St. Joseph Parish Office Hours

8:00 - 12:00 PM and 1:00 - 5:00 PM

Monday - Friday
Thank You, St. Joseph Parish, for Fun Days II. Faith. Family. Community. —The weather was wonderful, the organization of the event, excellent, the volunteers dedicated, dependable and hospitable, and the attendance from the parish and the community was very good. Our thanks, firstly, is offered to God for his loving care and goodness to us. The Executive Committee for Fun Days and the committee chairs did an excellent job of organizing the event and shepherding it to be a premiere parish function that was a service to the St. Joseph and the wider metro community. The evangelization team did very well in offering hospitality and providing the opportunity for others to meet Christ and draw closer to him and his Church. Thanks to every parishioner who supported the event in any way. Let us bless the Lord and give him thanks!

The Church Roof—the consultative process regarding what to do with the roof—shingle it now or later—has concluded. The process included a blue ribbon subcommittee of the parish Buildings and Grounds Committee that studied the roof including whether the shingling process could wait until a capital campaign was conducted to improve existing facilities and potentially build new facilities to add to our campus. The findings of the subcommittee was discussed by the Buildings and Grounds Committee, the Finance Council and Pastoral Council as well as the burgeoning Capital Campaign Committee. Each body made a unanimous recommendation to shingle now in 2019.

Therefore:

I have received and accepted the recommendation to shingle the church roof this year. Further, I have asked that the process to enable this to occur begin immediately.

The reasons for shingling now rather than waiting include:

- The church is God’s house and our house of worship. Would any of us live in a house with a leaky roof and not do anything about it?
- The water damage to the interior of the church and the infrastructure of the building needs to be stopped now.
- We can’t wait for a building project funded by a capital campaign as it is estimated to be three years away.
- Were alterations on the church to occur, most of the roof is projected to remain intact.
- A leaky church doesn’t leave a good impression on anyone.

Financially, because of the excellent stewardship of parish funds which began before my pastorate and has continued until now, we do have the funds to complete the shingling project without seriously depleting our savings account. Additionally and significantly, parishioners have given funds specifically earmarked for the roof. We can do this project and still have a “rainy day” savings.

Lastly, thanks to parishioners and staff who dedicated countless hours to this consultative process which resulted in a decision made by me and representatives of the parish who brought their gifts and talents—great acts of stewardship in themselves—to the table in order to address a serious question that affects us all. It was clearly evident that they love God, the parish and what they do. Thanks to them and other parishioners who offered their input to me. I am comfortable that we are doing the right thing and heading in a good direction. Fr. Dave O’Connor
