a normal, natural human emotion. We want to be with the people we love, so of course we grieve them when they leave us. But, when we grieve, we grieve with hope. We grieve, hoping they clung to Christ to the last or chose him at the last. We grieve, hoping that our prayers for the faithful departed can assist them on their journey home to the Father's house.

When grief takes hold of our hearts, when we long to be reunited with the ones we've lost, we have the comfort of knowing we can take direct action now to assist all those we've loved who are enduring their final purification in purgatory. We can offer up penances great and small for them, say Rosaries for them, and obtain indulgences for them. We also can visit cemeteries and pray for them. And we can offer the traditional prayer of the Church for the dead at every meal, whether before we eat or after: "And may the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace.” Most of all, we can have Masses offered for those we’ve lost. Writing in the sixth century, Pope St. Gregory the Great noted that:

The holy Sacrifice of Christ, our saving Victim, brings great benefits to souls even after death, provided their sins can be pardoned in the life to come. For this reason the souls of the dead sometimes beg to have Masses offered for them. Resurrecting this tradition in our families and communities is easily the most

Memorialize / Sponsor New 3 Year- Hardbound Missalettes

In order not to throw away missalette every year I plan to buy the three-year liturgical cycle readings and hymns hardbound book for our parish. This book is meant to be used for many years. There are two advantages; stop wasting papers and save money. This means you will not be able to take these copies home. If you would like to have a copy of the missalette for yourself, please buy one from the office. The cost is $ 25.

All Saints Day

Silver Rose - Faith in Action Pilgrimage

Each year, from early March through mid-December, Silver Roses are stewarded by Knights of Columbus councils along routes from Canada to Mexico. Every stop the Silver Rose makes throughout the pilgrimage is a rosary-centered occasion for Knights, parishioners and community members to pray for respect for life, for the spiritual renewal of each nation, and for the advancement of the message of Our Lady of Guadalupe. This year, on Friday, November 5th, after the school Mass, the children will say a Rosary. Please join us for this wonderful event.

Seminar on Mass after 10:30 Mass, November 7th at St. Elizabeth

All PSR Students and parents are expected to attend the seminar.

Everyone is welcome.
