

From our Pastor

In the Gospel of Luke, a scholar of the Law asks, "Who is my neighbor?" (Lk. 10:29). So, I thought I should tell you. You likely have noticed that the church is getting some new neighbors to the east. Some new industrial spaces or warehouses are being built.

The good news is – these new neighbors probably won't have a cat that might come and dig up my garden. They also are unlikely to have loud parties that keep me awake at night. The bad news is – if I try to ring their doorbell to borrow a cup of sugar, they probably will just look at me funny. Even so, it might be nice if one of you would bake a pie and bring it over to them to welcome them to the neighborhood.

If you are looking for Charlie's Sweet Corn, our former neighbor, he now sells his corn from a stand in front of Osseo Meat Market. You will want to pay him a visit when the harvest is in. We also say thank you and goodbye to our good neighbors to the west – Ahrens Greenhouse. Construction has begun for a housing development on that site – so soon we will have many new neighbors. What a blessing it is to be and to have good neighbors. Keep an eye on one another. May those in our neighborhoods always know that they can depend on us. Fill your summer with a newfound joy and love of neighbor.

2nd Collection This Weekend

To the Parents of our Youngest Parishioners:

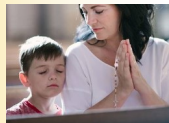

God put the wiggle in children; don't feel you have to suppress it in God's house.

Sit toward the front where it is easier for your little ones to see and hear what's going on at the altar.

Quietly explain the parts of the liturgy and actions of the priests, deacons, altar servers, choir, etc.

Sing the hymns, pray, and voice the responses. Children learn liturgical behavior by copying you.

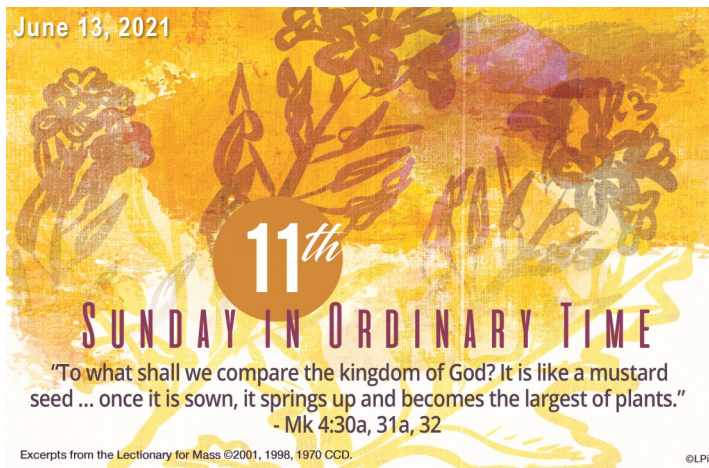

The presence of children is a gift to the church, and they remind us that our church is growing.

During those times when they just need to move their legs, the Community Room is available with a monitor streaming the Mass.

This allows you to continue to participate in the Mass while giving your child some room to move.
