Third, we must share what we have with others. One way we live out our stewardship is by sharing our time and talents and by participating in one of the ministries of our parish. Be An Active Catholic!

ANNIVERSARIES

Tony & Robin Embry 9/17

Contagious Living: Evangelization is to the Church what breathing is to a person. If we stop doing it for long enough, we will die. It is our mission as Catholics to evangelize. We, the Church, exist to evangelize. We evangelize when we take being a Christian seriously, that is, as if it were a matter of life or death, because it is.

Generosity: Jesus once said that it is hard for a rich person to enter the Kingdom of God. Why, because many rich people are not generous. Studies have found that the wealthiest people give the smallest percentage of their income to the church. The church depends on the generosity of its members to spread the Gospel. So practice generosity and store up treasure for yourselves in heaven.
